ART NOTES

Metropolitan Museum of Art—Fifth ave. and 83d st. Among the most recent accessions to the collection of the museum include an exhibit of ceramics in which are nine plates and a vase of Delft ware of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, a gift from Mrs. Catherine Van Vliet De Witt Sterry. The furniture added this last month is intended to form the nucleus of a collection of specimens of the work of English cabinetmakers of the eighteenth century. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has given busts in colored plaster of Voltaire and Rousseau, the work of Houdon; the busts stand on original pedestals which bear the seal of Houdon's atelier. There are also three new paintings. One is a "Street Scene in Paris," showing the church of St. Germain des Près, by J. F. Raffaëlie, painted about twenty years ago. Another is by William Morris Hunt, "The Girl at the Fountain," painted in 1860. The third painting is a Madonna by Pietro di Domenico, of Montepulciano. The Madonna is represented as enthroned with angels.

TROLLEY TRIPS IN NEW JERSEY

After crossing the Hudson River, either by the Pennsylvania or Erie ferry at 23d st., Chambers st. or Cortlandt st., to Jersey City, one can get a trolley for Newark, from which point (Broad and Market sts.) cars may be taken for nearly every point in New Jersey.

From Newark to Elizabeth is about seven miles across country, takes about one hour. Elizabeth is a very old city and is interesting on account of Colonial and Revolutionary memories.

From Elizabeth, passing through Roselle, Cranford, Westfield and Scotch Plains, Plainfield is reached, which is a very beautiful residential town, fourteen miles distant.

By taking a cross-country line, which joins the main road before reaching Westfield, one can go to Perth Amboy, a delightful trip of twelve miles, which takes a little over an hour. From New York it would take somewhat over three hours.

One of the most delightful trolley rides is from Newark to Caldwell, up into the mountains, passing through Bloomfield, Glen Ridge, Montclair and Verona Lake.

Another interesting point by trolley is to Eagle Rock, where a magnificent view may be had of the surrounding towns and country. Seven miles.

Another trip from New York into New Jersey is by way of the 130th st. ferry (reached by Broadway trains on the Subway, getting off at Manhattan st., to Edgewater, from which point one can take a trolley for Fort Lee, Leonia, Englewood, Bogota, Hackensack, Lodi, Passaic and Paterson. From the park on the Palisades, on top of the cliff, above Edgewater, one can take the new double track branch to Palisades, Grantwood, Morsemere, Palisades Park and on to Leonia.

Take ferry across to Hoboken from 23rd st., Christopher or Barclay st., take the White Line to Paterson, the great center of the silk industry, passing through Jersey Heights, Schuetzen Park and down to Hackensack Meadows, through Homestead, Secaucus and Carlstadt, to East Rutherford, where a branch line goes to Rutherford, then on through Passaic, Clifton, Hamilton Heights to Paterson.

From Paterson to Singac, through the valley of the Upper Passaic River, is one of the most delightful of Jersey trolley trips, giving the trolleyer a fine view of the majestic Passaic Falls.

By taking the Cortlandt st. ferry across to Jersey City a through trolley may be taken for Trenton, passing through Newark, Elizabeth, Westfield, Plainfield, Dunellen, Bound Brook and New Brunswick. From Trenton one has the choice of a boat down the Delaware River to Philadelphia or a trolley into the Quaker City.

SHORT TALKS

The employment of sheer materials for suits has been most successful. Worsted voile is most favored, tho transparent, it is nevertheless a substantial fabric.

Shantung and tussah are the two silk fabrics preferred for tailor and ordinary walking suits. An odd idea is trimming them with self-colored cloth or worsted voile.

There is likewise a return of favor for the broad velvet band on the bottom of the skirt. The velvet is always the same color of the dress, but of a darker shade. The corsage is invariably trimmed with the velvet, which was not the case last year.

A striking suit was seen at a garden party, which quite enlivened the scene and looked well on the green grass.

It was a tartan voile, in shades of blue and green. The skirt was composed of folds, worn beneath was a skirt of crimson satin, which showed very prettily through the sheer material. The jacket lined with the satin and simply trimmed with a knife pleating of green taffeta, this also edged the foot of the skirt.

Black in Paris is always considered dressy, an imported dress of the Directoire type is very beautiful, it was made of a black silk gauze, having as skirt-trimming a single very broad band of self-colored filet net surrounding the bottom. Embroidered in a heavy design in black floss silk. The skirt which continued in clinging folds quite above the waist line closed over a corsage of a Japanese character, formed entirely of folds of gauze and lace insertings.

Some of the designs in creton are beautiful as a painting. One we mention was composed of a bunch of small pink roses with leaves tied with a blue ribbon. The ribbon in graceful ripples ties another bunch a short space and so on. The coat and vest was of fine, soft glossy white broadcloth. The creton cut out close to the pattern and appliqued on the vest, the opening of the vest on one side so arranged not to mar the effect of the trimming. Coat with shawl shape collar of blue, same color as ribbon. The coat just met at the end of the collar then flares to show the vest. The dainty point is a tiny bow of pink velvet without ends where the coat met.

There are also beautiful adjustable collar, cuffs and belt of the creton, and to complete the set is the pocket book to match

The all-over embroidery waist when introduced the early part of the season was looked at with indifference, but now it is in great demand. The high class dress-makers show most attractive all-over waists dyed in colors to match the linen suitings. Also the most exquisite embroideries of the finest weave made up into waists trimmed with cluny or baby Irish. These are very expensive.

Among the novelties in underwear are night gowns and other garments of cross-bar dimities, trimmed with laces and embroideries.

The embroidered silk gauntlet-glove gives a smart touch to the costume. It is milanese silk with five-inch semi-stiff cuff attractively embroidered on the cuff.

A radical change is shown in waists intended for evening wear. Among the latest models it is seldom the shoulder is left bare. The sleeve or whatever trimming replaces it, is carried up over the top of the shoulder and from there falls in draped folds or frills over the upper portion of the arm, this gives a heart-shaped or small narrow round décolleté effect to the centre of the bodice.

The wide white lace veiling that can be purchased by the yard is seen on walking and traveling hats as well as on the automobilist. It is expensive, but as it is becoming, looks refreshing on a sultry day, cleans to look like new, one should not cavil at the price.

MADAME ROBERTA.

"THREE TWINS" at Herald Square

The adaptation from "Incog," a popular farce of some fifteen years ago, which Mr. Charles Dickson has given us in "Three Twins," will doubtless be seen and heard in this city for many months to come. It is capital comedy set to good music by Carl Hoschna, with lyrics by O. A. Hauerbach.

The plot tells of the experiences of a young man whose father interferes with his matrimonial plans by sending him away from home, and who, in order to remain near his sweetheart without discovery, disguises himself to look like a photograph he picks up by chance. This proves to be the likeness of a man who has a twin brother in a sanitarium suffering with melancholia caused by the depressing influence of a wife too easily moved to tears. These three men look so much alike that the wife of one and the sweethearts of the other two are constantly mistaking each for the other.

The funny situations are continuous, and Joseph Allen as the testy father, and Clifton Crawford as the son in disguise, deserve especial mention for their fine comedy work. Clifton Crawford is the center of action most of the time and he has one excellent scene all to himself. There are two songs in the play that will soon be heard everywhere. One is "Cuddle up a Little Closer, Lovey Mine," introducing the "seven ages of cuddling" in tableaux, and the other is "Yama Yama Man," in which Bessie McCoy makes a distinct hit with her singing and dancing.

"Three Twins" is a very acceptable addition to our summer shows, and furnishes a very jolly evening of clean fun, good dancing and singing, and stage pictures that are charming enough to stamp themselves upon one's memory; and then—how good it must sound to the authors and management—the audience as it files out sings quite clearly and with evident enjoyment, "Cuddle up a little closer" and "Yama Yama Man" to the accompaniment of the orchestra.

FRANK THORNTON.

EDEN MUSEE.

Many important changes have taken place during the past few weeks at the Eden Musée. The interior has been decorated with palms and greens so as to give the effect of a conservatory or summer garden. One of the most interesting portions of the Musée is the American gallery. This contains subjects of United States history from the beginning of the Revolution to the present day. The figures in this gallery have been completely renovated and nearly all of them supplied with new costumes. The re-arrangement as taken place shows the groups in artistic manner as well as in chronological order. Those representing American history have been made with much care and with a strict attention to detail. Among these are: "Settlement at Jamestown," "Pocohontas saving John Smith," "Spirit of '76," "Admiral Farragut at New Orleans," "Lincoln Freeing the Slaves," "Last Moments of John Brown," "Surrender of Lee," "Dewey at Manila," and "Heroes of the American Army and Navy." With the approach of hot weather the Musée has installed a cooling apparatus through the interior and no matter how warm the weather is there are always cooling and refreshing breezes in the Musée. New moving pictures are received by every steamer and the entire new collection is placed on exhibition each week. The new pictures are scenes of travel in foreign countries, interesting bits of scenery, quaint and picturesque happenings and customs of people in strange lands.

CLUBS AND THE BALLOT

It begins to look as if club life and club organization has been merely the preparatory school for the ballot for women. The meaning of it all has been rather a carefully guarded secret, and women who wouldn't have considered the ballot under any consideration have been steadily growing to the larger comprehension of things. Many of us are not imaginative and when we have been told that the baby would cry when we left it long enough to go to the polls, we believed it; even when we had no baby we felt apprehensive about the neglect of some other woman's baby. But we could go to the club and leave the baby. It has taken about sixty years to climb over the baby barrier as an argument. The mountain of conservatism still remains to be scaled, but we are making it by easy stages, resting at every "thank-you-mum" in the ascent, and pulling the unwilling travellers along with us. The better and higher the vantage point the greater the view. The word "male" still sticks in the constitution, but in spite of it, we did get police matrons after about a twenty-five years war; and we did get women in as factory inspectors, and now and then a woman as school commissioner; and in some states women march up to the polls like little men and put in their ticket without contaminating them a mite.

The East has heard rumors about some states in the West, somewhere beyond the setting sun and Niagara Falls where the women vote for everything just as the men do. It's difficult to imagine this, and there are so many unreliable rumors one can't believe everything one hears. Besides—in the West things are so different. Father Knickerbocker will bear me out any day in the statement that the West is not at all like the East; in the West it is called the effete

East. Anyone having half an eye and a dictionary at hand can find out about effete—synonymous with unproductive, unfruitful, unprolific, spent and worn-out. Still the East is not stirred by the implication.

As I was saying—the desire for the ballot for the gentle sex must be a development. The Federation of Women's Clubs which met last week in Boston numbers more than a million members. There is no denying the significance of this enrollment of names. Wait till there comes a time for action, and then see. Already the mothers of a nation are interfering in child labor legislation, in forestry, in city housekeeping and many other affairs of a municipal and eelymosynary nature; they are taking lessons in responsibility and citizenship, and advancing as fast as conservatism will permit. The pathfinders have emblazed the way, and it is a mere matter of time before the ballot in my lady's hand will be recognized as an expedient, and lo, the word male will fade from the constitution, and there will be no more any fight about the ballot, and the only wonder about it will be that she didn't have it long before.

Those who are in a position to know, state that the opposition to suffrage for women does not come from the men nearly so much as was long popularly supposed to be the case. It is good to have this matter cleared up and the blame placed where it belongs. Many of the anti-suffrage women are good club women, and would no more discuss the question of the ballot than they would religion. Club life surely leads toward qualified citizenship.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

"SEEING NEW YORK" on a Steam Yacht

Why do the denizens of New York fail to take advantage of many of the delightful ways of spending a few hours that are so eagerly sought for and enjoyed by our visitors? Is it that we become indifferent to blessings that are always within reach, or is it possible that we do not realize the beauty that surrounds this humid, teeming Island, and the cool and quiet that may so easily be attained if we but choose to seek the water diversions afforded by its unsurpassed location.

The "Seeing New York Steam Yacht" brings within the small means of the many a most enjoyable and interesting trip around the Island of Manhattan, and in three hours opens up to the eyes of the excursioner a comprehensive view of this marvelous city. In no other way can one so quickly become acquainted with its chief industries and see the wonderful skyline—over which foreign artists rave—caused by the enormous height of many of its buildings. Every resident of New York who takes an outing on this public "Seeing New York Yacht" is rewarded by a more intimate knowledge of the city and its history, and a deeper appreciation of the superiority of its situation and the wealth it represents.

Those desiring to avoid a crowd should take the morning excursion which leaves the foot of West 22d st. at ten o'clock and completes the circuit shortly before one o'clock noon.

DID YOU KNOW IN THE YEAR

- 1841—That the "Princeton," a ship-of-war, was constructed by John Ericsson. This was the first ship in which the propelling machinery was placed under water, and thus secure from shot.
- 1842—That the Abolitionists held a State Convention, declared a separate nomination, and ran a candidate for the office of Mayor in New York; that on June 27 water was received into the reservoir at 86th st. through the aqueduct, and on July 4 it was also received into the distributing reservoir on Murray Hill.
- 1843—That a patent was granted to a resident of the city for a sewing machine that made a lasting stitch; that a submarine telegraph connected New York with Fire Island, also Coney Island.
- 1844—That in consequence of famine and political disturbances an enormous number of immigrants arrived from Ireland and other European countries.
- 1845—That a large amount of property was destroyed by a most disastrous fire.
- 1847—That the Board of Education took action to establish a Free Academy. This was the first institution maintained at the public expense by which the pupils of the city schools could secure the advantage of the higher departments of learning without cost. That the first successful type revolving press was made by a resident of New York City.
- 1848—That there was inaugurated the first electric telegraph service.
- 1849—That the New York Press Association was formed; that the "Astor Place Riot" took place; that there was much excitement in regard to the phenomenon of spirit-rapping.
- 1850—That Jenny Lind was introduced to a large audience by P. T. Barnum; that the American Bible Union was organized; that in search of Franklin, an Arctic expedition sailed from this city.
- 1851—That the "New York Times" was first published; that the Hungarian patriot, Kossuth, visited New York and was received with enthusiastic demonstrations.
- 1853—That the New York Clearing House was organized by fifty-two of our city banks; that in the Crystal Palace was held an International World's Fair.
- 1854—That the Astor Library was opened to the public.
- 1855—That commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court, after giving due consideration, selected the ground for Central Park; that Castle Garden was the receiving department for emigrants.
- 1857—That an unsuccessful attempt to lay the Atlantic Cable was made, the wire parting when less than four hundred miles out.
- 1858—That a public celebration announced the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable; that the Crystal Palace was burned; that Adelina Patti, then in her seventeenth year, was heard for the first time in public.
- 1860—That the Prince of Wales was welcomed to New York with elaborate demonstrations; that in this year the Japanese visited the city; that it was first suggested of the value of an underground railway; that South Carolina seceded.
- 1861—That Central Park was opened to the public; that after the attack upon Fort Sumter, the banks having loaned large sums of money to the Government, suspended specie payments.
- 1863—That in the Ninth District a draft in progress caused a riot among foreign laborers, who attacked the recruiting office, destroyed the wheel and lists and set the building on fire. As the militia had been sent to Philadelphia to resist a Confederate invasion, the police were without assistance to suppress the riot for some days. Much property was destroyed and a large number killed.

SHORT TRIPS TO FORTS AND ISLANDS

Passes for all Government Boats are issued by the Quartermaster's Department, No. 39 Whitehall st., except those for the steamer Ordnance, which are issued at Sandy Hook. Passes may also be obtained on application at the entrance to Forts.

Bedloe's Island, Statue of Liberty—

Boats from Battery (Barge Office) hourly from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. No pass required.

Ellis Island, U. S. Immigrant Station—

Before being permitted to enter the country all immigrants arriving at this port are landed on Ellis Island, where they are carefully examined as to moral, mental and physical condition. Many thousands are handled in a single day, the process being most interesting and instructive. Visitors are permitted to visit all parts of the building, and can inspect the operation of the system for excluding undesirable aliens, and caring for and forwarding those who are admitted. Boats from Battery (Barge Office) hourly from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. No pass required.

Governor's Island—Part of the old fortifications of New York Harbor, now headquarters of the Atlantic Division, U. S. A. Contains Fort Jay, Castle William, and various army buildings. It has an interesting collection of obsolete ordnance, showing former makes and experiments in guns. Boats from Battery (Barge Office), half hourly. Apply for pass, address, Ft. Jay, N. Y.

Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn—On eastern side of the Narrows, at the entrance to the Upper Bay. Has many heavy modern guns, commanding harbor approaches. Government boat from foot Wall st. Varying hours. Apply for pass. May also be reached from Brooklyn Bridge, 5th ave., and Bay Ridge L line, 3d and 5th ave. surface lines, from Park Row.

Fort Hancock, Sandy Hook—

Southern entrance to Lower New York Bay, commanding main ship channel. One of the most extensive and formidable defences upon the Atlantic Coast. Boat foot Wall st. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Apply for pass.

Fort Jay, Governor's Island—See Governor's Island.

Fort Schuyler, Throgg's Neck—

On the northern side of entrance to Long Island Sound. Protects eastern approach to city. Boat foot Wall st., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Apply for pass. May also be reached, 3d ave. L or Subway to 177th st., then by 177th st. crosstown trolley to entrance.

Fort Slocum, David's Island—

Commanding entrance to Long Island Sound. Boat foot Wall st., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Apply for pass. May also be reached N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., to New Rochelle, then by ferry to David's Island.

THE CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION

East 29th st., between Madison and Fifth aves., the Rev. George Clarke Houghton, D.D., rector, was organized in 1848 and the church was built in 1850, the first church of its name in the world. The building is now five times the size of the little church of those days. In the draft riots of the Civil War in 1864 a very large number of colored people were driven from their tenements and would have been killed had they not found refuge in the church and the rector stood guard over them and single-handed kept the mob away until the soldiers dispersed the rioters. In 1870 George Holland, one of the most prominent actors of his day, died, and when Joe Jefferson applied to a small church on Madison ave. for Holland's burial the rector of that church refused to perform the rites because Holland was an actor, and told Joe Jefferson that there was "a little church around the corner where it might be done," referring to this Church of the Transfiguration, which seats 1,200 people. Jefferson's prompt reply was: "God bless the little church around the corner," and that name has clung with affection to this church ever since. Thousands of actors, and others among the most prominent people of this city and State have been married and buried from the church. The church is open every day in the year from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., and between three and five hundred visitors go to see the church every day. There is a visitor's book for names in the vestibule, and among the thirty thousand persons who have signed that register during the past six or seven years are Princes and Dukes and other members of royal families of Europe and the most noted people of this and foreign countries. There is a very beautiful Lady Chapel with superb glass windows and a magnificent Marble Altar, and beautiful oil paintings adorn the ceiling. The Holy Sacrament is kept in the Chapel with a sanctuary lamp always burning in front of it, and hundreds of people kneel there every day to say their prayers. The most beautiful mortuary chapel in America, and perhaps in Europe, is just completed, and here the bodies of not only members of this parish, but of any creed are brought and remain to the day of their burial, if their families have no home or other suitable place to take them to, and there is no charge or fee for this or for any ministration of the rector or clergy. A very large number of persons are baptized in this church, but the rector won't marry any one whose parents or guardians are not with them or give their consent to the wedding. The rector has refused as many as one hundred couples a month, and for that reason it is considered a great honor to be married in this church, and persons of great prominence in this country come here for the sacraments, as well as the humblest people. There are about 2,000 communicants, and the church is filled every Sunday, summer and winter. There is a large vested choir of men and boys, and seven services are held every Sunday and four services every week day in the year. Many persons say that they have the best music in New York. Dr. Houghton is the rector and never takes a vacation all the year round. The church is full of beautiful memorials and the vergers will explain them all to visitors, and no fee is charged for his services. This "Lychgate" at the entrance, is one of the very few to be found in America, and here the bodies of the dead, brought to the church for burial, rest for a moment for a prayer before being taken into the church for the last rites.

Women of spirit are not to be won by mourners.—Steele.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Aldrich Court—41 Broadway. This formed the site of the first habitation of white men on Manhattan Island; was also the site of the second residence of Washington. Tablet: "This tablet marks the site of the first habitation of white men on the Island of Manhattan. Adrian Block, Commander of the Tiger, erected here four houses or huts, November, 1613. He built the Restless, the first vessel made by Europeans in this country. The Restless was launched in the spring of 1614. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Boreel Building—115 B'way. This site was formerly occupied by the residence of Lieutenant-Governor James DeLancey; after his death it was turned into a public house, known under a number of names, the most famous being "Burns' Coffee House." It was here the non-importation act was signed, also Washington's inaugural ball was held in the so-called "great room." During the year 1793 the building was torn down and a "City Hotel" was erected by a number of New York merchants. Tablet: "The site of the old historical DeLancey House, afterward the 'City Hotel.' The tavern located here had various proprietors, by whose names it was successively called, being, among others, known as 'The Province Arms,' 'The City Arms,' and 'Burns' Coffee House or Tavern.' It was here that the celebrated non-importation agreement in opposition to the 'Stamp Act' was signed October 31, 1765. Erected by the Holland Society of New York, March, 1890."

Church of the Messiah—Park ave. and 34th st. This site once formed the estate of Robert Murray, the "Quaker Merchant of the Revolution," and was called "Inclenberg," and became historic through the diplomacy of Mrs. Murray in detaining the British officers, Clinton, Howe and Cornwallis, while Putnam and his troops, on their retreat to Harlem, guided by Aaron Burr, passed within a mile of the house.

Fort Amsterdam—This site is now occupied by the new Custom House Building, and another portion occupied by the Cunard Building, 29 Broadway. Tablet: "The site of Fort Amsterdam, built in 1626. Within the fortifications was erected the first substantial church edifice on the Island of Manhattan. In 1787 the fort was demolished and the Government House built upon this site. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Mercantile Library—Astor Place. Founded in 1820. This is the principal circulating library in the city; was first located at 49 Fulton street and afterward moved to Clinton Hall, corner Nassau and Beekman streets, where it remained until transferred to the Astor Place Opera House, which was renamed the new Clinton Hall. This building was demolished in 1890, and the present building erected on its site.

New York Historical Society—Second ave. and 11th st. This building contains a large and valuable collection of historical curiosities. The society was organized in 1804 for the collection and preservation of everything relating to the natural, civil and ecclesiastical history of the United States in general and New York in particular.

Windsor Arcade—571 Fifth ave. This was the site of the Windsor Hotel which was destroyed by fire March 17, 1899, at which about fifty lives were lost.

West Washington Market—Located at the foot of West 12th st., but was formerly extending along West st., on the river side to the market. It is here that all early fruits and vegetables from Bermuda Islands are received, and it has been estimated that during the peach season from 50,000 to 100,000 baskets are received daily.

Lenox Library—71st st. and Fifth ave. Exhibition of interesting Japanese color prints in the form of albums and illustrated books. Many of these contain little masterpieces of line, color and printing; this gives an unusual opportunity to study this fine and representative series. The Colonna Collection of 268 albums has been loaned to the New York Public Library and may be seen in the Print Room of this Library Building. This noteworthy collection includes rare series, such as, Harunobu's "Marriage Set"; Shigemasa and Shunsho's "Celebrated Beauties"; Korin's, "Gusshiki"; and Hekusai's "Shashin"; as well as some large early two-color prints (beniye) of special value. There is also on exhibition a collection of lithographs by Honoré Daumier, the famous French caricaturist of "Charivari."

The Hudson River Day Line has placed its popular Steamer ALBANY on the special Poughkeepsie service inaugurated last year. This boat leaves the New York piers of the Line one hour after the regular morning through boat, making the customary stops, including Cornwall, as far as Poughkeepsie. She is due to remain one hour and thirty-five minutes at Poughkeepsie, giving ample time to visit Vassar College and other points of attraction. This addition to the schedule increases the capacity of the Line in the lower half of the river nearly 100 per cent, and, as stop-overs are allowed, it gives opportunity for a great variety of interesting little journeys for one to select from.

THE SILENT WOMAN

My contemporaries who wield the large editorial pen are eulogizing the Silent Woman. You see it's like this; the enfranchisement has been denied specifically to the women of Oregon. Woman suffrage has been defeated out there by upwards of twenty thousand majority, and it is due to the efforts of the Silent Woman who is courageously fighting against the measure. How times change! It is not so long ago that it was the courageous woman who dared to advocate suffrage. Now it is the courageous woman who opposes it.

The Silent Woman, say my contemporaries, believes it is as much woman's right to be exempt from political duty as from jury duty, or militia duty. Ah, well—there will always be this same Silent Woman, just as there will always be the van Winkle family who sleep on, fifty years at a stretch, while things are moving on without them. There is no use to get the suffrage arguments down off the shelf—old moth-eaten things—and to dust them up for the contemplation for this Silent Woman. She wouldn't contemplate them if you took the trouble. The unprogressive woman as a class contains the stubborn, contrary woman, the stupid woman, and the lap-dog woman who is content as long as she has a comfortable place herself. Call her the Silent Woman if the name sounds any better.

The Silent Woman is a woman of resource too. She declared herself one time in Albany years ago when Susan B. Anthony led a delegation of women to the Constitutional Convention, and carried a gigantic petition containing more than one hundred thousand names praying that the word male should be eliminated from the New York State Constitution. The petition made a fine showing; hundreds of scrolls tied in suffrage yellow ribbon were heaped high on a table in the corridor where they would attract attention. But against the day and the hour when the formal presentation of that ominous petition was to occur the Silent Woman made preparation. For days in the well-equipped kitchen of the Silent Woman there was riotous whisking of eggs and reckless beating of cake; and at the great moment when the legislators were expected to respond to the call of the suffrage woman, the Silent Woman summoned them all to a feast of pie and cookies and jelly cake; and the men? Dear, dull, old things! Any one can guess right the first time on the query of where those men went. There was scarcely a man at the presentation. Although we have progressed some since that event, the same Silent Woman is still here, the only change being that she is now alluded to as courageous; and that is the most interesting thing about the situation—because it means progress.

It is not the Silent Woman who opened the college doors to her sex; nor who has legislated for years to make the laws better; to improve the conditions of working women; who is right now interfering in behalf of the little children who toil.

Ruskin meant the Silent Woman when he wrote this: "There is no suffering, no injustice, no misery in the earth but the guilt of it lies lastly with you. Men may tread it down without sympathy in their own struggle; but men are feeble in sympathy and contracted in hope: It is you only who can feel the depths of pain, and conceive the way of its healing. Instead of trying to do this you turn away from it; you shut yourselves within your dark walls and your garden gates; and you are content to know that there is beyond them a whole world in wilderness—a world of secrets which you dare not penetrate; and of suffering which you dare not conceive."

HARYOT HOLT DEY.

Mighty of heart, mighty of mind, magnanimous—to be this is indeed to be great in life.—Ruskin.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Singer tower is now open to the public, and the observation balcony at No. 149 Broadway offers the visitor to this city an opportunity to see New York from all directions instead of a spot at a time. The balcony is on the forty-second floor, 548 feet above the curb, and gives a sight-seeing radius of over thirty miles in all directions. The tower has a platform with a high railing which accommodates about forty people. Express elevators run from the main corridor on the first floor, making the trip in one minute. There are also guides stationed on the platform to point out the different points of interest to visitors and to give other information.

TAXAMETER—Motor Cab Service—Phone 2380 COLUMBUS

Telephone orders filled promptly day or night. Cabs are always in waiting at our various stands, or they may be hailed and engaged on the street. When the flag is displayed above the taximeter, it signifies that the cab is disengaged and can be hired.

REDUCED SUMMER RATES—EFFECTIVE JUNE FIRST—Tariff No. 1 (Red Indicator) Used Only.

- First half-mile or fraction - - 30 cts.
- Each quarter-mile thereafter - 10 cts.
- Each six minutes waiting - - 10 cts.

This tariff applies to all vehicles and irrespective of the number of passengers carried except that for Hansoms, Coupes, Broughams and Victorias the charge for waiting time is 10 cts. for each TEN minutes or at the rate of ONLY SIXTY CENTS PER HOUR.

EXTRAS—All Vehicles

For ordering a cab, each mile or fraction thereof, from station or stand to point ordered 20 cts.

- Return charge when dismissed north of 155th Street or outside the Borough of Manhattan, for each mile or fraction to Times Square (minimum charge $1) - 20 cts.
- Trunk - - - - - 20 cts.

All ferriage and bridge tolls, both going and returning, must be paid by the passenger. If the taximeter is out of order, fare will be charged at regular legal rates.

RATES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

INFORMATION FOR PASSENGERS

1. HOW THE TAXAMETER WORKS.

When the flag is lowered 30 cents will appear under the word "Fare," and this pays for the use of the cab until service to that amount, either in driving or in waiting, has been rendered. The indicator will register thereafter ten cents for each quarter mile, or each fraction of an hour waiting. This charge is for the exact distance traveled and the exact waiting time consumed, which are automatically measured by the taximeter and over which the driver has no control.

The "extra" charges called for by the service are registered by the driver and shown under the word "Extras."

2. THE AMOUNT TO BE PAID IS THE SUM OF THE AMOUNTS SHOWN UNDER "FARE" AND "EXTRAS." THERE ARE NO CHARGES EXCEPT THOSE INDICATED BY THE TAXAMETER.

The driver is charged with all amounts registered and is not permitted to make any reductions therefrom, but will, if required, give a receipt for the amount paid.

3. TO SECURE COMPLETE PROTECTION, observe (a) that the flag is lowered to Tariff 1 position at the beginning of the service and not before; (b) that the flag is maintained in that position during service; (c) that the flag is promptly brought to "Payment" position at the conclusion of the service and left there until the charge is settled.

4. IF THE CAB IS DISABLED, the service up to the disablement must be paid for.

5. A CAB REPORTING AT AN ADDRESS in response to an order is charged for from the time for which it was ordered.

6. A CAB ORDERED AND NOT USED must be paid for up to the time the driver is dismissed, including the charge for sending it.

7. THEATRE AND OTHER RETURNS. Waiting time and any necessary mileage will be charged for a vehicle held for a return call. Waiting time may be saved by dismissing the vehicle and placing a separate order for a vehicle for the return call, but the Company cannot guarantee to fill such return call unless it be given to and accepted by the starter at a station or stand. Under no conditions may a cab be held in waiting without charge.

8. IN CASE OF DISPUTE, passengers are requested to pay the full amount indicated and make claim to the Company, in writing, giving the hour, date, driver and cab number, number of passengers carried, distance travelled and waiting time consumed and wherein the charge is incorrect. Such claims will receive prompt and courteous attention.

9. THE ACCURACY OF THE TAXAMETER is insured by systematic inspection. Do not assume that a charge is incorrect without first computing all of the distance and all of the waiting time comprised in the service.

A GLORIOUS DAY—ON THE HUDSON

It would be interesting if one could learn how many people living in or near New York City are still unacquainted with the attractions of our Hudson River. After taking a trip on the luxurious "Hendrick Hudson," the new steamer of The Hudson River Day Line, one wishes it were possible to call the attention of all such to the ease and comfort with which a journey can be made on this fine steamer which plies daily between New York and Albany, and the romantic charm of the scenery that would repay them, for one would have to travel many hundreds of miles to find any other river so rich in natural beauty and tradition.

The management of The Hudson River Day Line is unique. The principal officers of the company are college graduates and they give their personal attention daily to the running of the line. Most of the lesser officers on the steamers are young college students who have need of employment during the summer holidays. Even the colored waiters are nearly all students from Hampton College and Howard University. The general service, therefore, is exceptionally fine. The owners of The Hudson River Day Line disapprove of placing the temptation of strong liquors in the way of young men off for a day's outing; hence, while beer and wine may be purchased with meals, only soft drinks can be gotten at the bar. This precaution makes the trip unpopular with any undesirable element, precludes the likelihood of intoxication and disorder on board the boats, and assures a peaceful, restful day to those taking the trip.

On the "Hendrick Hudson" arrangements have been made that attract even the most exclusive excursioner. Many private staterooms have been provided, each opening on the deck adjoining, a portion of which is chained off so that each stateroom has its own private balcony on which the occupants of the room may sit undisturbed by outsiders and view the passing scene. Some of these staterooms are extremely handsome and bear distinctive names according to the type of decoration and furnishing: for example, Dutch room, Japanese room, Colonial room, &c.

The trip to Poughkeepsie covers the most beautiful and historically interesting section of the Hudson, and passengers going up the river from New York can be transferred at that point to the boat coming down the river from Albany, with only a few minutes' wait, so that one can leave New York at nine o'clock in the morning, spend the entire day on the river going to and from Poughkeepsie, and get back to this city by six o'clock in the evening. After June 20th a special steamer will make daily the trip so far as Poughkeepsie only, stopping there a couple of hours to permit of sight-seeing, and returning to this city at 8:40 p. m.

Who can imagine a more satisfactory way in which to pass a day. Nothing is lacking for one's comfort and pleasure: a fine steamer, an unusually high class of passengers, plenty of easy chairs, good food, band concert morning and afternoon, colored quartette to entertain during the dinner hour, cool breezes from off the river, and picture after picture of the magnificent homes of our multimillionaires surrounded by their fine estates, green fields covered with trees and shrubbery, the world-famed Palisades, the historic hills and mountains; everything to delight the eye and rest the senses: surely a glorious day's outing after the nerve-racking distractions of crowded city.

FRANK THORNTON.

So long as we love we serve, and no man is useless while he has a friend.—Unidentified.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

TROLLEY TRIPS

From New York to Mount Vernon one may take any one of three routes—one direct from 129th st. and Third ave., at the Harlem River Bridge, by way of Webster ave.; a second on the West Farms and Williamsbridge car from the same point, changing to Webster ave. car at Williamsbridge; the third from the Bronx Borough side of the Harlem River at Central Bridge, take the Sixth ave. "L" to 155th st. and Eighth ave. end of line) and walk over the viaduct and bridge. This third car (from Central Bridge) goes up Jerome ave. From Mount Vernon—Yonkers, Hastings, Tuckahoe, Pelham, New Rochelle, East Chester, Larchmont, Larchmont Manor, Mamaroneck, Rye, Rye Beach, White Plains, Tarrytown, Portchester may be reached.

Take the Fordham line at 128th st. and Third ave., north to Third and Tremont aves., transfer east to Tremont ave. line to Unionport. For Throggs Neck and Fort Schuyler, from which an excellent view of Long Island Sound can be obtained, transfer again in Westchester Village. Returning, take Tremont ave. line to West Farms, transfer to West Farms line, southbound, or Tremont ave. line to Webster ave.; transfer to Mt. Vernon line, to 128th st. and Third ave.

Fordham or Mt. Vernon line at 128th st. and Third ave., to Tremont ave., transfer to western division of Tremont ave. line on Burnside, Cedar and Sedgwick aves. to High Bridge. University Heights (Hall of Fame). Returning, via Sedgwick ave. to Jerome ave. line to "L" station at 155th st. and Eighth ave., or continuing east to 161st st. and Third ave., then transfer south on Third ave. to starting point. By walking across High Bridge to Amsterdam ave., southbound Amsterdam, Sixth or Third ave. car can be taken to Manhattan.

LONG ISLAND TRIPS

Nearly all the trolley trips of Long Island start from the New York end of Brooklyn Bridge.

To reach Belmont Park by trolley take "L" road from New York end of Brooklyn Bridge to Jamaica; at Jamaica take trolley for Queens, which is close to Belmont Park.

From Queens a trolley may be taken to Hempstead and on to Garden City and Mineola by a branch line.

One of the most picturesque of Long Island trolley trips is from Flushing to Rockaway Park, a distance of a little over twenty-two miles, taking an hour and a half. On the road one touches Ingleisle, Queens Borough Heights, Garrison's Lane, Jamaica, Springfield Lawrence, Inwood, Far Rockaway, Edgemere, Arverne, Hammels, Hollands and Rockaway Beach.

To reach Flushing take ferry to Long Island City, thence by trolley to Flushing.

SHORT TALKS

The slender effect vogue is shown in the careful consideration given to the cut of undergarments. Garments gathered about the waist line are no longer worn. Indeed, they are not only made of the sheerest materials, but are cut on bias lines so as to be perfectly smooth. A short time ago the combination garment was worn only by the comparatively few, to-day it is the most popular undergarment. The two piece is made either in the corset cover and drawers, or corset cover and short petticoat. The three piece of drawers and petticoat are cut in one piece and joined to the corset cover by means of ribbon-threaded embroidered beading. The "Merry Widow" gown is on the style of the Empire model, with this slight difference, the sleeves fall in one with the yoke from the shoulder and the fullness brought by a gathering under the arm gives a horn shaped sleeve. The round necked gown which was so seriously objected to on account of no opening now has its fastening at the side from the neck to half way down the skirt.

A decided novelty in corsets is one which hooks at the side. The steel is very light and flexible. The lacing at the back from the waist down. There are straps across the front which lace together, which gives a flat effect at the lower edge of the front of the corset.

The woman who enjoys surf bathing will hail with delight the non-elastic stocking supporter. These are made exactly as other supporters, except in place of the elastic strong tape is substituted.

The high-class specialty shops have made a great success with their beautiful white dresses of all-over embroidery for waist and tailored skirt of linen.

A model of a jumper dress is worthy of mention combining style and simplicity. The sleeveless and low-necked bodice is entirely of all-over embroidery. The skirt of white lawn, in which is a nine-inch band of the same all-over.

While the lace coat is favored this season, the coat of embroidery is the greater novelty. The wise woman will purchase one of these coats to be worn with her last year's lingerie dress and is transformed into the latest style.

The latest hint from Paris is the using of fine tapestry, velvet and flowered silks for shoe uppers. Those who are fortunate to possess odd pieces take them to their boot makers and have them made into shoes for house use.

A shop on Fifth ave. noted for its high-class leather goods has a novelty in wrist bags known as the "Diana Bracelet Bag." As the name indicates, the handle is two brass bracelets sufficiently large to slip easily over the wrist. The diminutive travelling clocks, with case of English morocco, are irresistible. When the cunning little doors are closed it can be packed in the trunk without incurring any damage. Then there is the Automobilst and Tourist's Diary, in a case of silver with an automobile embossed on one side and an ocean steamer on the other. The case is six by four inches. The book is removable and a new one easily adjusted.

Every woman is aware of the fact that the fingernail soon wears a hole through the silk or milanise glove fingers. They are expensive, and nothing can be done but throw them away. From Araminta we learn to cut off the fingers and part of the thumb, root a hem, finish the hem with a row of French dots; now we have splendid mitts and just the thing for hot weather.

As this is fruit season, it is well to know how to remove stains from wash goods. Wet the places, then light a common sulphur match and hold it over the spots; continue this till the stain disappears.

Don't forget to provide yourself with a box of folding hangers for your outing. They are a great convenience where closet room is scarce.

MADAME ROBERTA.

NAMING OF NEW YORK STREETS

- Ann—Owners of land frequently bestowed on paths that were cut through their property the first names of their wives.
- Bank—Owing to a fever epidemic that broke out in 1822, when many people hurriedly left town. A row of hastily erected buildings, principally used by banks, was built in the vicinity of the present thoroughfare.
- Battery Place—Reminds us of the fact that in 1693 a platform was erected in this vicinity to serve as a battery. In 1753 this was enlarged.
- Bridge—Locates a bridge that at one time crossed the Broad street ditch.
- Broad—Was originally an inlet or ditch, known as the Breede Graft or Broad Canal.
- Cedar—This and other streets bearing the name of trees, suggest the wooded character of Manhattan during the early days.
- Chatham Square—This as well as Pitt street, perpetuates the name of America's devoted and eloquent friend, William Pitt, Earl of Chatham.
- Cherry—This was originally part of a cherry farm.
- Corlears—Jacobus van Corlear, who offered the use of his house for school purposes to Governor Stuyvesant, and Anthony van Corlears, the trumpeter, who it is alleged, gave Spuyten Duyvil its name when he boasted he could swim across its troubled waters.
- Duane—Named for New York's first Mayor after the Revolution, James Duane.
- Ferry—This was the road that led to the first ferry from New York to Brooklyn.
- Fletcher—Named in honor of Governor Benjamin Fletcher, during whose term (1692-1698) printing was introduced into the colony.
- Fulton—Named after Robert Fulton, and is the only memorial on Manhattan Island to preserve the memory of him who helped so much toward its development.
- Hanover Square—Named in honor of King George, who was of the house of Hanover.
- Liberty—Originally called Crown street, the name being changed after the Revolution, when all reference to royalty was suppressed.
- Macdougall—Named after Alexander Macdougall, a noted "Son of Liberty," who was arrested in 1770 on a charge of seditious libel, for which he was imprisoned in the Debtor's Prison (present Register's Office), thus becoming the first martyr in the patriot cause.
- Minetta—Derives its name from a Dutch word, meaning "the little one"—that is, the little creek to distinguish it from a large creek not far away. The former creek, which originated in the marshy ground in the neighborhood of Washington Square, still flows under the pavements of modern New York.
- Morris—Named for Gouverneur Morris, who, besides occupying many important public positions, was one of the Street Commissioners appointed in 1807 to lay out the new streets, which resulted in the city of rigid straight lines and right angles.
- Murray Hill—This took its name from the Murray Mansion. It was here that the mother of Lindley Murray, the grammarian, entertained the British generals, it has been said, while Putnam and his tired forces made their escape from the lower point of the island to Harlem.
- New—This was the first street opened by the English after taking possession of New Amsterdam.

- Pearl—The oldest street in New Amsterdam. Was so called because of the pearl shells found along its path.
- Rector—Being originally church property, therefore owes its name to that fact.
- Ridge—This was an actual ridge along the top of a hill on James De Lancey's property. The slope from Ridge street to the river still exists.
- Roosevelt—This recalls the name of Isaac and of his son Nicholas J. Roosevelt. The former was a member of one of the celebrated committees of "one hundred" to guard the safety of New York previous to the Revolution.
- Rutherford—This recalls the name of Colonel John Rutherford, who was one of the committee that planned the present system of avenues and streets.
- Spring—Owes its name to the discovery of a spring in the neighborhood about the year 1800, when Aaron Burr's Manhattan Banking and Water Supply Company began to furnish the city with drinkable water.
- Stone—Was the first street in New Amsterdam to be paved with stone, which achievement created a great sensation.
- Sullivan—This honors the name of Brigadier-General John Sullivan, one of the most active officers of the Revolutionary War, who received the thanks of Washington for his services in Westchester. In Rhode Island he fought what Lafayette pronounced to be the best contested battle of the war.
- Wall—Owes its name to the wall of palisades that originally marked its path.
- Water—So named, because it consisted of land that in the early days of this city it was literally under water.
- Watts—This preserves the memory of John Watts, the last City Recorder under English rule. He was one of the Assemblymen that protested against England's right to billet soldiers on the citizens of New York. Years after he founded the Leake and Watts Orphan Asylum. His monument is prominent in Trinity Churchyard.
- Whitehall—This was the thoroughfare that led to Peter Stuyvesant's town house. It is supposed to have been so named either on account of its white walls, or because English governors who occupied it subsequently were reminded of London's Whitehall.

APPELLATE COURT HOUSE OF NEW YORK

The Court House of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court is situated on the northeast corner of Twenty-fifth street and Madison avenue. The cost, including the furnishings, was about $750,000, and was completed in the year 1900. The interior is rich in mural paintings, also marbles, and the exterior is decorated with sculptures. The caryatides, by T. S. Clarke, which support the cornice of the Madison avenue side, represent the Four Seasons; the group above, by Karl Bitter, represents Peace; on the pedestals of the balustrade are the statues of the Great Law-Givers: Alfred, Confucius, Justinian, Manu, Vaivasvata, Zoroaster, St. Louis, Mahomet, Solon, Lycurgus, Moses; at the entrance on Twenty-fifth street are two large seated statues, Force, the pedestal with this inscription thereon, "We must not use force till just laws are defied," also Wisdom, "Every law not based on wisdom is a menace to the state." These statues are the work of F. W. Rucstuhl; the bas-relief of the pediment, by C. H. Niehaus, represents the Triumph of Law over Anarchy; and above this, by C. D. French, is a group symbolizing Justice. On the window pediments are the reclining figures of Morning, Noon, Evening, Night, by M. M. Schwartzott. As you enter the main hall has a wainscoting and pilasters of Sienna marble, with bronze gold capitals. Paintings fill the frieze spaces, and the ceiling is modeled in gold of two shades. The Court Room is also decorated in the same manner. The bench, screen and dais are of dark oak, very handsomely carved. On the stained glass windows of the dome are inscribed the names of the following eminent jurists: Fish, Jay, Butler, Shaw, Webster, Ogden, Choate, Kent, Clinton, Livingston, Hamilton, Marshall, Legare, Story, Pinckney, Tancy, Van Buren, O'Connor, Marcy, Spencer. The mural paintings of the two apartments are symbolical, as well as allegorical. The frieze on the north wall facing the entrance, by H. S. Mowbray, represents the Transmission of the Law. This consists of eight groups, as follows: Mosaic, Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Norman, Common Law, and Modern Law, each group illustrating the distinct period that had its influence on our own; each group is united by an allegorical winged figure to represent transmission from one age to another. To the left on the westerly wall the frieze, by W. L. Metcalf, represents Justice; between the entrance doors on the south wall the two lunettes, by C. Y. Young, represent Law and Equity; to the right, on the easterly wall, the frieze, by Robert Reid, represents Justice supported by the guardians of the Law, with sword and fasces. She gives Prosperity and Peace to the Arts and Sciences, holding the symbols of the Law, sword, book and scales; Education follows Peace, teaching the youth, the book being lighted by a lamp held by Religion; Drama follows Prosperity, and Music with harp; on the south wall the subjects are Poetry, Painting, Sculpture, Architecture and Fame. The Court Room is most interesting. The centre panel illustrates Wisdom attended by Learning, Experience, Humility, Love, also Faith, Patience, Doubt, Inspiration. It is intended that the figure of Wisdom personify spiritual wisdom, Love to carry out the sentiment of the figure of Wisdom. There are other panels representing The Power of Law, Justice of the Law, the seals of the City and State. On the wall behind the dais of the Justices the long frieze, by Kenyon Cox, represents the Reign of Law, and other interesting panels are to be enjoyed. Open daily to the public.

LATEST POPULAR FICTION

"The Husbands of Edith," by George Barr McCutcheon; Dodd, Mead & Company, publishers, New York.

In the many books by Mr. McCutcheon which have entertained us we find his latest, "The Husbands of Edith," exceedingly clever and in his best style.

The story opens in Paris, where there is a misunderstanding, not accidental, but deliberately planned by an English architect and his wife. He is notified his presence is needed in London to protect the English people from a gigantic swindling concern. To conceal their movements it is necessary the schemers should continue in the belief the architect is still abroad. Happily he meets with an American friend who is always ready for an adventure. His plan, which is all out of reason, namely, the friend to assume his name and masquerade as the lady's husband, all being satisfactorily arranged, Roxbury Medcroft (the architect) goes secretly back to London, and Brouck (the young American) assumes the architect's name, and with the architect's wife on his arm, takes train for Vienna. They are accompanied with Mrs. Medcroft's baby, sister and maids. As they are not obscure people, naturally in their travels they meet with acquaintances, and not unnaturally, Brouck falls in love with the sister. They join a party of English tourists for a trip through the tyrol. Now the fun begins, which the reader will enjoy and have a hearty laugh at the many predicaments.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

POINTS OF INTEREST

- American Museum of Natural History—Central Park West and 77th st. Every day, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Tuesday and Saturday evenings, 7 to 10; Sunday, 1 to 5 p. m. Free.
- Appellate Division, Supreme Court—Madison ave. and 25th st. Open daily.
- Aquarium—Battery Park, foot of Broadway. Admission free. Open from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Closed on Monday forenoon. A fort in 1807; Concert Hall in 1825; Castle Garden, 1855 to 1892.
- Assay Office—Located in Wall street, just east of the Sub-Treasury; is an old-fashioned building, erected in the year 1823 for the Branch Bank of the United States, and is the oldest structure on the street. It is estimated that from twenty to one hundred millions of crude bullion are received and assayed yearly. Visiting hours, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.
- Astor Library—Lafayette place. Founded by J. J. Astor in 1849.
- Brooklyn Bridge—Park Row and Centre. Opened May 24, 1883. Length, 5,989 ft.; centre span, 1,595 ft.; height, 135 ft.; width, 85 ft.
- Carnegie Mansion—Fifth ave. and 90th st. Cost, $4,000,000.
- Cathedral of St. John the Divine—Amsterdam ave., 110th-113th sts.
- Central Park—Fifth to Eighth aves., 59th to 110th sts. Contains Metropolitan Museum of Art, Casino, McGowan's Pass Tavern and Cleopatra's Needle. Zoological Garden at 66th st. and Fifth ave. 843 acres.
- Chamber of Commerce—65 Liberty. Organized 1768.
- Columbia University (formerly King's College)—Broadway and Amsterdam ave., 116th to 120th sts. Charter granted by George II. in 1754.
- Conservatories—Central Park, opposite East 105th. Choice plants. Free. Hours, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Ellis Island—U. S. Immigrant Station. All immigrants arriving at this port are landed on Ellis Island before being permitted to enter the country, where they are carefully examined as to physical, financial and moral condition. Many thousands are handled in a single day (the estimated number for the year 1905 was 800,000). The process is most interesting and instructive and visitors are permitted to visit all parts of the extensive buildings, and can with facility inspect the operation of the system for excluding undesirable aliens, and caring for and forwarding those who are admitted. Free. No. pass required. Boats from Battery (Barge Office), hourly, on the hour, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.
- East River—Follows the eastern portion of the city and separates it from Long Island. From Coenties Slip to Maiden Lane, along its shores, may be seen many interesting sights in connection with this city's great shipping industry.
- Fire-boats—The "New Yorker" is the name of the largest and best equipped fire-boat in the service of the New York fire department. There are also six others connected with the department. Their stations are as follows: "New Yorker" at the Battery; "Wm. L. Strong," foot of Grand st., East River; "David A. Boody," foot of North 8th st., Brooklyn; "Abram S. Hewitt," foot of Main st., Brooklyn; "Seth Low," foot of 42d st., Brooklyn; "D. O. Mills," East 133d st. and Harlem River; "George B. McClellan," foot of Gansevoort st.
- "Flatiron" Building—Broadway and 5th ave., 22d and 23d sts.
- Five Points—Formerly consisted of squalid rookeries and drinking places, located in the neighborhood of Worth, Baxter and Park streets. In this locality many notorious crimes were commit- ted. The Five Points Mission House is at 63 Park st. The open space in the centre of the "Points" is now called Paradise Park.

- Grant's Tomb—Riverside Drive and 123d st. Built on plan of Napoleon's Tomb at the Hotel des Invalides, Paris. Dedicated 1897. Contains bodies of Gen. and Mrs. Grant in rare caskets. Near by is the Chinese tree planted by Li Hung Chang. 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Free.
- Hall of Fame—New York University, Sedgwick ave. and E. 180th st. Granite colonnade to contain statues of 150 famous Americans.
- Hall of Records—Chambers and Centre sts. City records.
- Hamilton Grange—Convent ave., near 141st. Home of Alexander Hamilton when shot in duel by Aaron Burr.
- Ludlow Street Jail—Located at Ludlow and Essex streets, near Grand. In former days persons arrested for debt, under the old law, were kept here; now persons arrested for violation of United States law are incarcerated within its walls.
- Marble Collegiate Church—Fifth ave. and 29th st. The Collegiate Reformed Church of New York is the oldest Protestant church in America, having had a complete and continuous organization since the summer of A. D. 1628. The Rev. Jonas Michaelius was its first minister, who was sent to New Amsterdam on the Island of Manhatas by the Classis of Amsterdam in Holland. As its name conveys, the Collegiate Church is a group of churches. The Marble Collegiate Church is the tenth in historical succession of the sanctuaries of the Collegiate Church.
- Old Jewish Cemetery—Located on New Bowery, near Oliver st. One of the oldest burial places in the city, and established during the time of Peter Stuyvesant. Another cemetery, or "Place of Rest," can be found in Twenty-first street, west of Sixth ave.
- Players' Club—Presented to actors and friends of the drama by Edwin Booth, at a cost to him of more than $200,000. Located at 16 Gramercy Park. Formally opened in the year 1888, on New Year's Eve.
- Riverside Drive—From West 72d st., north to 134th st. Overlooks the Hudson.
- Salvation Army—This organization gives yearly a Christmas dinner to over 20,000 poor at Madison Square Garden. Headquarters located at 120 West 14th st. Many branches are maintained in various other parts of the city.
- Sailors' Snug Harbor—The home for the aged sailors on Staten Island; of interest to strangers. Free. Daily, except Sunday.
- Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument—Riverside Drive and 89th.
- Somerindyke House—This house formerly stood in Ninth avenue, near 75th st. Was the home of royalty during its exile. Louis Philippe and his brothers, the Duc de Montpensier and the Comte de Beaujolais, taught school for their living. The Duke of Kent, Queen Victoria's father, visited them here.
- Trinity Church—Broadway, opposite Wall st. Original church built 1696, the second 1788, the present church 1839, and consecrated 1846. The land was bestowed upon the parish by Queen Anne. Its special interior feature is the wonderful carved altar in memory of the late William B. Astor. The churchyard is very ancient, containing graves of historic heroes.
- Viaduct—Over West 155th st., 7th and 8th aves. and Harlem River.
- Williamsburg Bridge—Delancey st. Length, 7,200 ft.; centre span, 1,600 ft.; height, 135 ft.; width, 118 ft.

SHORT TALKS

Something quite new is the separate flounce for silk petticoats, ready made. These are of different materials, but chiefly of net or chiffon most wondrously tucked, puffed and embellished with bows of ribbon. They can be sewed on the petticoat and when defaced another adjusted with little or no trouble.

The wash petticoat in cotton goods is not to be disdained. There is one strong point of recommendation—they are easily laundered. The Pongee petticoat is really quite beautiful with flounce prettily embroidered in floral patterns, holding to the natural color of the flowers.

There is no garment more desirable of a warm Summer afternoon than a Kimono of Oriental silk. The American woman is built on a different model than her little Jap sister. Consequently, the Kimono must have more fulness in the skirt. This is obtained by means of tucks or box pleats stitched to the waist line. A ribbon belt or sash adds to the finished appearance.

In Dressing Sacques we noticed two styles as being attractive. One was made in one piece, the sleeve formed by two parts over the arm caught together and tied with satin ribbons. The other was accordion-pleated. The yokes are round, square or pointed, of embroidery and lace, and the materials are dotted Swisses, silk, all-over laces, and fine, pretty-colored cashmeres.

In dress goods chevron serges, which were worn with favor in the early spring, are still the vogue, but as the season advances it is produced in a sheerer weave and consequently will be used for the summer tailored suits.

In Shantung is a novel and much admired weave. This is of large rough knots freely sprinkled on the surface and are known as "neigeuse" (snow flake). Whilst used for dresses, it is better suited for wraps and outside garments, and is trimmed with glossy satin bands.

The use of cloth as a trimming on woolen materials of a sheer nature has been referred to in these articles, but as the season advances the vogue increases to such an extent it seems worthy of mention.

A very stylish tailor suit is of black woolen voile, the skirt plain, the jacket has deep directoire facings of white moire, also the cuffs. A lace waistcoat, black or white, completes the costume, which in its simplicity is elegant.

A novelty is the stamped-out devices in white taffeta, which makes a handsome foot trimming on skirts.

The tunic for outdoor wear has not fulfilled the predictions, though instances are seen of the draped tunic and the arrangement of trimming to simulate one, but for long skirted toilettes for dinner and ball dresses it is much favored. It is beautiful and graceful when of white lace slightly draped over a skirt of self-colored satin or silk voile; with the addition of a broad lace flounce on the hem the effect is enhanced.

Trimmings of pongee for suits, whether of the natural color, lavender or blue, is of buttons. These are quite large, covered with the pongee or crochet matching the color. The coats are slashed at the sides or back to the waist line. On each side of the openings is a row of these large buttons. The sleeves are slashed and the openings closed with silk straps, cords or braides, with a size smaller buttons on each side.

Araminta tells us if one should be on the top of the mountains and needed a hot water bag and did not have one a substitute can be found in a stone jug. Heat the jug in the oven, fill with boiling water, pound the cork in tight. The water will keep hot for eight hours or more. These jugs can always be found in the little village store.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

THE HOTEL MEN'S MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATION

On Monday, July 13th, there will be an exodus of the Hotel Managers of this city, all bound by special train over the New York Central R. R. for Saratoga Springs, to attend the 29th Annual International Reunion of the hotel men of the United States and Canada.

The sessions of the association will continue throughout the week, commencing with the reception on Monday evening at Congress Spring Park, of the International Hotel Supply Men's Exhibitors, and ending with a grand reception tendered to the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Assn. on Friday evening at the same park, by the Hotel Men of Saratoga Springs. Business and pleasure will receive equal attention during the week, and one very interesting feature of the program will be an exhibition by the International Hotel Supply Men, which will be the largest of its kind ever held in the United States.

The election of new officers takes place on Tuesday, the 14th. Mr. Edward M. Tierney, proprietor of the Hotel Marlborough of this city, is the popular candidate for the Presidency, and as he has received the endorsement of the New York City and State Associations, The Board of Directors of the Chicago Assn., The Washington, D. C., Hotel Men's Assn., The Norfolk, Va., and The Southern Hotel Men's Assns., The Southwestern Hotel

Men's Assn., The New England Hotel Men's Assn., The Wheeling, W. Va., Hotel Men's Assn., The Long Island Hotel Men's Assn., and many others, it would seem improbable that any man can be found who will be willing to run against so strong a candidate, and, therefore, it is expected by his friends that Mr. Tierney's election will be unanimous.

Mr. Edward M. Tierney is the type of man that makes many friends and holds them for all time. He is a man of fine presence, with a face that evidences good-cheer and kindly feeling, a manner that is courteous, a nature that is considerate, generous and helpful, that harbors ill-will toward no one. Like many others of our best hotel men, he has risen from the ranks, and with wide experience he has acquired keen insight, ripe judgment, and a sense of justice that is never questioned. Last, but not of least importance to the man who must preside at many functions, he is a quick thinker and a ready speaker, and his apt after-dinner talks have added to his popularity among his associates. Surely Mr. Tierney is well qualified to fill even so important a position as that of President of the great international "Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association."

NERVES ON A STRIKE?

It is the first step that counts, whether you're learning to walk or trying to get on in life. You did not learn to walk by watching others, but by striking out for yourself and by keeping at it, in spite of bumps and failures. The first step is hard, but it gives you confidence. Don't stand hesitating, now, dissatisfied with the present, dreading the future; make up your mind what position you want and go after it. If you never make a start you never will get anywhere. The first step toward better things is to get your nerve built up, by pure Tonic. Vegetation was made for man, woman and beast. The herbs and vegetables that Herbo-Nervo Confection Tonic is made from are pure and simple; a child can take it with impunity. The Confection at Park & Tilford's. The Tonic at Hegeman's, 200 Broadway, Caswell & Massey, Daggett & Ramsdell, R. H. Macy & Co., and Riker's Drug Counters. The Soda drink "Herbo-Nervo," Ice Cream Soda and Egg Phosphate at Hegeman's, Riker's, Caswell & Massey and Daggett & Ramsdell's. Try it. You will be convinced.

"FOLLIES OF 1908"

AT THE JARDIN LE PARIS

Atop the New York and Criterion Theatres a most attractive Roof Garden has been created, and here the "Follies of 1908" is the summer show, "conceived and produced by F. Ziegfeld, Jr.," for the entertainment of the New York public. One need not hurry through dinner to see the curtain rise on this "Revue," for the show is planned to appeal to the eye rather than to the ear, it has neither beginning nor end, there is no plot to follow; hence, it does not matter if one comes in late or goes early.

One part of the "Revue," entitled "Miss Columbia looking for a Presidential Affinity," is rather offensive to many people. In it appear the caricatures of several of our prominent men, dressed in woman's clothing, the last in line being our Chief Executive. The actor who takes this part does an excellent bit of specialty work, such as would ordinarily bring him considerable applause, but the temper of the audience is such that he is allowed to leave the stage without any evidence of appreciation of his art.

No true American really enjoys seeing the President of this country held up to ridicule. A majority of us feel that the highest office in the gift of the people should be respected by them, and no matter how we may differ in opinion from the incumbent we have placed in that office, it belittles us much more than it does the President to picture him in a costume and position that arouses a feeling of disgust in the beholder.

The conspicuous stars of the show are undoubtedly the beautiful dancer, M'lle Dazie, and the clever artist, Nora Bayes, whose character songs are always worth hearing.

TAXAMETER—Motor Cab Service—Phone 2380 COLUMBUS

Telephone orders filled promptly day or night. Cabs are always in waiting at our various stands, or they may be hailed and engaged on the street. When the flag is displayed above the taximeter, it signifies that the cab is disengaged and can be hired.

REDUCED SUMMER RATES—EFFECTIVE JUNE FIRST—Tariff No. 1 (Red Indicator) Used Only.

First half-mile or fraction - - 30 cts.
Each quarter-mile thereafter - 10 cts.
Each six minutes waiting - - 10 cts.

This tariff applies to all vehicles and irrespective of the number of passengers carried except that for Hansoms, Coupes, Broughams and Victorias the charge for waiting time is 10 cts. for each TEN minutes or at the rate of ONLY SIXTY CENTS PER HOUR.

EXTRAS—All Vehicles

For ordering a cab, each mile or fraction thereof, from station or stand to point ordered 20 cts.

Return charge when dismissed north of 155th Street or outside the Borough of Manhattan, for each mile or fraction to Times Square (minimum charge $1) - 20 cts.
Trunk - - - - - 20 cts.

All ferriage and bridge tolls, both going and returning, must be paid by the passenger. If the taximeter is out of order, fare will be charged at regular legal rates.

RATES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

INFORMATION FOR PASSENGERS

1. HOW THE TAXAMETER WORKS. When the flag is lowered 30 cents will appear under the word "Fare," and this pays for the use of the cab until service to that amount, either in driving or in waiting, has been rendered. The indicator will register thereafter ten cents for each quarter mile, or each fraction of an hour waiting. This charge is for the exact distance traveled and the exact waiting time consumed, which are automatically measured by the taximeter and over which the driver has no control.

The "extra" charges called for by the service are registered by the driver and shown under the word "Extras."

2. THE AMOUNT TO BE PAID IS THE SUM OF THE AMOUNTS SHOWN UNDER "FARE" AND "EXTRAS." THERE ARE NO CHARGES EXCEPT THOSE INDICATED BY THE TAXAMETER.

The driver is charged with all amounts registered and is not permitted to make any reductions therefrom, but will, if required, give a receipt for the amount paid.

3. TO SECURE COMPLETE PROTECTION, observe (a) that the flag is lowered to Tariff 1 position at the beginning of the service and not before; (b) that the flag is maintained in that position during service; (c) that the flag is promptly brought to "Payment" position at the conclusion of the service and left there until the charge is settled.

4. IF THE CAB IS DISABLED, the service up to the disablement must be paid for.

5. A CAB REPORTING AT AN ADDRESS in response to an order is charged for from the time for which it was ordered.

6. A CAB ORDERED AND NOT USED must be paid for up to the time the driver is dismissed, including the charge for sending it.

7. THEATRE AND OTHER RETURNS. Waiting time and any necessary mileage will be charged for a vehicle held for a return call. Waiting time may be saved by dismissing the vehicle and placing a separate order for a vehicle for the return call, but the Company cannot guarantee to fill such return call unless it be given to and accepted by the starter at a station or stand. Under no conditions may a cab be held in waiting without charge.

8. IN CASE OF DISPUTE, passengers are requested to pay the full amount indicated and make claim to the Company, in writing, giving the hour, date, driver and cab number, number of passengers carried, distance travelled and waiting time consumed and wherein the charge is incorrect. Such claims will receive prompt and courteous attention.

9. THE ACCURACY OF THE TAXAMETER is insured by systematic inspection. Do not assume that a charge is incorrect without first computing all of the distance and all of the waiting time comprised in the service.

TOURING CARS, SIGHT-SEEING CARS, DOUBLE-DECK MOTOR BUSES, and Automobiles of every kind by the Hour, Day or Week—Rates on application.

CRUISING ON THE EUPHRATES

Noah's flood washed away the Garden of Eden, and no man has found it to this day; but the Euphrates mingled its magic waters with the great water-ways of the earth, and from thence have flowed into the lesser streams, so that from the deck of your own little boat where you may be enjoying your summer vacation, you may behold the very shores of Eden—an ideal land where the strife and the struggle are no more, and where the Tree of Life and the Tree of Knowledge grow side by side.

The only time and place to look for an enduring Eden is when you are cruising, for there and then you may behold it with your own eyes. Far from the haunts of men, far from the market-place and the battle—with only God and you, the sky, the sunlight, the breezes, the moving picture of the waves, ships that pass in the daylight rocking you with their great friendly swells, sea gulls floating yonder, a school of fish jumping and glinting in the sunlight—ah,—it's the simple life found at last! That land in the distance? That is the Garden of Eden!

The land you may not have, but the waters are all your own with a clear title, and no man to dispute. Even the problems of the land have all passed away; no capital and labor, no single tax, no tax at all; no disagreeable neighbors, no unsightly views, no microbes, no bacteria, and no health department to swoop down upon you when you shake your dust-cloth; no dust-cloth; no defective plumbing, no lawnmowers, phonographs, pianos, cuckoo clocks nor social obligations; no jealousies nor rivalries nor competitions; nothing to obstruct your view; sunlight on all sides at once; no garbage problem—toss it overboard, and sail away and leave it for the fishes! Isn't it ideal? Why, it's the simple life we've all been looking for—discovered at last! What a slow, stupid old world it is not to have discovered it long ago! And no servant problem either!

Even though your yacht may not classify with the millionaire's craft, from its friendly deck you may find your Eden just the same. For you the great water ways of the earth may become navigable streams, awaiting you, their discoverer. Such romantic places in which to anchor at nightfall! In coves where no habitation is to be seen, where Nature seems to have been expecting just you, and has hurried like any busy housekeeper making ready for the entertainment of guests; and now holds the moon up to shine down upon you; and always the stars. The night makes such strange, weird outlines of the trees, and you forget how it looks and must wait for sunrise to see it over again in new lights. Nothing to interrupt your sleep; sleeping out of doors without knowing it; no trollies nor automobiles; nor milk wagons over cobble stones; no fire engines nor policeman's rattle; but just the bells of the ship's clock, only you never even hear them, neither the night watch, nor the middle watch.

Now and again you cast anchor near some market place to lay in supplies, and remind yourself that this is the same world after all; the same people rushing about, busy as ants, burdened with their puny affairs.

The Euphrates flows into sunny climes where there is no winter. On the crest of its wave you sail away beyond the pale of problems where God gives harmony to modern mariners.

HARVOT HOLT DEY.

“The one plain duty of every man is to face the future as he faces the present, regardless of what it may have in store for him, and, turning toward the light, as he sees the light, to play his part manfully as a man among men.”

GRANT'S TOMB

Grant's Tomb is located on Riverside Drive and 123d st. This may be reached by Sixth ave. and Amsterdam ave. car to 123d st., then walk west. Hours, 10 to 5 daily, including Sunday. No admission fee. This monument was designed by John H. Duncan, and is constructed of white granite from Maine, with marble interior, and from its commanding site overlooking the Hudson is very imposing. The structure is 90 feet on the side and 72 feet in height, with circular cupola and Ionic columns 70 feet in diameter. The dome rises 150 feet from the ground, the apex of the monument about 280 feet above the river; from the plaza facing the south side steps 70 feet wide ascend to the portico, which has double lines of Doric columns before the entrance and massive bronze doors; above the portico two sculptured figures by J. Massey Rhind, emblematic of Peace and War. On a panel are inscribed these words: "Let us have peace." (This was the concluding sentence of General Grant's letter accepting the nomination for the Presidency, May 29, 1868.)

The interior is 76 feet between the walls. The four great piers of the rotunda carry arches and are about 50 feet from the floor. The gallery is circular, supported by the arches, 40 feet in diameter; the dome about 105 feet above the floor. Sculptured reliefs by J. Massey Rhind represent Youth, Military Life, Civil Life and Death. In the small rooms surrounding the rotunda are stands of battle flags. Through the circular opening in the floor the sarcophagus is seen in the crypt directly beneath the centre of the dome. It is of red porphyry from Montello, Wis., and is supported on a pedestal of granite from Quincy, Mass. Upon the lid is the name, Ulysses S. Grant. The companion sarcophagus, an exact counterpart, both in material and design, was provided, it being the expressed wish of General Grant that Mrs. Grant should lie by his side.

General Grant died July 23, 1885, at Mount McGregor, N. Y. The funeral was the grandest pageant ever seen. The remains lay in state in the City Hall and was then conveyed to the temporary tomb. The procession was eight miles long and it was estimated that over a million people lined the route.

There were 90,000 contributors, and the fund, with interest, amounted to $600,000, and was raised by the Grant Monument Association. The corner-stone was laid April 27, 1892, by President Harrison. Sealed in it were copies of the Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States and Articles of Confederation, a Bible, the "Memoirs" of General Grant, an American flag, badges of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Loyal Legion, and a number of medals struck in United States mints in commemoration of events in General Grant's life.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Art Galleries—The art galleries of New York to which the public are admitted are comparatively few in number, but there are a number of notable pictures to be seen by those interested in art matters, in some public buildings which are devoted to other purposes. Thus there are in the Lenox Library a number of fine pictures bequeathed to the city by Mr. Lenox, including works by Reynolds, Turner and Muncaesy. The New York Historical Society possesses some valuable pictures, while there are some interesting portraits of former mayors of New York to be seen at the City Hall. Some of the chief artistic treasures of New York, however, are to be found in the collections of private individuals. American Water Color Society, 100th st. and Amsterdam ave.; National Academy of Design, Amsterdam ave. and 104th st.; Society of American Artists, 215 West 57th st.; Metropolitan Museum of Art, Fifth ave. and 82d st.; Lenox Library, 895 Fifth ave.; N. Y. Historical Society, Central Park West and 76th st.

Battery Park—Foot Broadway. Affords fine view of the harbor.

Birthplace of President Roosevelt—Our President was born at No. 28 East 20th st., October 27, 1858. A political organization under the name of "Roosevelt Home Club," occupies a portion of the building.

Botanical Gardens—In Bronx Park, at 177th st. Special exhibition of rare orchids and ferns. 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Free.

Bowling Green—Foot Broadway. Oldest park. Drill ground in 1626.

Bronx Park—Southern Boulevard and East 182d st. and Pelham ave. Admission free. Closed at sundown.

Church of the Ascension—Fifth ave. and 10th st. This church was founded in 1828 and was located in Canal st. The present church was built in 1841 and contains the largest oil painting of a sacred subject in the world. This picture is 38 feet high and 40 feet wide and was presented to this church by Mrs. Rhineland, at a cost of over $20,000. It is supposed that it took 3,000 pounds of paint to execute this work. A story told of the early days is that planks were laid to Broadway across the meadows and a small sum of money was paid to the truant officer to prevent the boys from bathing in the brook, which was located at the back of the church, during service.

Chinatown—Mott, Pell and Doyers sts. Contains Chinese theatres, shops, restaurants, etc.

City Hall—City Hall Park. Built 1803. Contains portraits of Governors, Washington's table, desk and portrait in silk.

City Prison—Called "The Tombs." Centre and Franklin sts.

Clearing House—77 Cedar. Daily business nearly $300,000,000.

Cooper Union Library and School—3d and 4th aves. and 7th st. Founded 1857 by P. Cooper.

Curb Market—On Broad street, below Exchange place, a large number of men with standing in the financial world not regular members of the Stock Exchange, and dealing principally in unlisted securities which are known as "cats and dogs." This organization is now confined to a roped arena in the centre of the street.

Custom House—Wall, corner William. New bldg., Bowling Green.

Eden Musee—West 23d st., between Broadway and Sixth ave. This is a museum containing many interesting and historical groups in wax. Admission, 50 cents; Sunday, 25 cents.

Fort George—190th st., between Amsterdam and 11th aves. A high, rocky projection on which a redoubt had been erected during the Revolution. The Isabella

- Home for old people is located here.
- France's Tavern—Broad and Pearl sts. One hundred and seventy-eight years old; recently purchased by the Sons of the Revolution. It was here that Washington said farewell to his officers of the American Army in 1783.
- Golden Hill—Near John and William streets was shed the first blood of the Revolution in a skirmish between citizens and the king's soldiers. This is known as the "Battle of Golden Hill." A tablet marks the spot—William and John streets, Golden Hill. Here, January 18, 1770, the fight took place between the "Sons of Liberty" and the British Regulars, 16th Foot. First blood in the War of the Revolution. Erected by the Sons of the Revolution.
- Harlem River Speedway—Extending from 155th to 208th st., on the western bank of the Harlem River; 100 feet wide, with sidewalks for pedestrians.
- Herald Building—Broadway and 35th st.
- High Bridge—Harlem River and 175th st.
- Sumner Mansion—Edgecombe ave. and 160th st. Washington's Headquarters. Once the home of Aaron Burr.
- Kennedy House—Formerly stood on the site of the present Washington Building, overlooking Battery Park, erected in 1760 by Archibald Kennedy, Collector of the Port. Here General Putnam had his headquarters previous to the Battle of Long Island, and at various times it was occupied also by Lord Cornwallis, Lord Howe, Sir Henry Clinton and Talleyrand. Here also Benedict Arnold arranged his conspiracy, and from here Washington witnessed the departure of the British troops.
- Menagerie—Central Park, opposite East 64th. Rare animals and birds. Free. Hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Metropolitan Museum of Art—Central Park, opposite 82d. Daily, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday, 10 to 10 p. m.; Sunday, 1 to 5.30 p. m. Free. Except Monday and Friday, fee 25c.
- Morgue—About 4,000 bodies of adults and 3,000 children are received yearly, including those who die in the hospital of the Department of Charities as well as those found in public places. Erected in 1897. Open day and night. At the foot of East 26th st.
- Navy Yard, Fort Sands—Open daily to visitors, except Sundays and holidays, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. No pass required to visit yards, but permission to visit ships must be obtained from commanding officers. It is also necessary to have pass to obtain admission to yard on Sundays and holidays. By trolley from Brooklyn Bridge.
- Obelisk—Near Museum of Art. Erected in Egypt, 1500 B. C. Presented by the Khedive. Brought here 1881 at cost of $100,000.
- Potter's Field—Here lie the bodies of the unknown and pauper dead. Located on Hart's Island. Can be reached by boat from East 26th st. Pass can be had by applying to Department of Charities or Correction.
- Rhinelander Sugar House—Formerly stood on the corner of the present Rose and Duane streets, one of the many buildings in which American prisoners were incarcerated during the Revolution, subject to inhuman cruelties at the hands of the infamous Cunningham.
- Rogues' Gallery—Police Headquarters, No. 300 Mulberry st. Can be viewed only by special permission. A collection of photographs of notorious criminals who have from time to time been in the hands of the police.
- Spanish Museum—At the foot of West 156th st., near Riverside Drive, is situated the property on which Mr. Archer Huntington

- has built the beautiful Hispanic Society Building. Built of gray stone with Doric columns, Roman-Spanish in style of architecture, a stone embankment preserves the terraced foundation, and two flights of stone steps lead down to the street in the middle front. For many years Mr. Huntington has devoted much time and money to the collecting of rare and choice Spanish antiques from earliest periods, including those of the Spanish colonies, it being his wish to establish in this city a museum and library that would represent the complete history of Spain in its national, political, social, intellectual and art life. Visitors are welcome.
- Statue of Liberty—Bedloe's Island. Steamer from Battery every hour; 25 cents round trip; tickets good for admission to the statue; presented by France.
- St. Paul's Church—Broadway and Vesey st. Built in 1704; maintained by Trinity Parish. Attended by Washington, whose pew remains.
- St. Patrick's Cathedral—Fifth ave. and 50th st. Open daily. Visitors are welcome. On view is the cardinal's hat hanging on the altar. It is so high up under the arch that it looks like a mere speck.
- Stock Exchange—20 Broad st.
- Sub-Treasury—Wall and Nassau. Government banking house, $200,000,000 in gold and silver coins often stored here. Site of Washington's inauguration. The stone he stood on can be seen.
- The Swamp—Is located west of Franklin Square, and east of City Hall Park. Here is to be found the centre of the hide and leather trade of New York. As this section is in a hollow, it is called to this day "The Swamp," the atmosphere being strongly impregnated with the odor of fresh sole leather and of salted hides.
- Van Cortlandt Mansion—Van Cortlandt Park, near Jerome ave., now a historic museum in charge of Colonial Dames.
- Ward's Island—Located in the East River near its junction with the Harlem River, and forms the northern boundary of Hell Gate. It is owned by the city and contains about 200 acres, and is occupied by the Manhattan State Hospital for the Insane, the State Emigrant Hospital, Houses of Refuge, and a nursery or home for children, as well as home for invalid soldiers of the Civil War. Can be reached by boat from East 116th st. in the afternoon. Procure pass from Manhattan State Hospital. Also by steamer from Peek Slip, 11.30 a. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.
- Washington Arch—Washington Sq. and 5th ave. Dedicated 1893.
- Washington Bridge—Amsterdam ave., 181st, over Harlem River.
- Washington Building—Located at Battery place and Broadway, erected by Cyrus W. Field, the author and founder of the Atlantic cable. Tablet erected: No. 1 Broadway: "Here stood Kennedy House, once headquarters of Generals Washington and Lee" On the Bowling Green opposite, the leaden statue of King George was destroyed by the people, July 9, 1776, and later made into bullets for the American army.
- Washington Market—Occupies the entire blocks, Washington, West, Fulton and Vesey streets. This is the principal meat and vegetable market of the city, and in the early morning hours affords a spectacle well worth witnessing.
- Woodlawn Cemetery—Jerome and Webster aves., East 211th to 233d.
- Zoological Park—Bronx Park, Southern Boulevard and East 182d st. and Pelham ave. Free except Monday and Thursday. Admission, 25 cents; children, 15 cents. Open until sundown.

ART NOTES

Lenox Library—71st st. and Fifth ave. The large and interesting collection of lithographs presented to the New York Public Library by Joseph Pennell, include a number by Pennell himself, and are now on exhibition in the lower hall of this Library.
Most of these were drawn as illustrations for volumes in the "Highways and Byways" series of books on English countries.
As the drawings were reproduced for publication by photo-mechanical process, there is an excellent opportunity here to study them as originally executed on stone or transfer paper. Pennell, to whose work Whistler referred in terms of high praise, not only handled the lithographic crayon with the sure draughtsmanship and facility characteristic of all his work, but also with a suppleness of expression ranging from pencil-like pale grays to rich crayonings of sonorous black.

I hold him great, who for love's sake

Can give with generous earnest will;

Yet he who takes for love's sweet sake.

I think I hold more generous still.
—Unidentified.

The common problem, yours, mine, every one's.

Is not to fancy what were fair in life

Provided it could be—but finding first

What may be, then how to make it fair.

THE WOMAN'S PROBLEM

Without casting your eye down the page to find out what it is that is being prattled about here, and dignified by the name of The Woman's Problem, know here and now that it is Intemperance. It is no problem to any one but the woman, so it is not being taken away from anybody else when it is claimed by the women. Things that do not belong to anybody else—that nobody else wants—usually belong to some woman—mending baskets, babies and such things; even drunkards have some woman somewhere whom they can depend upon to gather them in, take off their shoes and cravats, and put them to bed.

The women are progressing with their problem. This is not to say that men and legislatures are not helping. Even the children are carrying banners and authorizing the movement. This is where you read the last few words over again and halt at authorize. The movement that is authorized by the children has tremendous momentum. It is like the ball you throw so that it comes back to you. For thirty-four years the women have been teaching temperance, organizing Loyal Legions and Bands of Hope. For a steady, silent growth, sentiment hand in hand with time can be depended upon; and now the boys who learned about it in the Public Schools are working for it in the legislatures. They learned from the text-book what alcohol does; how it softens the muscles, addles the brain and destroys manhood. None of that for them—if you please! Years ago they felt contempt for John L. Sullivan because he was no caretaker of the great prizes the Creator had awarded him.

What I started in to say is this: The revenues of the United States Government for spirits of all characters for ten months of the fiscal year ending April 30, have fallen off $11,727,286.94. Isn't this enough to make old toppers and new sit up and take notice?

I have always felt a wholesome regard for the maternal element in Carrie Nation's hatchet. Of course everybody said she was crazy; and maybe she was. But it seemed to me that all the agony and the rebellion of spirit of American women who for generations and generations had suffered from this same intemperance—who had butted their poor helpless heads against the wall, and clawed the air, and moaned and prayed and cursed—had finally all culminated in one frenzied idea, and that Carrie Nation had somehow been selected to be the agent for its expression; just as anarchists in counsel select the bomb thrower, so the Higher Power made Carrie Nation a kind of storm signal of His displeasure, and sent her with a hatchet to chop up bottles and bar-rooms, instead of His destroying everything as if it were another Sodom and Gomorrah. The hatchet has had significance in American affairs before.

There was no humor in Carrie Nation's crusade. She was not there to amuse nor to be polite. She had no funny stories to tell as had John B. Gough and Sam Jones—and other temperance lecturers—to make the audience laugh. Intemperance is no laughing matter to women. And, oh, the pathos of it—down in Alabama at the election for Prohibition, the little children of the drunkards besieged the voters: "Please, sir, give us a chance!" "Please, sir, vote for us!" And many a voter thus accosted went to the polls with moist eyes and cast a ballot for prohibition.

HARRYOT HOLT DEY.

Courage for the great sorrows of life, and patience for the small ones, and then, when you have accomplished your daily task, go to sleep in peace. God is awake.—Victor Hugo.

SHORT TALKS

A visit to an exclusive establishment where gowns are dreamed and are designed for each individual wearer, disclosed the fact, tho' the front of the large, brown stone house with shades drawn down and windows closed tight gave the appearance the house was closed for the Summer, the ultra ultras always have a gown on the stocks. Having the privilege of admiring, we will mention a superb gown of gray mousseline de soie made over an underdress of orange satin—satin as soft as the mousseline. The skirt closely gathered and pleated back and front, falling loosely from the belt, which is unusually high. The pleats fastened extremely close, loosened only below the knees. A wide band of silver embroidery, done on gray filet in relief, breaks the line of the skirt; from back and front the band of embroidery meets on the sides, where it is carried to the belt line. The corsage composed of the embroidery. It may be as well to mention orange and gray is one of the newest combinations.

Another costume was of old rose, ribbed tussu, oddly trimmed with buttons of the same material, rimmed with black. The skirt in princess form wrinkling above the waist line and in a low curve in front. Following this line is a sash of soft black satin, which crossed in a flat knot in the middle, dropping ends that reached below the knees and were gathered to a point and finished with a tassel. The hem of the skirt turned over on to the right side, the top edge finished with a line of the buttons, which served for trimming and as weights. The coat—half long—had its open side seams trimmed with buttons, beginning at the waist line and reaching nearly to the hem, tiny sleeves—only a few inches long—were shaped in one with the shoulders by means of a seam on the top; this was covered by a band of embroidery lightly done in black, finished in a point as it fell over the sleeves of the lace blouse; these sleeves were three lace flounces overlapping each other. The hat to be worn with this gown is of cerise straw, wide brimmed and high crowned, the trimming a sash of black satin softly circling the crown and ending under a bunch of black ostrich feathers posed on one side with a low, graceful, backward movement. The parasol matched the gown.

The wise woman will make it possible to take advantage of the midsummer reduction of goods in every department. Araminta burrows through the dry goods' counters, unearths most beautiful remnants of muslins with designs of flowers painted so exquisitely as to rival the originals; these are to be laid away till next Spring, when the dainty gowns will be worn, and with the soul-comforting knowledge if they had been bought in the season they would have cost more than twice as much.

Stop a moment at the silk counter and examine what is known as the "Annual July Clearing Sale"; short ends of fancy rough Pongees, Foulards, Rajah, etc.; many of these are lengths to make a gown; all at fifty cents a yard. Shantung Silk—the regular price is $2 a yard—can now be purchased at $1.25.

Then Araminta is again wise and she shows her wisdom in the purchase of one of those beautiful imported hand-embroidered French Pique Robes, now selling at one-half the former price, such as $70 now $35, and others in proportion.

Now to the Shoe Department for Walking and Dress Shoes in all styles and leathers, where one cannot resist being provident and purchasing enough shoe leather to last a season. Araminta will see that each shoe is fitted to a tree where they will remain till next winter well shaped and seasoned.

THE SITUATION IS YOURS

Make yourself the master of your thoughts. If you will lead your mind into channels of only good thoughts, so shall you be.
Good thoughts are the seed from which grow good deeds, peace, contentment and happiness. This is to be said of Herbo-Nervo Tonic, because it is pure; it is the master of the situation and builds up your nerve force and gives only healthy thoughts which go to make up a pure mind. After proclaiming your intention to do a thing, do it and purchase your Herbo-Nervo Tonic at R. H. Macy & Co's., Caswell & Massey's, Dagett & Ramsdell's, Hegeman's and Riker's Drug counters. Your Herbo-Nervo soda drink, Herbo-Nervo egg phosphate and Herbo-Nervo ice cream soda at their soda fountains.
The Herbo-Nervo confection at their candy counters. The seal is the monogram B.E.T., Blanche E.

A ROOF GARDEN

It is typical of the New Yorker, the readiness to adopt, possess, anything new, especially when it is for his bodily comfort. This was evidenced when the well-known, genial proprietor of the Hotel Martha Washington, Mr. Arthur W. Eager and his able Manager, Mrs. Tucker, invited the residents and the "Stranger within our Gates" to enjoy the cooling breezes on the Roof Garden and the Restaurant. When one gazes at the over crowded trolleys, filled with suffering humanity, to the boats, in the same condition, rushing any where, any place, to get relief from the sun-baked streets, and we step out on this ideal roof garden where instantly we are met with the refreshing breeze, and realize that Manhattan is really an Island—for there westward is the North river, and as it is just sunset we are spellbound with the beauty of the after glow, the blending of color which no artist has been able to place on his canvas; to the East river with its ever varying picture of Sound steamers and lighter craft. But the fresh air has whetted our appetite and we seat ourself at table in a cozy corner and immediately a waitress in a well fitting black dress, the whitest of dainty aprons, is ready to execute our order. Looking over the menu we are at a loss what to order, there is such an abundance to select from; are we vegetarians? then we have vegetables so fresh one is ready to affirm without question they have just been dug from Mother Earth. Be what your preference, it is yours most appetizingly prepared and served. Having dined, we saunter to another part of this capacious "garden," as it extends from 29th to 30th street, seating ourselves in a comfortable rocker the "man of the family" lights his cigar and, as the blue cloud wafts skyward, we hear him murmur, "Life is worth living." If by good chance you should have the pleasure of seeing a dainty lady, reminding you of a bit of porcelain or a French shepherdess, in a gown of white, suggestive of a vapory cloud, you will not be surprised to learn it is Mrs. Tucker, to whom we are indebted for this hospitality. The only requisite is that of all high-class hotels, i. e., the gentleman shall ask for a card at the desk, which we all know is the safeguard from undesirable guests.

THE HOTEL MEN'S M. B. ASSN.

The 29th annual reunion of the hotel men of the United States and Canada, held at Saratoga Springs during the past week, was indeed a brilliant success, filling the members present with unbounded enthusiasm and cementing more thoroughly than ever the bonds of friendship existing among them.

On Monday, July 13th, over 450 members registered at Congress Spring Park, and many tardy ones arrived on Tuesday in time to take part in the election of new officers. It was a source of great satisfaction to the hotel men of New York City to have Mr. Edward M. Tierney of the Hotel Marlborough unanimously elected President, and Mr. Frederick A. Reed, of Reed & Barnett, proprietors of the Park Avenue Hotel, elected director for New York State.

Mr. Edward M. Tierney has had a long and varied experience in the hotel business. In 1886, as manager of the Seaside Hotel at Rockaway Beach, Mr. Tierney had his first opportunity to demonstrate his ability and the natural qualities that have since made him well known and successful as a hotel keeper. In 1888 he formed a co-partnership with J. W. Kennedy, and they together built and managed the Hotel Arlington of Binghamton, N. Y., which hotel is still owned by Mr. Tierney and the estate of J. W. Kennedy, and managed by Mr. Tierney under the firm name of The Kennedy-Tierney Co. Mr. Tierney is interested in five of the leading hotels of New York State, and occupies official position in three of them: the Arlington Hotel of Binghamton, N. Y., the Hotel Marlborough of this City, and the new Hotel Rochester of Rochester, N. Y.

From 1893 to 1897 inclusive, Mr. Tierney was President of the New York State Hotel Men's Assn., and for the past four years he has been Director for the State of New York in the Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Assn. He is now Treasurer of the New York State Hotel Men's Assn., and Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the New York City Hotel Men's Assn., so it is evident that Mr. Tierney has had ample training for the very important office to which he has now been elected, the highest in the gift of the hotel men of the country.

Mr. Tierney has always eloquently supported all issues upholding the rights and integrity of the hotel men throughout the state, and in his speech before the H. M. M. B. Assn., on Tuesday the 14th, he earnestly advocated the concerted action of the organization against prohibition. We quote from his speech:

"To attempt to enforce a law that abridges any man's right in the exercise of his personal liberty and social duties, is as dangerous to society's laws as is the communistic principle that the successful man should share his means with his idle and unproductive neighbor. * * * It might be asked of us, what is the remedy for the existing condition of the liquor traffic, and how are we going to effect a reform in our present system of laws for its control? * * * We would, in the words of an eminent divine, caution against prohibition as a dangerous policy of oppression, not only as being impracticable but impossible of accomplishment, and recommend a measure of restriction in the traffic under such limitations as may be defined by an equitable law that is framed in consonance with that humanity that will not brook any unreasonable restraint put upon one's natural desire for food and drink."

Mr. Tierney concluded by calling the attention of his hearers to the fact that they were allowing themselves to be deluded into the belief that the hotel keeper is not the point of attack in the warfare of the prohibitionist against the sale of liquor, and urged them to unite for self-defense before the prohibition movement had attained any greater impetus.

The exhibition prepared by the International Hotel Supply Men was a credit to this age of artistic achievement, and filled with wonder many of the hotel men from smaller towns, where the needs and demands of the metropolis are neither felt nor known. There were sixty-seven exhibitors, and the beautiful display made by The Gorham Co. of this City is worthy of special mention. It contained everything possible in table silver for hotel use, and many novelties such as the most fastidious diner would delight in; among these were casserole mold frames, oyster cocktail plates, café parfait stands, bowls to hold and keep warm preserved fruits, caviar dishes, etc., etc.

The hotel men of Saratoga Springs planned and carried out to perfection a most elaborate programme for the entertainment of the visiting hotel men and their families, and throughout the five days of the reunion there was one continuous round of pleasure inter-persed with the business sessions. Each day had its special luncheon, banquet and evening reception, and the afternoon trips included a visit to Saratoga Lake, a sail around Lake George, and a reception by the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Rensselaer, Troy.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Aldrich Court—41 Broadway. This formed the site of the first habitation of white men on Manhattan Island; was also the site of the second residence of Washington. Tablet: "This tablet marks the site of the first habitation of white men on the Island of Manhattan. Adrian Block, Commander of the Tiger, erected here four houses or huts, November, 1613. He built the Restless, the first vessel made by Europeans in this country. The Restless was launched in the spring of 1614. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Boreel Building—115 B'way. This site was formerly occupied by the residence of Lieutenant-Governor James DeLancey; after his death it was turned into a public house, known under a number of names, the most famous being "Burns' Coffee House." It was here the non-importation act was signed, also Washington's inaugural ball was held in the so-called "great room." During the year 1793 the building was torn down and a "City Hotel" was erected by a number of New York merchants. Tablet: "The site of the old historical DeLancey House, afterward the 'City Hotel.' The tavern located here had various proprietors, by whose names it was successively called, being, among others, known as 'The Province Arms,' 'The City Arms,' and 'Burns' Coffee House or Tavern.' It was here that the celebrated non-importation agreement in opposition to the 'Stamp Act' was signed October 31, 1765. Erected by the Holland Society of New York, March, 1890."

Church of the Messiah—Park ave. and 34th st. This site once formed the estate of Robert Murray, the "Quaker Merchant of the Revolution," and was called "Inclenberg," and became historic through the diplomacy of Mrs. Murray in detaining the British officers, Clinton, Howe and Cornwallis, while Putnam and his troops, on their retreat to Harlem, guided by Aaron Burr, passed within a mile of the house.

Fort Amsterdam—This site is now occupied by the new Custom House Building, and another portion occupied by the Cunard Building, 29 Broadway. Tablet: "The site of Fort Amsterdam, built in 1626. Within the fortifications was erected the first substantial church edifice on the Island of Manhattan. In 1787 the fort was demolished and the Government House built upon this site. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Mercantile Library—Astor Place. Founded in 1820. This is the principal circulating library in the city; was first located at 49 Fulton street and afterward moved to Clinton Hall, corner Nassau and Beekman streets, where it remained until transferred to the Astor Place Opera House, which was renamed the new Clinton Hall. This building was demolished in 1890, and the present building erected on its site.

New York Historical Society—Second ave. and 11th st. This building contains a large and valuable collection of historical curiosities. The society was organized in 1804 for the collection and preservation of everything relating to the natural, civil and ecclesiastical history of the United States in general and New York in particular.

Windsor Arcade—571 Fifth ave. This was the site of the Windsor Hotel which was destroyed by fire March 17, 1899, at which about fifty lives were lost.

West Washington Market—Located at the foot of West 12th st., but was formerly extending along West st., on the river side to the market. It is here that all early fruits and vegetables from Bermuda Islands are received, and it has been estimated that during the peach season from 50,000 to 100,000 baskets are received daily.

ART NOTES

Metropolitan Museum of Art—Fifth ave., opposite 82d st. Open every weekday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., Saturday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Free, except on Monday and Friday, when a fee of 25 cents is charged. In the Room of Recent Accessions are two portraits of Saint Gaudens, by Kenyon Cox and Ellen Emmet; "A Lady in Black and Green," by J. W. Alexander; a pastel portrait of Albert Gallatin, by James Sharples, the gift of Miss Josephine L. Stevens. A cassone font, Umbrian school (about 1500) presented by James Loeb. Six landscapes by Hirohogo, two landscapes by Kawabata, Gyokusho and other Japanese paintings, the gift of Francis Lathon. A plaster copy of "Dying Clytie," by George Watts. American Museum of Natural History—Central Park West and 77th st.; rare and valuable acquisition of a collection of weapons for warfare and the chase, fashioned and used by the Veddahs, or "Hunters," a savage people of Ceylon, representing the Yakkos of Sanscrit writers, who are believed to have been true aborigines and sole inhabitants of the island before the Hindu conquest.

AVARICE

Avarice is an incurable malady, an ever burning fire, a tyranny which extends far and wide, for he who in this life is the slave of money is loaded with heavy chains and destined to carry far heavier chains in the life to come.—St. John Chrysostom.

THE CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION

No. 1 East 29th st., the Rev. George Clarke Houghton, D.D., rector, was organized in 1848 and the church was built in 1850, the first church of its name in the world. The building is now five times the size of the "little church" of those days. In the draft riots of the Civil War in 1864 a very large number of colored people were driven from their tenements and would have been killed had they not found refuge in the church and the rector stood guard over them and single-handed kept the mob away until the soldiers dispersed the rioters. In 1870 George Holland, one of the most prominent actors of his day, died, and when Joe Jefferson applied to a small church on Madison ave. for Holland's burial the rector of that church declined to perform the burial rites because Holland was an actor, and told Joe Jefferson that there was "a little church around the corner where it might be done," referring to this Church of the Transfiguration, which seats 1,200 people. Jefferson's prompt reply was: "God bless the little church around the corner," and that name has clung with affection to this church ever since. Thousands of actors, and others among the most prominent people of this city and State have been married and buried from the church. The church is open every day in the year from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., and between three and five hundred visitors go to see the church every day. There is a visitor's book for names in the vestibule, and among the thirty thousand persons who have signed that register during the past six years are Princes and Dukes and other members of royal families of Europe and some of the most noted people of this and foreign countries. There is a tiny, but very beautiful "Lady Chapel" with superb glass windows and a beautiful Marble Altar, and charming oil paintings adorn the ceiling. The Holy Sacrament is kept in the Chapel with a sanctuary lamp always burning in front of it, and very many people kneel there every day to say their prayers. The most beautiful mortuary chapel in America, a Memorial of the first Rector, is just completed, and here the bodies of not only members of this parish, but of any creed may be brought and remain to the day of their burial, if their families have no home or other suitable place to take them to, and there is no charge or fee for this or for any ministration of the Rector or clergy. A very large number of persons are baptized in this church, but the rector won't marry any one whose parents or guardians are not with them or at least give their consent to the wedding.

The Rector has refused as many as one hundred couples in one month. The very poor as well as the more favored people attend the Sunday and week day services, and visitors, whether strangers, frequent comers, poor or rich, are always made welcome. Persons of great prominence in this country come here for the Sacraments and other ministrations, as well as the humblest people. There are more than 2,000 communicants, and the church is filled every Sunday, Summer and Winter. There is a large vested choir of men and boys, and seven services are held every Sunday and from three to five services every week day in the year. Many persons say that there is no better music in New York than the music rendered by the choir in this church. Dr. Houghton is the Rector and may be found in the church every day all the year round. The church is full of beautiful memorials and the Verger will explain them all to visitors; no fee is charged for his services. The "Lychgate" at the entrance is one of the very few to be found in America, and here the bodies of the dead, brought to the church for burial, rest for a moment for a prayer before taken into the church for the last rites.

G. C. HOUGHTON.

SHORT TALKS

For walking or traveling costumes the leading dressmakers have shown great ingenuity in the combination of stripes and plain check of the shepherds' plaid order.

One of which the description is now given, the stripes are three inches wide so that the skirt, which is mounted in folds of precisely that width, stitched down to the extent of about half a yard, shows in the upper portion the plain or the check-stripe only while the lower part, where the pleats, being no longer confined, expand freely, exhibiting both the plain and fancy portions of the fabric.

The new straight-back jacket introduced in the early spring may be regarded as the one in vogue at the moment. The cut is peculiar, illustrating the straight line not only in front, but in the back, where it is, even more accentuated. From the shoulders—'tho being of a semi-fitting order—the garment stands off from the figure the entire length of the centre back seam, while the basque is slantingly rounded in front.

Black lace dresses are decidedly in favor. They are worn over self-colored or contrasting taffeta skirts, the lace having a very deep band foot trimming of satin or messaline the color of the underrobe.

Chiffon costumes are hung over satin foundations which are weighted at the hem. Petticoats are discarded and either silk or lisle Knickerbockers are worn. With the narrow cut and trailing weight walking is rather difficult.

We can safely predict there will be a radical change in the styles this fall. For instance the Japanese sleeve will entirely disappear, and with it the full cut sleeve and loose blouse bodice. The figure will be perfectly outlined. Sleeves full length and tight, finished with deep frills over the hands; high, tight collars, and tight skirts.

A new buckle idea for the low-cut shoe is one that can be pinned on, after the shoe is tied with the wide silk laces. The buckle is pinned on, also through those with a bow. They are made of gold plate or gilt and oxidised silver. Some of the designs have a simulated tongue, giving the full effect of a buckle when placed on the shoe; others are plain, on which the initials can be engraved.

An improvement on the pump (which is really a slipper) is the way of keeping it on the feet. The old-fashioned manner was to grip the toes and depend on the counter for help. Now its fitting quality as well as comfort is improved by the use of elastic in front or with one eyelet tie.

The "Colonial," so much admired and worn by women, had for its model a full length portrait of George Washington. The buckle and tongue is the distinguishing feature from other low cut shoes. This is obtained by the extension of the vamp upward into the flaring tongue, across which an ornamental buckle fastens.

Indications are that satins will enjoy quite a vogue next fall and winter.

Since the opening of wash dresses in the early spring there has been a decided growing interest in the tailored cotton suit. They are "natty" and a strong feature to recommend them is the low price. They are found in printed and woven patterns giving the effect of woolen goods as well as colors and white. The greatest novelty is the black linen, which has a distinctive stylish appearance.

During the mid-summer it has been the custom for manufacturers to spring a novelty on the public. This season it is the tailored wash maline waist, also the strictly tailored net waist without any trimming; it is a question whether these plain and severe waists will meet with general favor. The popular taste is pretty sure to want showy and a good deal for their money.

A simple remedy to tighten the sewing machine belt is to put a drop of machine oil on it, turn the wheel rapidly several times, then proceed with your sewing—the difficulty is overcome.

MADAME ROBERTA.

"THE MIMIC WORLD" AT THE CASINO

At the beginning of the programme we are told that the management makes no pretense at plot, but simply strives to amuse, with a musical review of some of the successes of the current season, and this statement explains the show fully. "The Mimic World" is a series of skits covering some prominent incident or satirizing some character in "Father and the Boys," "The Witching Hour," "The Honor of the Family," "The Yankee Prince," "Lord Dundreary," "Nearly a Hero," "Girls," and "The Merry Widow."

Roy Atwell gives a clever impersonation of E. H. Sothern in "Lord Dundreary," and Will West as Colonel Brideau, pictures true to life Otis Skinner as he appears in "The Honor of the Family." The Review introduces us to a young prodigy, Seymour Felix, who imitates remarkably well George Cohan's peculiarities of manner and dancing. A burlesque on the opening scene in "Girls," presents a picture of a comfortless furnished room occupied by three men supposed to be woman-haters, and in this a janitress who makes things generally miserable for the tenants of the house, plays a prominent part.

There is a future worth working for in store for the dancer who impersonates Mlle. Genée; her make-up is perfect and her dancing delightful, and if she can create for herself a personality as charming as the one she here portrays, her talent cannot fail to win recognition, and a handsome recompense must necessarily follow.

FRANK THORNTON.

It is not blessedness to know that thou thyself alone are blessed.
—Wisdom of the Brahmins.

Male firmness is very often obstinacy. Women have always something better, worth all qualities. They have tact.—Lord Beaconsfield.

DOMESTIC ENGINEERING

Domestic engineering is such a good word combination that I am glad I thought of it. It is unquestionably true that all kinds of engineering, scientifically considered, are inferior in importance to this branch of the world's work. Even the millennium which is said to be headed this way will not arrive till the science of domestic engineering is as well understood as—well, as civil engineering or electrical engineering or any other of the involved sciences that require in the understanding years of application and plenty of capacity.

Domestic engineering would be a fine name for a chair in a great university; and every student should take the course. It means the family in every relation; it means the heart of the family; the ethics, management, development and success of the family worked out on scientific principles, without groping or floundering or grappling, but according to courtesy and honor and the suggestions outlined in the Ten Commandments. It means the Sunday law and the servant problem, intemperance, the mother-in-law and how to avoid the family skeleton.

"Domestic Science" is supposed to comprehend the whole subject of home-making; but it doesn't. Engineering is an action word, and implies a constant forging ahead. When a family must be conducted through time to eternity there must be a right way to do it. It is this right way that must be taught clearly to students of this branch of science. Surely one person in each family should be intelligent on the subject.

The home and how to make it; how to keep it; how to be happy in it; the relation of each member of the family to it and to each other from the youngest to the oldest. Domestic engineering must bear upon each one of these issues. We have had all the material side of home making; we know how it is that everyone must have good food to eat and pretty things to wear; a comfortable chair to sit in and a bright light to read by; clean linen and clean water; we know that order is heaven's first law, and that cleanliness is next to godliness; we also know the application of innumerable rules, but there is still the Spirit of the family relation. We want to know all about that.

To the student in every science there constantly arise new and difficult complications—problems that seem in their premises to contradict, defy and challenge; all waiting to be solved, straightened out, disentangled. Domestic engineering has all these features to entitle it to classify in high place, and to entitle it to the name of an undiscovered science.

The only rule we have had thus far to help us with our problems is an exceedingly vague application of the law of love known as the Golden Rule. What we want to know is how to apply this law to every circumstance and combination of them, so that it will not fail. There must be a way. We want to learn how to love our mother-in-law, and to have her love us; how to soothe the disappointed and the grouchy; we want to know how to make the home run so smoothly that every one in the family will run after it and fight for it instead of fighting with those in it; and often running away from it.

There must be rules. Where are they?

Return charge when dismissed north of 155th Street or outside the Borough of Manhattan, for each mile or fraction to Times Square (minimum charge $1) - 20 cts.
Trunk - - - - - 20 cts.

All ferriage and bridge tolls, both going and returning, must be paid by the passenger. If the taximeter is out of order, fare will be charged at regular legal rates.

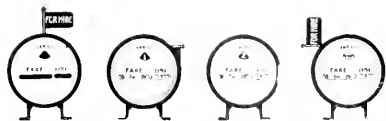

RATES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

INFORMATION FOR PASSENGERS

1. HOW THE TAXAMETER WORKS. When the flag is lowered 30 cents will appear under the word "Fare," and this pays for the use of the cab until service to that amount, either in driving or in waiting, has been rendered. The indicator will register thereafter ten cents for each quarter mile, or each fraction of an hour waiting. This charge is for the exact distance traveled and the exact waiting time consumed, which are automatically measured by the taximeter and over which the driver has no control.

The "extra" charges called for by the service are registered by the driver and shown under the word "Extras."

For Hire      Tariff 1      Tariff 2      Payment

The driver is charged with all amounts registered and is not permitted to make any reductions therefrom, but will, if required, give a receipt for the amount paid.

3. TO SECURE COMPLETE PROTECTION, observe (a) that the flag is lowered to Tariff 1 position at the beginning of the service and not before; (b) that the flag is maintained in that position during service; (c) that the flag is promptly brought to "Payment" position at the conclusion of the service and left there until the charge is settled.

4. IF THE CAB IS DISABLED, the service up to the disablement must be paid for.

5. A CAB REPORTING AT AN ADDRESS in response to an order is charged for from the time for which it was ordered.

6. A CAB ORDERED AND NOT USED must be paid for up to the time the driver is dismissed, including the charge for sending it.

7. THEATRE AND OTHER RETURNS. Waiting time and any necessary mileage will be charged for a vehicle held for a return call. Waiting time may be saved by dismissing the vehicle and placing a separate order for a vehicle for the return call, but the Company cannot guarantee to fill such return call unless it be given to and accepted by the starter at a station or stand. Under no conditions may a cab be held in waiting without charge.

8. IN CASE OF DISPUTE, passengers are requested to pay the full amount indicated and make claim to the Company, in writing, giving the hour, date, driver and cab number, number of passengers carried, distance travelled and waiting time consumed and wherein the charge is incorrect. Such claims will receive prompt and courteous attention.

9. THE ACCURACY OF THE TAXAMETER is insured by systematic inspection. Do not assume that a charge is incorrect without first computing all of the distance and all of the waiting time comprised in the service.

A NOBLE LIFE

The greatest good is accomplished by the example of a noble life.

In the passing away of Townsend Wandell on June 27th, at Bologna, Italy, where he was accidentally killed, the City of New York has lost a useful, respected and honored citizen, one who believed in and faithfully practiced the "golden rule." Although a man of means, he was modest, always thoughtful of others and ever ready to help a worthy cause.

Lowell well said: "Be noble; and the nobleness that lies in other men, sleeping, but never dead, will rise in majesty to meet thine own."

Mr. Wandell will be greatly missed by his bereaved family, his friends, business associates, and all who knew him, for everyone loved and respected him. They could not help loving him for he was true, honest and just. He had a kind word for everyone, and his wise counsel and advice was appreciated. Yes, the world is better for having known Mr. Wandell, and although his self-sacrificing earthly career is ended, his pure, upright example will live, and inspire others for good.

Townsend Wandell was born in New York City, sixty-seven years ago. His father was Judge Benjamin Coe Wandell. He attended the New York Free Academy, which became the College of the City of New York, where he graduated with high honors. He also graduated from the Law School of Columbia College, from which he received the degree of LL.B. He was admitted to the bar, and has practiced law in New York since 1865. He was always steadfast in his purpose, upright and trustworthy, and these sterling qualities gained for him many clients, who placed the entire charge of their estates in his hands, because they knew that he could be depended upon for a just and accurate accounting of every dollar.

Mr. Wandell was a member of the Union League Club, the Sons of The Revolution, the Holland Society, the St. Nicholas Society, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the New York Historical Society, New York Biographical and Genealogical Society, Phi Beta Kappa, Delta Kappa Epsilon, the Dwight Alumni Association and the Columbia Law School Alumni. He was trustee and manager of the New York City Church Extension and Missionary Society of the Methodist Church, and manager of the New York Deaconess Home and Training School.

J. S. VOORHEES.

A man or a woman in tolerable health has no moral right to indulge in an unpleasant mood, nor to depend upon moods for the performance of the duties of life.—J. G. Holland.

Tact is the knack of keeping quiet at the right time; of being so agreeable yourself that no one can be disagreeable to you; of making inferiority feel like equality.—George Horace Lorimer.

THE TRUTH

In these hot days when the rapid evaporation of perspiration from the skin causes thirst almost maddening, those who fly to ice-cream sodas, beverages with "sticks" in them and beverages without sticks, but reeking with sugar, only to absorb what adds to their discomfort, would really quench that thirst if they simply drank pure Herbo Nervo Egg Phosphate, Herbo Nervo Fruitade, Herbo Nervo Orangeade, Herbo Nervo Raspberryyade, Herbo Nervo Currantade, without sugar, and persist until he learns to like the effects. Never after will he like any thing but the natural herbs for the nerves, mixed with the pure fruit juices,— or plain,—which cannot be improved upon.

Besides its cooling and stimulating properties, fruit juice is a germ killer, and Herbo Nervo is a tissue and nerve-builder; which bring me back to first principles—herbs and fruit juices for hot days, without much sugar, and ad libitum.

- Conservatories—Central Park, opposite East 105th. Choice plants. Free. Hours, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Ellis Island—U. S. Immigrant Station. All immigrants arriving at this port are landed on Ellis Island before being permitted to enter the country, where they are carefully examined as to physical, financial and moral condition. Many thousands are handled in a single day (the estimated number for the year 1905 was 800,000). The process is most interesting and instructive and visitors are permitted to visit all parts of the extensive buildings, and can with facility inspect the operation of the system for excluding undesirable aliens, and caring for and forwarding those who are admitted. Free. No. pass required. Boats from Battery (Barge Office), hourly, on the hour, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.
- East River—Follows the eastern portion of the city and separates it from Long Island. From Coenties Slip to Maiden Lane, along its shores, may be seen many interesting sights in connection with this city's great shipping industry.
- Fire-boats—The "New Yorker" is the name of the largest and best equipped fire-boat in the service of the New York fire department. There are also six others connected with the department. Their stations are as follows: "New Yorker" at the Battery; "Wm. L. Strong," foot of Grand st., East River; "David A. Boody," foot of North 8th st., Brooklyn; "Abram S. Hewitt," foot of Main st., Brooklyn; "Seth Low," foot of 42d st., Brooklyn; "D. O. Mills," East 133d st. and Harlem River; "George B. McClellan," foot of Gansevoort st.
- "Flatiron" Building—Broadway and 5th ave., 22d and 23d sts.
- Five Points—Formerly consisted of squalid rookeries and drinking places, located in the neighborhood of Worth, Baxter and Park streets. In this locality many notorious crimes were committed.

- Hamilton Grange—Convent ave., near 141st. Home of Alexander Hamilton when shot in duel by Aaron Burr.
- Ludlow Street Jail—Located at Ludlow and Essex streets, near Grand. In former days persons arrested for debt, under the old law, were kept here; now persons arrested for violation of United States law are incarcerated within its walls.
- Marble Collegiate Church—Fifth ave. and 29th st. The Collegiate Reformed Church of New York is the oldest Protestant church in America, having had a complete and continuous organization since the summer of A. D. 1628. The Rev. Jonas Michaelins was its first minister, who was sent to New Amsterdam on the Island of Manhatas by the Classis of Amsterdam in Holland. As its name conveys, the Collegiate Church is a group of churches. The Marble Collegiate Church is the tenth in historical succession of the sanctuaries of the Collegiate Church.
- Old Jewish Cemetery—Located on New Bowery, near Oliver st. One of the oldest burial places in the city, and established during the time of Peter Stuyvesant. Another cemetery, or "Place of Rest," can be found in Twenty-first street, west of Sixth ave.
- Players' Club—Presented to actors and friends of the drama by Edwin Booth, at a cost to him of more than $200,000. Located at 16 Gramercy Park. Formally opened in the year 1888, on New Year's Eve.
- Riverside Drive—From West 72d st., north to 134th st. Overlooks the Hudson.
- Salvation Army—This organization gives yearly a Christmas dinner to over 20,000 poor at Madison Square Garden. Headquarters located at 120 West 14th st. Many branches are maintained in various other parts of the city.

Metropolitan Museum of Art—

Fifth ave., opposite 82d st. Open every weekday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., Saturday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Free, except on Monday and Friday, when a fee of 25 cents is charged. In the Room of Recent Accessions are two portraits of Saint Gaudens, by Kenyon Cox and Ellen Emmet; "A Lady in Black and Green," by J. W. Alexander; a pastel portrait of Albert Gallatin, by James Sharples, the gift of Miss Josephine L. Stevens. A case-note font, Umbrian school (about 1500) presented by James Loeb. Six landscapes by Hirohogo, two landscapes by Kawabata, Gyokusho and other Japanese paintings, the gift of Francis Lathon. A plaster copy of "Dying Clytie," by George Watts. American Museum of Natural History—Central Park West and 77th st.; rare and valuable acquisition of a collection of weapons for warfare and the chase, fashioned and used by the Veddahs, or "Hunters," a savage people of Ceylon, representing the Yakkos of Sanscrit writers, who are believed to have been true aborigines and sole inhabitants of the island before the Hindu conquest.

There are some very pretty women who don't understand the law of the road with regard to handsome faces. Nature and custom agree in conceding to all males the right of at least two distinct looks at every comely female countenance, without any infraction of courtesy or the sentiment of respect.—Holmes.

SHORT TALKS

When one looks calmly and without undue excitement at the Sheath Skirt, at which even Paris claims to be shocked, we find it is only an exaggerated expression of the close draped and circular cut skirts, the model of which will be the standard in the fall.

The vogue for black satin and black Crêpe de Chine, as shown by the fashionables at Newport, Bar Harbor, etc., tends to confirm the prediction they will be worn extensively this fall. They appear not only at ceremonious occasions, but in simple dresses with short skirts for street wear. The design most approved is of the simplest possible type, the skirts sheath-fitting, the waistline high, the sleeves small and long and the collars either one extreme or the other, that is, very high and boned in sharp points at the back, or finished without any collar. By the way, the collarless dress is quite a fad in Paris, and is worn with the big hats that sits well down on the head.

The Sash which made its appearance on the classic dress is creeping strongly into favor for both dressy and simple costumes. In the shops they are usually of Satin with deep heavy fringes in self tone, to be worn with dresses of all kinds. In fact, the sash is worn even with the suit coat wrapped about the figure outside of the jacket.

Very simple but pretty trimmings for suits of the tailor order are bands, four or five inches wide, placed chevron-wise, in other words, forming V's, placed horizontally, the points meeting in the center of the band. The folds follow one on the other meeting in the center of the band.

For the Summer Home particularly are the flowered cretonnes. One design was evidently copied from the varnished chintz of our grandmothers' day. Among the many articles which go to beautify the home and give it the sense of freshness are entire bedroom sets, coverings for sitting-room and library furniture. There are also pretty pillow slips, waste paper baskets, picture frames, and other novelties.

It is an accepted fact that the summer guest, whether he be cottager, hotel guest, or sojourning at a modest boarding house, must do his part for the Bazaar, the proceeds of which are devoted to the maintenance of the "Little Church in the Woods." Araminta, when she returns to the city, will keep this object in view when shopping and will pick up pretty things, which look doubly pretty when displayed daintily on the Bazaar table. She will have with her remnants of ribbon and silk which her deft hands will fashion into attractive and useful articles. "A good seller," she will show you is a work bag. Take a dinner plate and lay it on a piece of brown paper, outline it with a pencil, cut it out. Now we have the pattern for our bag. Take two pieces of silk and cut them by the pattern, lay them together, baste carefully and scallop the edge. Have rings, which we cover with crocheted; these we sew on the scalloped edge an inch apart, then run through two silk cords, draw the cord and there is the bag. A pretty floral design lined with white or color makes up well.

At the Art Counter can be found stamped and colored designs on linen and felt for pen wipers and needle cases to be outlined, the leaves for the pen wiper of chamouis and the needle book of flannel which can be pinked or scalloped. The coverings are only 5 cents; when made up always find purchasers.

String Ties only require a yard of inch wide velvet ribbon. Fasten at the back with small hooks and eyes, a Tom Thumb bow in front, the long ends finished with brass bullet buttons. A variety of colors made up will attract buyers.

MADAME ROBERTA.

SHEEP

There are sheep grazing on the hillside, making a picture which my window frames effectively. It is a summer scene, a landscape which only the brush of a master could transfer to canvas. The sunlight on the green of the fields, a few elms, fleecy clouds veiling the blue o'erhead, and the placid, contented sheep as motionless as a still life study. There are lambs in the flock, lambs that appeal to you because they are so gentle and woolly and helpless, and it must come as a distinct shock that they find their only field of usefulness on the platter served with peas and mint sauce. The material intrudes on the ideal.

Tending sheep was a very popular vocation in Bible times in the countries the Bible tells about, and many of the best people written about in the Bible tended sheep and were not ashamed of the calling. Times were slower then than they are now, but even at that time there could have been no special excitement about it, unless one of the sheep should stray away from the fold, or a wolf should visit the flock. Shepherds must certainly have had standing recognized in High place, for the angel messenger bearing tidings of the Christ child appeared first to shepherds who watched their flocks by night, bringing the wonderful Christmas greeting of love and peace which we work up in evergreen letters around holiday time. Shepherds figure in the strongest metaphor of the Bible, and David tended the sheep before he was called to be the king and to establish the greatest dynasty of history.

Sheep are such quiet, stupid creatures—just like the duties of one's everyday life, and duties like sheep are all very much alike. Your sheep are much the same as mine, the only difference is in the shepherd. You may be the better shepherd because you neglect none of yours, and in the heat of summer and the cold of winter are always at your post, never failing in vigilance and caution, living up the responsibility of every hour.

There must be rewards to shepherds who tend their sheep faithfully when they long to be doing something else; who see their days gliding swiftly by and no glory attending their effort; shepherds who like David hear the bugle call to war, and scent the battlesmoke, and long to desert the stupid old sheep—and yet stand by them. Yes, there must come a reward sometime. Make no mistake about that.

David played on the harp while he tended the flock, signifying his good cheer, patience and content with his employment. Afterward he wrote the Psalms that are chanted in church on Sundays, and are used also for responsive reading, and are full of that personal element that reminds you of your own affairs, your enemies and your sure triumph over them, and contain gratifying statements that thrill you, and give you a sense of security you dare not mention.

All weary shepherds should take new courage when they consider what David had in store for him. The quiet years uneventful and dragging contained the discipline and the development he required for the demands of later years. Even the fidelity to his task, and the courage with which he resisted temptation when some one said to him that he was wasting his time, were part of the discipline that strengthened and prepared him for his great future.

The sheep on the hillside make a picture which my window frames effectively.

HARVOT HOLT DEY.

When people bore you be not swift their dullness to condemn—
For, ten to one, the chances are they think that you bore them.—

A FEW FERRY TRIPS

A trip on the ferry from the foot of West 23rd st. across to Jersey, taking the Annex to Fulton st., Brooklyn, and return, gives one a pleasant sail of a couple of hours and a view of the "skyscrapers," the Battery, Statue of Liberty and Brooklyn Bridge, at a small cost.

Another trip may be made from foot of East 42nd st., down the East River to Broadway, Brooklyn, taking boat from there to foot of Roosevelt st., Manhattan, at adjoining slip, and return.

Still another trip may be taken by taking the ferry at foot of Franklin st., North River, to Weehawken, thence by trolley to Fourteenth st., Hoboken, changing there to the Washington st. car for Hoboken ferry, across to the foot of West 23rd st., Christopher or Barclay st., New York.

A ferry trip that almost circumnavigates Manhattan Island can be made by taking boat at foot of Fulton st., East River, across to Brooklyn. Take Annex (slip next to Fulton ferry) and go to Jersey City; take Pennsylvania ferry to West 23rd st. At 23rd st. take car to 42nd st. Take ferry at foot of West 42nd st. for Weehawken. Take trolley from Weehawken to Fort Lee, where another car must be taken to Edgewater, at which point take ferry to 130th st., Manhattan. Take a trolley across town to East 99th st., walk to the river from the car and take ferry, which will carry you through Hell Gate and into the Sound to College Point. From College Point take trolley to Long Island City and to Astoria. Take ferry to East 92nd st. From here take Second ave. trolley to East 42nd st. ferry, down the East River to Broadway, Brooklyn. Take boat at adjoining slip to Roosevelt st., Manhattan, and you are back almost to the starting point.

If a man stumbles and falls, lift him up; help him to his feet. But if he lies down, don't carry him."—Theodore Roosevelt.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

DID YOU KNOW IN THE YEAR

- 1865—That the surrender of General Lee and the Confederate Army caused great excitement and rejoicing. About one week from this time President Lincoln was assassinated while in a box at the theater in Washington. His body was laid in state in the City Hall, and was viewed by the sorrowing multitude.
- 1867—That the Ninth Avenue Elevated opened a short section as an experiment. That in January a bridge of ice formed in the East River between New York and Brooklyn. It is estimated that five thousand persons crossed over it.
- 1868—That a part of an underground railway was built under Broadway, near City Hall, but was abandoned for lack of funds.
- 1869—That the American Museum of Natural History, now located at 77th st., Central Park West, was incorporated. That the telegraph messenger service was organized.
- 1870—That the Metropolitan Museum of Art received its charter.
- 1872—That there was appointed a committee of seventy to investigate the Tweed Ring and to bring those criminals to justice.
- 1873—That the city charter was amended, and many important modifications were made on previous enactments. That there was a panic of unusual severity which effected the business interests very seriously. That the annexing of Morrisania, West Farms and Kingsbridge nearly doubled the area of the city.
- 1875—That six millions of dollars was expended to improve Fourth avenue; this expense was shared equally by the New York Central Railroad Company and the city.
- 1876—That a World's Fair was held at Philadelphia in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.
- 1878—That electric arc lamps were used to light the streets.
- 1879—That the Central Station telephone service was put in operation.
- 1880—That there were completed and in operation four elevated railroad lines.
- 1881—That it was estimated that there were being published over four hundred and forty newspapers. That incandescent lamp service was in operation. That President Garfield was assassinated in Washington.
- 1883—That the East River or Brooklyn Bridge was open to the public. That the statue of Washington, now standing upon the steps of the Sub-Treasury Building located in Wall street, was presented to the United States Government by the New York Chamber of Commerce, on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the British evacuation of New York.
- 1888—That a subway plan by Mayor Hewitt failed to pass the Legislature. That the city was visited by a blizzard of wind and snow and that for several days shut off all communication with the surrounding country; all traffic was at a standstill, which resulted in great suffering and many deaths.
- 1889—That for over three days the city was given up to patriotic display as a commemoration of the first inauguration of a President of the United States. It is estimated that over three million strangers visited the city during this time which was known as the "Columbus" celebration.
- 1890—That the United States census reported that the population of the city was estimated over 1,515,000. That Mayor Hugh J. Grant appointed a Commission to report on a route for a subway between City Hall and Harlem. That the New York Central Railroad closed transportation over that route for several days on account of a "strike" by the engineers.
- 1891—That plans were made for an East Side tunnel but were abandoned. That a cable railroad was laid from Battery to Central Park

LONG ISLAND TRIPS

Nearly all the trolley trips of Long Island start from the New York end of Brooklyn Bridge.

To reach Belmont Park by trolley take "L" road from New York end of Brooklyn Bridge to Jamaica; at Jamaica take trolley for Queens, which is close to Belmont Park.

From Queens a trolley may be taken to Hempstead and on to Garden City and Mineola by a branch line.

One of the most picturesque of Long Island trolley trips is from Flushing to Rockaway Park, a distance of a little over twenty-two miles, taking an hour and a half. On the road one touches Ingleside, Queens Borough Heights, Garrison's Lane, Jamaica, Springfield Lawrence, Inwood, Far Rockaway, Edgemere, Arverne, Hammels, Hollands and Rockaway Beach.

To reach Flushing take ferry to Long Island City, thence by trolley to Flushing.

"Trade is occupation for a livelihood, profession is occupation for service of the world."—President Faunce of Brown University.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Aldrich Court—41 Broadway. This formed the site of the first habitation of white men on Manhattan Island; was also the site of the second residence of Washington. Tablet: "This tablet marks the site of the first habitation of white men on the Island of Manhattan. Adrian Block, Commander of the Tiger, erected here four houses or huts, November, 1613. He built the Restless, the first vessel made by Europeans in this country. The Restless was launched in the spring of 1614. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Boreel Building—115 B'way. This site was formerly occupied by the residence of Lieutenant-Governor James DeLancey; after his death it was turned into a public house, known under a number of names, the most famous being "Burns' Coffee House." It was here the non-importation act was signed, also Washington's inaugural ball was held in the so-called "great room." During the year 1793 the building was torn down and a "City Hotel" was erected by a number of New York merchants. Tablet: "The site of the old historical DeLancey House, afterward the 'City Hotel.' The tavern located here had various proprietors, by whose names it was successively called, being, among others, known as 'The Province Arms,' 'The City Arms,' and 'Burns' Coffee House or Tavern.' It was here that the celebrated non-importation agreement in opposition to the 'Stamp Act' was signed October 31, 1765. Erected by the Holland Society of New York, March, 1890."

Church of the Messiah—Park ave. and 34th st. This site once formed the estate of Robert Murray, the "Quaker Merchant of the Revolution," and was called "Inclenberg," and became historic through the diplomacy of Mrs. Murray in detaining the British officers, Clinton, Howe and Cornwallis, while Putnam and his troops, on their retreat to Harlem, guided by Aaron Burr, passed within a mile of the house.

Fort Amsterdam—This site is now occupied by the new Custom House Building, and another portion occupied by the Cunard Building, 29 Broadway. Tablet: "The site of Fort Amsterdam, built in 1626. Within the fortifications was erected the first substantial church edifice on the Island of Manhattan. In 1787 the fort was demolished and the Government House built upon this site. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Mercantile Library—Astor Place. Founded in 1820. This is the principal circulating library in the city; was first located at 49 Fulton street and afterward moved to Clinton Hall, corner Nassau and Beekman streets, where it remained until transferred to the Astor Place Opera House, which was renamed the new Clinton Hall. This building was demolished in 1890, and the present building erected on its site.

New York Historical Society—Second ave. and 11th st. This building contains a large and valuable collection of historical curiosities. The society was organized in 1804 for the collection and preservation of everything relating to the natural, civil and ecclesiastical history of the United States in general and New York in particular.

Windsor Arcade—571 Fifth ave. This was the site of the Windsor Hotel which was destroyed by fire March 17, 1899, at which about fifty lives were lost.

West Washington Market—Located at the foot of West 12th st., but was formerly extending along West st., on the river side to the market. It is here that all early fruits and vegetables from Bermuda Islands are received, and it has been estimated that during the peach season from 50,000 to 100,000 baskets are received daily.

THE MOTHERLY FACE

The motherly face isn't written about, nor pictured in fashion plates, nor carved in marble, nor even affected by anybody. But it has appeared in an advertisement. A New Hampshire military academy advertises the face of a motherly looking woman, and announces this woman to be its star attraction. Now this is a novelty, as you will all agree.

This is the time of year when all the academies and other halls of learning place their advertisements in the magazines. The announcements resemble each other, all are dignified and conservative, save now and then one which prints the picture of its buildings, or its campus, or its trees, or possibly the face of a splendid boy, to indicate the kind of boys that are turned out of this particular school. But this military academy in New Hampshire prints the picture of the face of a motherly woman with brown eyes, smooth hair parted in the middle, and wearing a gown appropriately selected from a May Manton pattern. It is a plain, good face and looks like your Aunt Hannah. The gown has a little gimp to outline the yoke, and is finished at the neck with a plain collar and a breastpin. The printed matter accompanying the picture states that this is the school mother. You just naturally like her looks, and if you have a boy to place in school this fall you are sure to look twice at the picture, and mentally conclude that he would be safe with the original of that picture. She looks as if she could understand boys, and as if she had time to listen to their prayers. She has no pompadour requiring nocturnal curlpapers in its construction, and she needs no lady's maid since her dress does not button in the back. She doesn't look pretty, nor as if she expected to look pretty and was disappointed because she didn't. But she looks good, and as if she wore white aprons, and could mend a hole in a boy's stocking, and could hold him on her lap if his legs dragged the floor.

The motherly face is a good and great kind of a face to have. So few women have it. The most of us would rather look pretty.

Over on Randall's Island, that belongs to Father Knickerbocker, whose picture is in this magazine, there is a city building called the House of Refuge. City boys who make mistakes are sent there. There are fine large buildings and plenty of green grass there, but it isn't a nice place to live—that is—for a boy to live in. The grass is not to roll on. The signs warn you to keep off. If you should happen over there about the supper hour you would see about 900 boys march in pairs to the supper room. They are not very big boys, that is, not too large to sit on a mother's lap, and as they march past you, in vain will you look for a boy with a responsive face. All are dull, stolid and unhappy, and reflect nothing.

Following them into Father Knickerbocker's supper room at the House of Refuge you will see hard tables, hard benches, hard faces, hard bread and prune sauce. Not much of a supper. Father Knickerbocker wouldn't be keen about it himself. At the end of each table stands armed guard.

If instead of the guard there should be a woman to stand at the head of each table—an Aunt Hannah in a white apron, and with a smile to half lubricate the bread so it wouldn't stick in a boy's throat, a woman who looked as if she believed in prayers and liked to say them, why—how pleasant that would be!!!

If there were a mother Knickerbocker it might be different.

HARRYOT HOLT DEY.

TAXAMETER—Motor Cab Service—Phone 2380 COLUMBUS

Telephone orders filled promptly day or night. Cabs are always in waiting at our various stands, or they may be hailed and engaged on the street. When the flag is displayed above the taximeter, it signifies that the cab is disengaged and can be hired.

REDUCED SUMMER RATES—EFFECTIVE JUNE FIRST—Tariff No. 1 (Red Indicator) Used Only.

First half-mile or fraction - - 30 cts.
Each quarter-mile thereafter - 10 cts.
Each six minutes waiting - - 10 cts.

This tariff applies to all vehicles and irrespective of the number of passengers carried except that for Hansoms, Coupes, Broughams and Victorias the charge for waiting time is 10 cts. for each TEN minutes or at the rate of ONLY SIXTY CENTS PER HOUR.

EXTRAS—All Vehicles

For ordering a cab, each mile or fraction thereof, from station or stand to point ordered 20 cts.

Return charge when dismissed north of 155th Street or outside the Borough of Manhattan, for each mile or fraction to Times Square (minimum charge $1) - 20 cts.
Trunk - - - - - 20 cts.

All ferriage and bridge tolls, both going and returning, must be paid by the passenger. If the taximeter is out of order, fare will be charged at regular legal rates.

RATES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

INFORMATION FOR PASSENGERS

1. HOW THE TAXAMETER WORKS. When the flag is lowered 30 cents will appear under the word "Fare," and this pays for the use of the cab until service to that amount, either in driving or in waiting, has been rendered. The indicator will register thereafter ten cents for each quarter mile, or each fraction of an hour waiting. This charge is for the exact distance traveled and the exact waiting time consumed, which are automatically measured by the taximeter and over which the driver has no control.

The "extra" charges called for by the service are registered by the driver and shown under the word "Extras."

2. THE AMOUNT TO BE PAID IS THE SUM OF THE AMOUNTS SHOWN UNDER "FARE" AND "EXTRAS." THERE ARE NO CHARGES EXCEPT THOSE INDICATED BY THE TAXAMETER.

The driver is charged with all amounts registered and is not permitted to make any reductions therefrom, but will, if required, give a receipt for the amount paid.

3. TO SECURE COMPLETE PROTECTION, observe (a) that the flag is lowered to Tariff 1 position at the beginning of the service and not before; (b) that the flag is maintained in that position during service; (c) that the flag is promptly brought to "Payment" position at the conclusion of the service and left there until the charge is settled.

4. IF THE CAB IS DISABLED, the service up to the disablement must be paid for.

5. A CAB REPORTING AT AN ADDRESS in response to an order is charged for from the time for which it was ordered.

6. A CAB ORDERED AND NOT USED must be paid for up to the time the driver is dismissed, including the charge for sending it.

7. THEATRE AND OTHER RETURNS. Waiting time and any necessary mileage will be charged for a vehicle held for a return call. Waiting time may be saved by dismissing the vehicle and placing a separate order for a vehicle for the return call, but the Company cannot guarantee to fill such return call unless it be given to and accepted by the starter at a station or stand. Under no conditions may a cab be held in waiting without charge.

8. IN CASE OF DISPUTE, passengers are requested to pay the full amount indicated and make claim to the Company, in writing, giving the hour, date, driver and cab number, number of passengers carried, distance travelled and waiting time consumed and wherein the charge is incorrect. Such claims will receive prompt and courteous attention.

9. THE ACCURACY OF THE TAXAMETER is insured by systematic inspection. Do not assume that a charge is incorrect without first computing all of the distance and all of the waiting time comprised in the service.

TOURING CARS, SIGHT-SEEING CARS, DOUBLE-DECK MOTOR BUSES, and Automobiles of every kind by the Hour, Day or Week—Rates on application.

GRANT'S TOMB

Grant's Tomb is located on Riverside Drive and 123d st. This may be reached by Sixth ave. and Amsterdam ave. car to 123d st., then walk west. Hours, 10 to 5 daily, including Sunday. No admission fee. This monument was designed by John H. Duncan, and is constructed of white granite from Maine, with marble interior, and from its commanding site overlooking the Hudson is very imposing. The structure is 90 feet on the side and 72 feet in height, with circular cupola and Ionic columns 70 feet in diameter. The dome rises 150 feet from the ground, the apex of the monument about 280 feet above the river; from the plaza facing the south side steps 70 feet wide ascend to the portico, which has double lines of Doric columns before the entrance and massive bronze doors; above the portico two sculptured figures by J. Massey Rhind, emblematic of Peace and War. On a panel are inscribed these words: "Let us have peace." (This was the concluding sentence of General Grant's letter accepting the nomination for the Presidency, May 29, 1868.)

The interior is 76 feet between the walls. The four great piers of the rotunda carry arches and are about 50 feet from the floor. The gallery is circular, supported by the arches, 40 feet in diameter; the dome about 105 feet above the floor. Sculptured reliefs by J. Massey Rhind represent Youth, Military Life, Civil Life and Death. In the small rooms surrounding the rotunda are stands of battle flags. Through the circular opening in the floor the sarcophagus is seen in the crypt directly beneath the centre of the dome. It is of red porphyry from Montello, Wis., and is supported on a pedestal of granite from Quincy, Mass. Upon the lid is the name, Ulysses S. Grant. The companion sarcophagus, an exact counterpart, both in material and design, was provided, it being the expressed wish of General Grant that Mrs. Grant should lie by his side.

General Grant died July 23, 1885, at Mount McGregor, N. Y. The funeral was the grandest pageant ever seen. The remains lay in state in the City Hall and was then conveyed to the temporary tomb. The procession was eight miles long and it was estimated that over a million people lined the route.

There were 90,000 contributors, and the fund, with interest, amounted to $600,000, and was raised by the Grant Monument Association. The corner-stone was laid April 27, 1892, by President Harrison. Sealed in it were copies of the Declaration of Independence, Constitution of the United States and Articles of Confederation, a Bible, the "Memoirs" of General Grant, an American flag, badges of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Loyal Legion, and a number of medals struck in United States mints in commemoration of events in General Grant's life.

PALLISER'S UP-TO-DATE HOUSE PLANS

A new book, containing 150 plans of houses costing from $500 to $18,000, which anyone thinking of building a house should have if they wish to save money and also get the latest and best ideas of a practical architect. 160 large octavo pages. Price, paper cover, $1.00. Sent by mail, postpaid to any address on receipt of price.

SHORT TALKS

One can scarcely restrain themselves from giving utterance to the gratitude they feel is the just due to the wearers of the pretty, cool and summery costumes seen on street and trolleys, not forgetting the convenient and delightful taximeter, this past torrid weather.

Without question the simple tailor-made dress of a cotton fabric has become a fad. The high-class stores on Fifth Avenue are selling the plainest sort of linen jumper dresses, in white and colors. The linen coat suit, known as the "Prince Chap," is a favorite; this is a semi-fitting coat with pleated or gored skirt. An objection was found in the thirty-six and forty-inch coat on account of its wrinkling when the wearer is seated.

The most popular skirt at the present time in wash goods is the circular gored, which buttons up the front panel; these are real true buttonholes, opening all the way down, thus making it easy to launder.

A more dressy suit is one of linen with coat of all-over filet net with batiste appliqué and embroidery, the skirt trimmed with the same insertion just above the hem then up each side of the front gore.

Leather belts of calf skin in various colors are attractive. One style the upper side has a cut-out portion the entire length, in which colored silk embroidery on a silk ground is laid. The lining for the back is white kid, and the buckle of solid metal.

The taffeta silk petticoat is no longer worn; the close fitting skirt demanded something more pliable, consequently we have the sheath-effect petticoat in soft silks in all colors. For more dressy occasions is the crepè de chine, elaborately trimmed with embroidered panels, laces, ribbons and chiffon.

The tailored net waist will be in great demand this fall; these are made with long sleeves, finished at the hand in pointed effect, with small pearl buttons and eyelet loops for fastening, so that the part over the hand fits snugly.

A letter from a Paris correspondent speaks of the use of two fabrics in the construction of a toilette. Naturally, it is in dressy toilettes that these minglings are especially found. Lace counts as a fabric and is a most important part of the attire. But the tailored suit has not escaped—the jackets made of different weaves from the skirt; for example, coats of plain shantung or tussah, in their natural tints, are worn with skirts of some light weight woolen fabrics, the color is of no importance, and is often of a fancy description.

We must admit the fact that dress is now undergoing a marked transformation. Creators of the models of style and fashion find their inspiration in Greek and Roman history.

The Spanish mantilla, as a head covering, has been readily adopted by the French woman when going to the theater, restaurant dinner or to balls.

A late summer fashion is the white or colored piqué jacket, worn with fancy woolen skirts; for example, a woolen gray check skirt will have a piqué coat, either white or gray. A tartan skirt in shades of blue and green will be worn with one of "corn-flower" blue piqué.

It is often found the most desirable spot on the lawn is "sunny" at the very time one would like to enjoy it with book or sewing. A canopy or umbrella can be easily constructed; the one referred to was nine feet in diameter, the framework of strong steel ribs, covered with heavy sail drill in colored stripes. The pole supporting the canopy is inserted in a pipe screwed into the ground. The canopy can be moved any place on the grounds; sinking the pipe is all that is necessary.

MADAME ROBERTA.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

POINTS OF INTEREST

Apthorpe Mansion—Formerly located at the corner of Ninth (or Columbus) ave. and 91st st. It was here where George Washington remained during his evacuation of New York, and after it was occupied by Lord Howe.

Barge Office—In Battery Park. This was originally the landing place of cabin passengers from ocean steamers, and was for a time used as an emigrant station. Now occupied by customs inspectors.

Block House—Located in Central Park. Built by the Americans, but later improved and occupied by the English during the Revolution.

Bowery—Located from Chatham Square to junction of Third and Fourth avenues. In the early Dutch days this was a lane running along the farms or "Boweries," on the northern outskirts of the city; from this the name was taken. On and near this thoroughfare the notorious dives of Owen Gagen and Harry Hill were located.

Bread Line—Originated by Fleischmann, the celebrated baker, now deceased, who nightly, between the hours of 11 to 12, gives to hundreds of homeless men of this city the surplus breads. This custom, which was started during the life of the philanthropist, is still carried on.

Carnegie Hall—57th st. and Seventh ave. Founded by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. Cost over $1,250,000. Formal opening on May 5th, 1891. One of the finest edifices in the world for concerts, lectures, conventions, etc.

Cotton Exchange—Located in Hanover Square. This is a large building of yellow brick, with stone facings and it is estimated that it cost $1,000,000. Spot sales of more than five hundred thousand bales of cotton are made during the year. On this site, November 8th, 1725, the first newspaper was printed in New York, and called the "New York Gazette." Tablet: Cotton Exchange—On this site William Bradford, appointed public printer, April 10th, A. D., 1693, issued, November 8th, 1725, "The New York Gazette," the first newspaper printed in New York. Erected by the New York Historical Society, April 10th, A. D., 1893, in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the introduction of printing in New York.

Governor's Island—Is situated in the Bay, about one thousand yards from the Battery; it covers an area of over sixty-five acres and is used by the United States Government as a military station. Fort Columbus is located near the centre of the island and Castle William, a circular fort of sandstone, built in the year 1811, overlooks the Bay on the western side. From here the "sunset gun" is fired daily.

Metropolitan Opera House—Broadway, between 39th and 40th sts. In September, 1892, the interior was destroyed by fire, and rebuilt during the following year. Tablet: Broadway, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets—General George Washington and General Israel Putnam met near this spot during the movement of the American Army, September 15th, 1776, the day before the Battle of Harlem.

Millionaires' Row—The district on Fifth ave. from 49th st., containing many of the residences of well known millionaires: Fifth ave., 513—Mr. O. H. P. Belmont. Fifth ave., 579—Miss Helen M. Gould. Fifth ave., 634—Mr. D. O. Mills. Fifth ave., 636—Mr. John R. Drexel. Fifth ave., 640—Mr. Geo. Vanderbilt. Fifth ave., 660—Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt. Fifth ave., 680—Dr. Seward

Webb. Fifth ave., 681—Mr. Levi P. Morton. Fifth ave., 689—Mr. Wm. Rockefeller. Fifth ave., 834—Mr. Frank Gould. Fifth ave., 840—Mr. Jno. Jacob Astor. Fifth ave., 842—Mrs. Wm. Astor. Fifth ave. and 57th st.—Mrs. C. P. Huntington. 1 East 57th st.—Mrs. Herman Oelrichs. 4 East 54th st.—Mr. Jno. D. Rockefeller. 2 East 61st st.—Commodore E. T. Gerry. 2 West 57th st.—Mr. H. P. Whitney. 1 East 66th st.—Mr. H. O. Havemeyer. Fifth ave and 67th st.—Mr. Geo. J. Gould. Fifth ave. and 68th st.—Mrs. W. Mizner. 22 East 72d st.—Mr. R. W. Goelet. Fifth ave. and 76th st.—Mr. W. A. Clarke. Fifth ave. and 90th st.—Mr. Andrew Carnegie. 219 Madison ave. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan.

Morningside Park—Beginning a short distance from the northwest corner of Central Park at 110th st., and extends northward to 123d street; it contains about 32 acres.

National Academy of Design—Amsterdam ave. and 110th st. Founded in 1826, and is considered the foremost art institution in this country. Open to the public on Sundays, free.

Post Office (General)—Located at the Junction of Broadway and Park Row. Open all hours of the day and night, week days, and from 9 to 11 a. m. on Sundays. Tablet: Post Office Building—On the common of the City of New York, near where this building now stands, there stood, from 1766 to 1776, a liberty pole, erected to commemorate the repeal of the stamp act; it was repeatedly destroyed by the violence of the Tories, and as repeatedly replaced by the Sons of Liberty, who organized a constant watch and guard. In its defence the first martyr blood of the American Revolution was shed, on January 18th, 1770.—A. D., 1897, erected by the Mary Washington Colonial Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Residence of Charles M. Schwab—Riverside Drive and 73d st. This is said to be the handsomest and costliest residence in this country; the material used in construction was imported from Germany and other foreign countries. The estimated cost of the building, furnishings and property is estimated at about eight millions. It is said that at the death of Mr. and Mrs. Schwab this property will revert to this city to be used as a museum.

St. Mark's Church—Located at Second ave. and Tenth st. One of the oldest churches in this city; its site was formerly a part of the farm of Petrus Stuyvesant, the last Dutch Governor of New Amsterdam, whose remains rest in a tomb under the edifice. The present church is the second, the first having been erected in 1826. It was from the graveyard surrounding this church the body of A. T. Stewart, the merchant prince, was stolen, over twenty years ago. Tablet, St. Mark's Church: In this vault lies buried Petrus Stuyvesant, late Captain General and Governor-in-Chief of Amsterdam, in New Netherland, now called New York and the Dutch West India Islands. Died in A. D., 1672. Aged 80.

A woman who is guided by the head and not by the heart is a social pestilence.—Balzac.

To say "every one is talking about him" is an eulogy; but to say "Every one is talking about her" is an elegy.—Anonymous.

The pleasure of talking is the inextinguishable passion of women, coeval with the act of breathing.—Lesage.

LIARS

President Roosevelt's Liars' Club is increasing in numbers.

A president who can make truth and honesty the fashion will go down in history in a companion locket with the Father of our Country. We have outgrown the cherry tree episode and we need a new demonstration.

We are such a flippant generation that we almost sit up and take notice when a man is called a liar in public, and is impaled by the press to be peered at and examined as if he were some poor miserable degenerate, or a new kind of bug.

It has not been our habit to notice trifles like lies, and we have need to be reminded that truth is a keystone, and that when the keystone is out of line, structures fall in pieces about somebody's ears.

So we have somehow gained the impression that we must get used to liars, meet them placidly on their own unstable ground, their quaking bog, and since we are very busy ourselves we must forget all about their vagaries, and turn our attention to other and more important matters. Then along comes the President to assure us that a lie is not an unimportant matter—and thus set us right again just as we are about to turn our backs on the things we learned at our mother's knee.

The difficulty and disadvantage about your attitude toward liars is that by the time you get used to them you are a changed person yourself. You are either a pessimist or a philosopher. The pessimist suspects everybody of lying and is sore about it. While the philosopher is unmoved by any intelligence whatever, and whether it is true or false it is all one to him. This latter frame of mind which is at once unhurried and non-expectant is the development of years, and liars have contributed largely to it. It enables you to be smilingly quiescent of the adage that children and fools speak the truth.

The best liars are said to believe their own lies. They like their own lies, and tell them when the truth would serve their purpose better, but being subjects of a moral strabismus that distorts ethical perspective, they finally are blinded to truth so that they do not recognize it when they meet it. Fact or fancy it's all one to them.

In addition to the fact that a president of these United States has almost made honesty the fashion, we also have honor turning up in a college curriculum, and stories about it are printed in the daily papers. The facts may not be talked about such a great deal, but a good many people are thinking it over.

The fate of Ananias and Sapphira, who were struck dead for lying, is one of the scandals of sacred history. If all the liars to-day should meet with a similar experience—what a sight! What a battlefield of the slain!

HARVOT HOLT DEY.

Women swallow at one mouthful the lie that flatters, and drink drop by drop a truth that is bitter.—Diderot.

There is nothing a man of good sense dreads in a wife so much as her having more sense than himself—Fielding.

The Singer tower is now open to the public, and the observation balcony at No. 149 Broadway offers the visitor to this city an opportunity to see New York from all directions instead of a spot at a time. The balcony is on the forty-second floor, 548 feet above the curb, and gives a sight-seeing radius of over thirty miles in all directions. The tower has a platform with a high railing which accommodates about forty people. Express elevators run from the main corridor on the first floor, making the trip in one minute. There are also guides stationed on the platform to point out the different points of interest to visitors and to give other information. A fee of 50 cents is charged.

Stripes in worsted, chevriots and wash goods for street wear has been the vogue this season; it is the natural result the fashionable dressmakers are taking up, checks for the fall. These will be found in two-color effects, black always the foundation.

Fashion points most decidedly to the use of satin for dressy wear. As this has been worn by the ultra fashionables the past year it is safe to say it will be the vogue this fall and winter. The dressmakers give preference to the thirty-six inch width, as it cuts to much better advantage.

The use of border materials is by no means over. They will be found in the fall and winter importations of sheer and heavy dress materials for reception or street wear.

Persian designs will be the novelty in silks, and will be used for the separate waist.

For neckwear the vogue for bows and jabots shows no sign of waning, as they are made of real Irish lace and are quite expensive, selling for $2.50 and $3, may be the reason, as every woman with half a look can tell the insignificant bit of lace costs money, which gives to the wearer such a comfortable sensation.

The dry goods shops are showing beautiful designs in table covers, center-pieces and doilies. The designs are either floral or conventional; where the coronation embroidery is used the outer edge is finished with embroidered scallops. Whilst the colored embroidery gives a beautiful effect it is apt to lose its color when laundered, therefore the all-white is more economical.

Decorative pieces trimmed with clumsy lace and insertions will be popular this fall.

A late design in the college or draw-string bag is the covering of both outer sides with woven tapestry of an antique pattern, the ends and bottom of leather.

The material that will be used for gowns this fall will be silk, as it is more adaptable for the soft, clinging directoire gown, which fashion has decreed is to be the model.

For color the first favorite will be green. The new canard (duck's neck) shade is a cross between a green and blue; by some it might be considered a peacock, though by comparison the difference is readily seen.

Blues and browns are staple and are always popular, the old stand-by, navy, and almost as well known Copenhagen, with the gendarme, or French military blue (which might be described as royal with a slatish tendency), will be generally worn.

Black is always good form, and this fall will have something quite new in the guimpe and sleeves of black tulle. As there is an objection by some to the entire black guimpe, they will be embellished with white.

Smoke gray and taupe has been very much in evidence in Paris this past season, so it is safe to say it will be worn this winter. Gray was much used in millinery—never light gray—but London smoke and the tone known as taupe (mole).

Plumes in these shades of gray will be worn on hats of all colors. Black hats with dark gray plumes are very stylish. The effect of gray is carried out in the gray veil and further emphasized by the use of the dark gray suede shoe and the black shoe with gray upper.

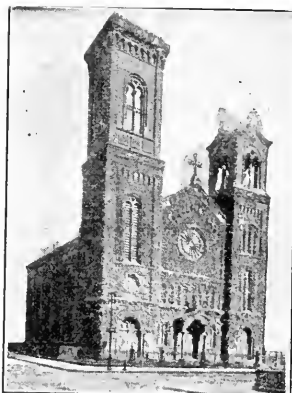

There is no question but the girdle or sash will be universally worn this coming season. There are several different styles; we mention the folded or gathered girdle, about three and a half inches wide, fastened at one side with a flat rosette and hanging, fringed ends about twelve or eighteen inches in length. Another is rather of the sash order, after passing once 'round the waist are crossed over and loosely knotted, falling over the front, back or side of the skirt.

MADAME ROBERTA.

NEW YORK'S HISTORIC CHURCH

THE MARBLE COLLEGIATE CHURCH

First Religious Service on Manhattan Island was held in the trading post established here by the Dutch in 1614, five years after the first landing made by Hendrik Hudson.

First New York Pastor was the Rev. Jonas Michaelius.

First Permanent Church was regularly organized by this pastor in the summer of 1628. This Church, known to-day as the Collegiate Church of New York, is the oldest with a continuous history in America.

First Place of Stated Worship was in the ample loft of a horse-mill, so called to distinguish it from two others which were wind-mills, and is now known as 32 and 34 South William Street.

First Church Bell in New York, captured by the Dutch in 1625 from the Spaniards in Porto Rico, pealed out its call to worship from the belfry of this horse-mill church.

First Ruling Elder of this first church was Peter Minuit, who was also the first Director-General of this Commonwealth and the first of the great Dutch Patrons "a wholly incorruptible man."

First Real Estate Transaction on Manhattan was the purchase of the whole island by Peter Minuit, and the mynheers of this church, for the modest sum of 60 florins ($24.00).

First School—Founded in 1633 by the Dutch Church, with Adam Roelantsen as the first school-master, is now the Collegiate School at 77th st. and West End ave., and is the oldest educational institution in America.

First Church Organ used in New York was one presented to the Consistory of the Dutch Church by Governor Burnet in 1720.

First Sanctuary erected on Manhattan Island exclusively for worship was a wooden edifice built in 1633 on the site now 39 Pearl st. This in turn was followed by a stone structure, built within the ramparts in 1642, known as "The Church in the Fort."

Tenth Building in this historic series of sanctuaries is the Marble Collegiate Church, at Fifth Avenue and Twenty-ninth st. It is built of Hastings marble in Romanesque style. Its massive clock and bell tower terminates in a spire 215 feet high, surmounted by a gilded weathercock 6½ feet high, after the manner of the early Dutch churches.

First Pastor for Strangers.—This church was the first in New York to provide the services of a pastor especially for strangers. The Rev. John S. Allen, D. D., is the present Pastor for Strangers.

Rev. David James Burrell, D. D., LL. D., has been the pastor of this church for the past sixteen years, during which time his practical and attractive preaching of the gospel has made the Marble Collegiate Church the "City Temple" of New York.

Time is Too Slow for those who Wait,
Too Swift for those who Fear,
Too Long for those who Grieve,
Too Short for those who Rejoice;
But for those who Love
Time is not!

THE TRAVELING SALESMAN—AT THE LIBERTY

With a characterization as new to the stage as is Patricia O'Brien of "The Chorus Lady," James Forbes' new comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," opened the Henry B. Harris season at the Liberty Theater.

"The Traveling Salesman" is a remarkably clever comedy, which, while essentially constructed for laughing purposes, contains the same adroit changes from comic to serious that made Mr. Forbes' former play, "The Chorus Lady," one of the most gigantic successes of the present decade.

The story of the new comedy, the scenes of which are laid in Grand Crossing, a village of the Middle West, opens on Christmas Day, the first act showing the interior of the depot, with the meeting and mutual attraction of the principal personages, Beb Blake, "the traveling salesman," and Beth Elliott, the telegraph operator and ticket agent. Beth is possessed of a piece of untillable land, apparently worthless, that suddenly acquires value because it is necessary to a scheme of improvement planned by the railroad. Blake's employer, Martin Drury, becomes cognizant of the corporation's plans through a leak at headquarters, and attempts to defraud the girl of her property through an ingenious perversion of the laws governing the sale of land by the township for unpaid taxes. It is Blake's aim to frustrate this jobbery, and the predicament in which he finds himself through his impetuous, misguided efforts, furnishes the necessary dramatic thread of Mr. Forbes' comedy, which aims chiefly at a humorous exposition of the characteristics of the modern drummer.

The second act, which transpires in Blake's room at the Illite Hotel, is said to be as unique in its depiction of life "on the road" as was the second act of his earlier success, "The Chorus Lady," in illustrating life "behind the scenes." The story is related through the medium of widely contrasting types of villagers and drummers, and for their interpretation Mr. Harris has assembled a cast that includes Frank J. McIntyre, Gertrude Coghlan, William Beach, Sarah McVickar, Arthur Shaw, Percival T. Moore, H. D. Blakemore, Nicholas Burnham, Edward Elis, E. M. Dresser, R. C. Turner and Maud B. Sinclair.

The play, which has been staged by Mr. Forbes, has the pictorial advantage of an adequate scenic equipment from the studio of Joseph A. Physioc.

Daily Attractions in New York

1 Madison Avenue, NEW YORK

AUTOMOBILE TRIPS TO NEARBY POINTS

Long Beach—Cross 34th st. ferry to Long Island City. Straight ahead from ferry; after passing Vernon st., turn obliquely to left into Jackson ave., which follow for five-eighths mile to Thompson ave. (Hoffman Boulevard), into which turn right, and follow across railroad and creek; two miles farther, cross railroad again to (3½) Locust Grove. Keep to right at crossroads along Hoffman Boulevard; cross railroad; three miles beyond, meet and then leave railroad; follow Boulevard to Fulton st. (9) Jamaica. Go along Fulton st. to Merrick road, into which turn right and follow it across railroad, past Springfield and several creeks to (16) Valley Stream. Straight ahead along road across creek, railroad and two more small streams (17½), Lynbrook. Straight ahead along Merrick road, across Mill River and railroad to Lincoln ave. (19) Rockville Center. Turn to right into Lincoln ave.; after crossing Powells Creek take first right fork and next left; 1½ miles beyond, cross Hog Island Channel; continue near railroad over Long Beach Channel and Inner Beach Lead to (25) Long Beach. Posts giving direction and distance will be found all along the road.

Staten Island offers rare attractions for a short automobile outing. The roads are good macadam with easy grades and picturesque views. In a circuit of the island the travelling distance is thirty-three miles. The run from Manhattan may be varied by taking the ferry from the foot of Whitehall street to St. George, thence following the southern route via the Richmond and Amboy roads to Tottenville, returning via the Shore road, Fresh Kills road and Old Stone road to Fort Richmond, thence by ferry to Bergen Point and over the Hudson County Boulevard to Jersey City, Weehawken or Fort Lee. The distance of the round trip from Columbus Circle, returning via Jersey City or Weehawken, is about fifty miles.

Hotel Gramatan, Bronxville, may be reached from Broadway or 5th ave. to 50th st., through Central Park to 110th st., 7th ave. to Central Bridge, crossing bridge and viaduct all the way, north on Jerome ave. to Yonkers ave., thence continue along Central ave. to Ammann's Corners, then to the right to Bronxville.

TAXAMETER—Motor Cab Service—Phone 2380 COLUMBUS

Telephone orders filled promptly day or night. Cabs are always in waiting at our various stands, or they may be hailed and engaged on the street. When the flag is displayed above the taximeter, it signifies that the cab is disengaged and can be hired.

REDUCED SUMMER RATES—EFFECTIVE JUNE FIRST—Tariff No. 1 (Red Indicator) Used Only.

First half-mile or fraction - - 30 cts.
Each quarter-mile thereafter - 10 cts.
Each six minutes waiting - - 10 cts.

This tariff applies to all vehicles and irrespective of the number of passengers carried except that for Hansoms, Coupes, Broughams and Victorias the charge for waiting time is 10 cts. for each TEN minutes or at the rate of ONLY SIXTY CENTS PER HOUR.

EXTRAS—All Vehicles

For ordering a cab, each mile or fraction thereof, from station or stand to point ordered 20 cts.

Return charge when dismissed north of 155th Street or outside the Borough of Manhattan, for each mile or fraction to Times Square (minimum charge $1) - 20 cts.

Trunk - - - - - 20 cts.

All ferriage and bridge tolls, both going and returning, must be paid by the passenger. If the taximeter is out of order, fare will be charged at regular legal rates.

RATES SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

INFORMATION FOR PASSENGERS

1. HOW THE TAXAMETER WORKS. When the flag is lowered 30 cents will appear under the word "Fare," and this pays for the use of the cab until service to that amount, either in driving or in waiting, has been rendered. The indicator will register thereafter ten cents for each quarter mile, or each fraction of an hour waiting. This charge is for the exact distance traveled and the exact waiting time consumed, which are automatically measured by the taximeter and over which the driver has no control.

The "extra" charges called for by the service are registered by the driver and shown under the word "Extras."

2. THE AMOUNT TO BE PAID IS THE SUM OF THE AMOUNTS SHOWN UNDER "FARE" AND "EXTRAS." THERE ARE NO CHARGES EXCEPT THOSE INDICATED BY THE TAXAMETER.

The driver is charged with all amounts registered and is not permitted to make any reductions therefrom, but will, if required, give a receipt for the amount paid.

3. TO SECURE COMPLETE PROTECTION, observe (a) that the flag is lowered to Tariff 1 position at the beginning of the service and not before; (b) that the flag is maintained in that position during service; (c) that the flag is promptly brought to "Payment" position at the conclusion of the service and left there until the charge is settled.

4. IF THE CAB IS DISABLED, the service up to the disablement must be paid for.

5. A CAB REPORTING AT AN ADDRESS in response to an order is charged for from the time for which it was ordered.

6. A CAB ORDERED AND NOT USED must be paid for up to the time the driver is dismissed, including the charge for sending it.

7. THEATRE AND OTHER RETURNS. Waiting time and any necessary mileage will be charged for a vehicle held for a return call. Waiting time may be saved by dismissing the vehicle and placing a separate order for a vehicle for the return call, but the Company cannot guarantee to fill such return call unless it be given to and accepted by the starter at a station or stand. Under no conditions may a cab be held in waiting without charge.

8. IN CASE OF DISPUTE, passengers are requested to pay the full amount indicated and make claim to the Company, in writing, giving the hour, date, driver and cab number, number of passengers carried, distance travelled and waiting time consumed and wherein the charge is incorrect. Such claims will receive prompt and courteous attention.

9. THE ACCURACY OF THE TAXAMETER is insured by systematic inspection. Do not assume that a charge is incorrect without first computing all of the distance and all of the waiting time comprised in the service.

DID YOU KNOW IN THE YEAR

- 1865—That the surrender of General Lee and the Confederate Army caused great excitement and rejoicing. About one week from this time President Lincoln was assassinated while in a box at the theater in Washington. His body was laid in state in the City Hall, and was viewed by the sorrowing multitude.
- 1867—That the Ninth Avenue Elevated opened a short section as an experiment. That in January a bridge of ice formed in the East River between New York and Brooklyn. It is estimated that five thousand persons crossed over it.
- 1868—That a part of an underground railway was built under Broadway, near City Hall, but was abandoned for lack of funds.
- 1869—That the American Museum of Natural History, now located at 77th st., Central Park West, was incorporated. That the telegraph messenger service was organized.
- 1870—That the Metropolitan Museum of Art received its charter.
- 1872—That there was appointed a committee of seventy to investigate the Tweed Ring and to bring those criminals to justice.
- 1873—That the city charter was amended, and many important modifications were made on previous enactments. That there was a panic of unusual severity which effected the business interests very seriously. That the annexing of Morrisania, West Farms and Kingsbridge nearly doubled the area of the city.
- 1875—That six millions of dollars was expended to improve Fourth avenue; this expense was shared equally by the New York Central Railroad Company and the city.
- 1876—That a World's Fair was held at Philadelphia in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.
- 1878—That electric arc lamps were used to light the streets.
- 1879—That the Central Station telephone service was put in operation.
- 1880—That there were completed and in operation four elevated railroad lines.
- 1881—That it was estimated that there were being published over four hundred and forty newspapers. That incandescent lamp service was in operation. That President Garfield was assassinated in Washington.
- 1883—That the East River or Brooklyn Bridge was open to the public. That the statue of Washington, now standing upon the steps of the Sub-Treasury Building located in Wall street, was presented to the United States Government by the New York Chamber of Commerce, on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the British evacuation of New York.
- 1888—That a subway plan by Mayor Hewitt failed to pass the Legislature. That the city was visited by a blizzard of wind and snow and that for several days shut off all communication with the surrounding country; all traffic was at a standstill, which resulted in great suffering and many deaths.
- 1889—That for over three days the city was given up to patriotic display as a commemoration of the first inauguration of a President of the United States. It is estimated that over three million strangers visited the city during this time which was known as the "Columbus" celebration.
- 1890—That the United States census reported that the population of the city was estimated over 1,515,000. That Mayor Hugh J. Grant appointed a Commission to report on a route for a subway between City Hall and Harlem. That the New York Central Railroad closed transportation over that route for several days on account of a "strike" by the engineers.
- 1891—That plans were made for an East Side tunnel but were abandoned. That a cable railroad was laid from Battery to Central Park.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Apthorpe Mansion—Formerly located at the corner of Ninth (or Columbus) ave. and 91st st. It was here where George Washington remained during his evacuation of New York, and after it was occupied by Lord Howe.

Barge Office—In Battery Park. This was originally the landing place of cabin passengers from ocean steamers, and was for a time used as an emigrant station. Now occupied by customs inspectors.

Block House—Located in Central Park. Built by the Americans, but later improved and occupied by the English during the Revolution.

Bowery—Located from Chatham Square to junction of Third and Fourth avenues. In the early Dutch days this was a lane running along the farms or "Boweries," on the northern outskirts of the city; from this the name was taken. On and near this thoroughfare the notorious dives of Owen Gagen and Harry Hill were located.

Bread Line—Originated by Fleischmann, the celebrated baker, now deceased, who nightly, between the hours of 11 to 12, gives to hundreds of homeless men of this city the surplus breads. This custom, which was started during the life of the philanthropist, is still carried on.

Carnegie Hall—57th st. and Seventh ave. Founded by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. Cost over $1,250,000. Formal opening on May 5th, 1891. One of the finest edifices in the world for concerts, lectures, conventions, etc.

Cotton Exchange—Located in Hanover Square. This is a large building of yellow brick, with stone facings and it is estimated that it cost $1,000,000. Spot sales of more than five hundred thousand bales of cotton are made during the year. On this site, November 8th, 1725, the first newspaper was printed in New York, and called the "New York Gazette." Tablet: Cotton Exchange—On this site William Bradford, appointed public printer, April 10th, A. D., 1693, issued, November 8th, 1725, "The New York Gazette," the first newspaper printed in New York. Erected by the New York Historical Society, April 10th, A. D., 1893, in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the introduction of printing in New York.

Governor's Island—Is situated in the Bay, about one thousand yards from the Battery; it covers an area of over sixty-five acres and is used by the United States Government as a military station. Fort Columbus is located near the centre of the island and Castle William, a circular fort of sandstone, built in the year 1811, overlooks the Bay on the western side. From here the "sun-set gun" is fired daily.

Gramercy Park—Located between Third and Fourth aves., 20th and 21st sts.; covers an area of about 1½ acres, set aside by S. B. Ruggles as a place of recreation for residents of this neighborhood. It is not open to the general public. Fronting this park is the "Players' Club," and the former residence of the late Samuel J. Tilden. Tablet: Gramercy Park—Gramercy Park, founded by Samuel B. Ruggles, 1831, commemorated by this tablet imbedded in the Gramercy farm by John Ruggles Strong, 1875.

Metropolitan Opera House—Broadway, between 39th and 40th sts. In September, 1892, the interior was destroyed by fire, and rebuilt during the following year. Tablet: Broadway, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets—General George Washington and General Israel Putnam met near this spot dur-

Clarke. Fifth ave. and 90th st.—Mr. Andrew Carnegie. 219 Madison ave. Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan.

Morningside Park—Beginning a short distance from the north-west corner of Central Park at 110th st., and extends northward to 123d street; it contains about 32 acres.

National Academy of Design—Amsterdam ave. and 110th st. Founded in 1826, and is considered the foremost art institution in this country. Open to the public on Sundays, free.

Post Office (General)—Located at the Junction of Broadway and Park Row. Oper all hours of the day and night, week days, and from 9 to 11 a. m. on Sundays. Tablet: Post Office Building—On the common of the City of New York, near where this building now stands, there stood, from 1766 to 1776, a liberty pole, erected to commemorate the repeal of the stamp act; it was repeatedly destroyed by the violence of the Tories, and as repeatedly replaced by the Sons of Liberty, who organized a constant watch and guard. In its defence the first martyr blood of the American Revolution was shed, on January 18th, 1770.—A. D., 1897, erected by the Mary Washington Colonial Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Residence of Charles M. Schwab—Riverside Drive and 73d st. This is said to be the handsomest and costliest residence in this country; the material used in construction was imported from Germany and other foreign countries. The estimated cost of the building, furnishings and property is estimated at about eight millions. It is said that at the death of Mr. and Mrs. Schwab this property will revert to this city to be used as a museum.

St. Mark's Church—Located at Second ave. and Tenth st. One of the oldest churches in this city; its site was formerly a part of the farm of Petrus Stuyvesant, the last Dutch Governor of New Amsterdam, whose remains rest in a tomb under the edifice. The present church is the second, the first having been erected in 1826. It was from the graveyard surrounding this church the body of A. T. Stewart, the merchant prince, was stolen, over twenty years ago. Tablet, St. Mark's Church: In this vault lies buried Petrus Stuyvesant, late Captain General and Governor-in-Chief of Amsterdam, in New Netherland, now called New York and the Dutch West India Islands. Died in A. D., 1672. Aged 80.

ART NOTES

Metropolitan Museum of Art—
 Fifth ave., opposite 82d st. Open every day from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., Saturday from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., Sunday from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. Free, except on Monday and Friday, when a fee of 25 cents is charged. Some recent accessions include enamels, ivories, ceramics, textiles and woodwork. In the woodwork there is a Gothic chest made in France in the Fifteenth Century, and other specimens of Flemish and French. There is also an interesting copy of the beautiful grille made for the tomb of Queen Eleanor in Westminster Abbey, who died in 1290, the grille is of iron and was made by Thomas de Leightone in the year 1204 at a cost of about sixty-five dollars, or £13; this was presented to the museum by J. Starkie Gardner, the expert on metal work. There are other specimens of American furniture of the Colonial period, among which is a ladderback chair with five horizontal slats, instead of four, the usual number; this is believed to be American of the Eighteenth Century, but in the carving is equal to the best specimens of that period of English make.

"THE TRAVELING SALESMAN" AT THE LIBERTY

A new comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," by James Forbes, opened the regular season of the Liberty Theatre, under the direction of Henry B. Harris.

First, it may be said, and without the least fear of contradiction, that the new comedy scored an emphatic and instantaneous success. Not since the great furor caused by the first presentation on Broadway of Mr. Forbes' name as a dramatist, when Rose Stahl, in his "Chorus Lady," created a veritable sensation, has a play met with such eulogistic praise or with a more complete verdict of approval than "The Traveling Salesman."

The very title of the new play suggests comedy in its very best vein, and it is not strange that the genuine understanding shown by this young author of the American chorus girl in "The Chorus Lady," should be equally prominent in this new type to the American stage, that of the traveling salesman. The new type is one that will stand out clear and distinct as one of the really interesting characters of our interesting American life. The New York morning press, in commenting upon the first performance of "The Traveling Salesman," are unanimous in their verdict of approval. The New York Herald says:

"There are no ifs and buts tied to 'The Traveling Salesman.' It needed no booming on the part of the author's friends, for the applause of a capacity audience and many recalls after each act plainly demonstrated that the piece had made a big hit."

The New York American assures its readers that "The Traveling Salesman" delivered the goods, and it's not likely that he will have to move into any new territory for some time to come. While the New York Times believes that "this 'Traveling Salesman' is perfectly able to take care of his own territory (which is New York), and, as promised, hands out a very large line of plain and fancy laughs."

The New York Press says: "Mr. Forbes matches the incisive droll humor that accomplished his great success for 'The Chorus Lady.' He has again proved his adeptness in slang, meeting every fresh complication with a pithy and mirthful turn of speech."

The New York World believes that "The Traveling Salesman" will prove a big and popular success, for, despite the fact that after locking the thermometer straight in the face without so much as an apologetic blush, the play was witnessed by an audience that packed the large playhouse to its doors, a condition which is likely to continue."

The New York Telegraph says: "In the language of the traveling salesman himself, James Forbes has put another one over. The new play is right in the class with 'The Chorus Lady,' and, at the head of the class, an attractive comedy. Only the longest stay will satisfy the New Yorkers who will want to see the piece. It is a rollicking, lively, clean entertainment, and will rival 'The Chorus Lady' in longevity."

"Mr. Forbes is to be congratulated indeed, for 'The Traveling Salesman' is here to stay for some time to come," is what the New York Commercial thinks of the new piece. While the Journal of Commerce believes that "The Traveling Salesman" is sure to sell his goods, and without the least possible doubt the new James Forbes' comedy will prove in general popularity a second 'Chorus Lady.'

When a man does good work out of all proportion to his pay, in seven cases out of nine, there is a woman at the back of the virtue.—Kipling.

WHO'S WHO AMONG WOMEN

The desire to be somebody—to be a recognized somebody, is a definite human ambition, if not a weakness. It is also the fashion. Therefore, my neighbor, a publisher up Broadway, is making a book about it. If you were born to greatness, or if you have achieved greatness, or if you have had greatness thrust upon you, the probabilities are that you will be solicited to enter your name in the book. It is likely to be a very interesting book, having your name in it, a statement of your achievements and your social affiliations. On your library shelf it is likely to hold its own among the books of which you are fond, and it may be referred to at odd times, particularly when you are depressed in mind, o'ershadowed by doubt, or lacking in that essential, self-confidence. It will also prove a kind of memorial to you after you have gone, especially if you have forgotten to leave a better one. There is something almost encouraging to find one's name in alphabetical sequence, situated in orderly fashion, and if one is not of much consequence, or if achievements have been meager, it is pleasant to be at least in good company.

Some of us who have done but little to claim attention will have our names in the book. Some of us who have done a great deal will not be mentioned. For this reason, the book, while of value in a way, will not serve as a reliable book of reference for the Recording Angel.

We can't all discover radium—worse luck!—nor be the president of the General Federation, nor make books and pictures, nor carve in butter, nor hunt the North Pole, nor christen a battleship, nor make a test trip in a flying machine. There are so many things that women do nowadays to get their names and their pictures before the public, notably, that it seems as if we all might get into the alphabetical arrangement if we study our cases properly. Some of us miss all our chances of recognition, never even have a photograph in a décolleté gown, nor have more than a mention in the society column, are not even good looking, even have no money. It's discouraging nowadays to be almost a nobody.

The question is what does a woman have to do to be in "Who's Who Among Women". It goes without saying that you can accomplish wonders and still escape greatness in your brief span of years—and not be anybody worth mentioning.

For example, there is my friend and hostess the thrifty farm woman. She has not been invited to even subscribe to "Who's Who." But if she should be solicited, her record would show that she is the mother of ten sons, and therefore a person of whom Rosevelt and Napoleon must approve. She bakes bread three times a week, ten loaves at a time; that is thirty loaves a week; or 1,560 loaves a year, or 46,800 loaves in thirty years, a mere fractional part of her busy life. Twice a week she has baked six dozen ginger cookies; that is 7,800 ginger cookies in a year; in thirty years, 234,000 ginger cookies. Since the boys have been large enough to want a pie cut in four pieces, it has taken three pies for dinner; not counting the pies those boys have eaten for breakfast and between meals, that is 1,090 pies in a year, or 32,700 pies in thirty years; and no baker's license either. There are also such details as patches, and milking and churning and threshers and racing with the lark every morning.

If this isn't a career, then I don't know the name of it. But she has not been asked.

HARYOT HOLT DEY.

"THE GIRL QUESTION"—AT WALLACK'S

The summer show now being produced at Wallack's makes an attempt at a plot, and if the management had seen fit to provide a couple of good singers it would be well worth seeing and hearing, for some of the musical numbers are excellent.

The story is a very simple one and deals largely with humble people: A head waiter who is bewitched by the pretty cashier of the restaurant in which he has a financial interest, a cashier who aspires to the stage and a rich husband, and a head waitress who is unselfishly in love with the head waiter, are the three centre figures. The best act is the second, a New Year's Eve Party given by the head waiter at the restaurant, which furnishes opportunity for the introduction of several odd characters among the invited guests, and some fine coon dancing is part of the entertainment.

Helen Royton acts well the difficult role of "Mrs. Jessie Sears," a stenographer who has captured and become the wife of her wealthy employer: the type of woman who frankly admits that if she has married for money she thinks she is earning it, and who openly amuses herself with every man available. By clever work Miss Royton undoubtedly makes her part the best feature of the show.

SHORT TALKS

The employment of colored nets on dresses, though not new, will be used to a greater extent than formerly. The private view of imported model gowns shows the net dyed to match the fabric of the costume.

As to the style of nets, the hexagon mesh effects will take the lead, but filets will not be neglected.

Embroidered colored laces will be the novelty this year, but as they are very expensive they will not be generally employed.

The beautiful double fold Ninon veiling can now be bought for 95 cents a yard. It has been found by the high class dressmakers it is particularly adaptable for waists, lending itself readily to draping; it comes in all colors.

In the lace goods department boas, ruffs and yokes with sleeves to match, can be found; these are the early fall importations.

The new style of stock collar is of net, tucked, the upper edge loosened and held in place by a band of velvet ribbon. At the bottom is another band of the velvet ribbon finished with a double bow with ends.

The latest neck bow for the woman who automobiles is one of leather. On the ends the leather is cut out and silk braid in peacock colorings is underlaid.

There never has been such a demand for the "sweater" as this season. This no doubt is owing to the attractive form in which they are woven. The one which is quite long and finished just like a cutaway coat with small side pockets is attractive. Grays are more generally worn, but white always has admirers. It is almost an indispensable garment for automobiling, the sea shore, or in fact any place in the country during the cool evenings.

The sleeveless coat which has been such a favorite will remain with us until the cold weather. Many of the latest models have not even the band which formed the armhole, the side seam closed slightly above the waist line remaining open from that point. This style of coat is to be worn with the high skirt, which terminates where the opening of the jacket commences.

If a purchaser of woolen goods has a doubt in her mind it is not "all wool," let her take a sample home and test it by pulling out a few threads of warp and filling, then burn each thread separately with a lighted match. The wool will shrivel and give out a smell like burned feathers, leaving a round ash; cotton burns with a flame and with little odor, leaving little or no ash. Sometimes the warp may be of cotton and the filling of wool, and vice versa, so that it is essential to test both warp and filling.

The same test can be used for silk fabrics to detect the presence of tin salts, giving the appearance of weight. If the fabric is largely impregnated with tin, it glows redly in the flame and is reduced to ashes.

One of the newest fancy work fads is the stenciling of fancy designs on pillow covers, curtains, dresser scarfs etc., in burlap, scrim, crash and dimity. After the design is stenciled it is colored with dyes, which give broad scope to the artistic taste when outlined. For this purpose there can be bought a portfolio of stencils of different designs and a book of instruction.

It looks as if the high, straight band of linen finished with a high, pleated frill of linen or mousseline de soie will be the favorite stock of every woman so much is it in evidence.

There is always something new in belt pins to tempt the shopper: the one we mention is oval in shape about 2½ inches in size, with a most excellent imitation of a hand painted medallion on porcelain, the medallion set in a gilt frame with solid back, to which a substantial pin is attached. It could be worn as a brooch or bodice pin.

APPELLATE COURT HOUSE OF NEW YORK

The Court House of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court is situated on the northeast corner of Twenty-fifth street and Madison avenue. The cost, including the furnishings, was about $750,000, and was completed in the year 1900. The interior is rich in mural paintings, also marbles, and the exterior is decorated with sculptures. The caryatides, by T. S. Clarke, which support the cornice of the Madison avenue side, represent the Four Seasons; the group above, by Karl Bitter, represents Peace; on the pedestals of the balustrade are the statues of the Great Law-Givers: Alfred, Confucius, Justinian, Manu, Vaivasvata, Zoroaster, St. Louis, Mahomet, Solon, Lycurgus, Moses; at the entrance on Twenty-fifth street are two large seated statues. Force, the pedestal with this inscription thereon, "We must not use force till just laws are defied," also Wisdom, "Every law not based on wisdom is a menace to the state." These statues are the work of F. W. Ruestuhl; the bas-relief of the pediment, by C. H. Niehaus, represents the Triumph of Law over Anarchy; and above this, by C. D. French, is a group symbolizing Justice. On the window pediments are the reclining figures of Morning, Noon, Evening, Night, by M. M. Schwartzott. As you enter the main hall has a wainscoting and pilasters of Sienna marble, with bronze gold capitals. Paintings fill the frieze spaces, and the ceiling is modeled in gold of two shades. The Court Room is also decorated in the same manner. The bench, screen and dais are of dark oak, very handsomely carved. On the stained glass windows of the dome are inscribed the names of the following eminent jurists: Fish, Jay, Butler, Shaw, Webster, Ogden, Choate, Kent, Clinton, Livingston, Hamilton, Marshall, Legare, Story, Pinckney, Taney, Van Buren, O'Connor, Marcy, Spencer. The mural paintings of the two apartments are symbolical, as well as allegorical. The frieze on the north wall facing the entrance, by H. S. Mowbray, represents the Transmission of the Law. This consists of eight groups, as follows: Mosaic, Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Byzantine, Norman, Common Law, and Modern Law, each group illustrating the distinct period that had its influence on our own; each group is united by an allegorical winged figure to represent transmission from one age to another. To the left on the westerly wall the frieze, by W. L. Metcalf, represents Justice; between the entrance doors on the south wall the two lunettes, by C. Y. Young, represent Law and Equity; to the right, on the easterly wall, the frieze, by Robert Reid, represents Justice supported by the guardians of the Law, with sword and fasces. She gives Prosperity and Peace to the Arts and Sciences, holding the symbols of the Law, sword, book and scales; Education follows Peace, teaching the youth, the book being lighted by a lamp held by Religion; Drama follows Prosperity, and Music with harp; on the south wall the subjects are Poetry, Painting, Sculpture, Architecture and Fame. The Court Room is most interesting. The centre panel illustrates Wisdom attended by Learning, Experience, Humility, Love, also Faith, Patience, Doubt, Inspiration. It is intended that the figure of Wisdom personify spiritual wisdom, Love to carry out the sentiment of the figure of Wisdom. There are other panels representing The Power of Law, Justice of the Law, the seals of the City and State. On the wall behind the dais of the Justices the long frieze, by Kenyon Cox, represents the Reign of Law, and other interesting panels are to be enjoyed. Open daily to the public.

LONG ISLAND TRIPS

Nearly all the trolley trips of Long Island start from the New York end of Brooklyn Bridge.

To reach Belmont Park by trolley take "L" road from New York end of Brooklyn Bridge to Jamaica; at Jamaica take trolley for Queens, which is close to Belmont Park.

From Queens a trolley may be taken to Hempstead and on to Garden City and Mineola by a branch line.

One of the most picturesque of Long Island trolley trips is from Flushing to Rockaway Park, a distance of a little over twenty-two miles, taking an hour and a half. On the road one touches IngleSide, Queens Borough Heights, Garrison's Lane, Jamaica, Springfield Lawrence, Inwood, Far Rockaway, Edgemere, Arverne, Hammels, Hollands and Rockaway Beach.

To reach Flushing take ferry to Long Island City, thence by trolley to Flushing.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Aldrich Court—41 Broadway. This formed the site of the first habitation of white men on Manhattan Island; was also the site of the second residence of Washington. Tablet: "This tablet marks the site of the first habitation of white men on the Island of Manhattan. Adrian Block, Commander of the Tiger, erected here four houses or huts, November, 1613. He built the Restless, the first vessel made by Europeans in this country. The Restless was launched in the spring of 1614. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Apthorpe Mansion—Formerly located at the corner of Ninth (or Columbus) ave. and 91st st. It was here where George Washington remained during his evacuation of New York, and after it was occupied by Lord Howe.

Barge Office—In Battery Park. This was originally the landing place of cabin passengers from ocean steamers, and was for a time used as an emigrant station. Now occupied by customs inspectors.

Block House—Located in Central Park. Built by the Americans, but later improved and occupied by the English during the Revolution.

Boreel Building—115 B'way. This site was formerly occupied by the residence of Lieutenant-Governor James DeLancey; after his death it was turned into a public house, known under a number of names, the most famous being "Burns' Coffee House." It was here the non-importation act was signed, also Washington's inaugural ball was held in the so-called "great room." During the year 1793 the building was torn down and a "City Hotel" was erected by a number of New York merchants. Tablet: "The site of the old historical DeLancey House, afterward the 'City Hotel.' The tavern located here had various proprietors, by whose names it was successively called, being, among others, known as 'The Province Arms,' 'The City Arms,' and 'Burns' Coffee House or Tavern.' It was here that the celebrated non-importation agreement in opposition to the 'Stamp Act' was signed October 31, 1765. Erected by the Holland Society of New York, March, 1890."

Bowery—Located from Chatham Square to junction of Third and Fourth avenues. In the early Dutch days this was a lane running along the farms or "Boweries," on the northern outskirts of the city; from this the name was taken. On and near this thoroughfare the notorious dives of Owen Gagen and Harry Hill were located.

Bread Line—Originated by Fleischmann, the celebrated baker, now deceased, who nightly, between the hours of 11 to 12, gives to hundreds of homeless men of this city the surplus breads. This custom, which was started during the life of the philanthropist, is still carried on.

Carnegie Hall—57th st. and Seventh ave. Founded by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. Cost over $1,250,000. Formal opening on May 5th, 1891. One of the finest edifices in the world for concerts, lectures, conventions, etc.

Church of the Messiah—Park ave. and 34th st. This site once formed the estate of Robert Murray, the "Quaker Merchant of the Revolution," and was called "Inclenberg," and became historic through the diplomacy of Mrs. Murray in detaining the British officers, Clinton, Howe and Cornwallis, while Putnam and his troops, on their retreat to Harlem, guided by Aaron Burr, passed within a mile of the house.

Cotton Exchange—Located in Hanover Square. This is a large building of yellow brick, with stone facings and it is estimated that it cost $1,000,000. Spot sales of more than five hundred thousand bales of cotton are made during the year. On this site, November 8th, 1725, the first newspaper was printed in New York, and called the "New York Gazette." Tablet: Cotton Exchange—On this site William Bradford, appointed public printer, April 10th, A. D., 1693, issued, November 8th, 1725, "The New York Gazette," the first newspaper printed in New York. Erected by the New York Historical Society, April 10th, A. D., 1893, in commemoration of the two hundredth anniversary of the introduction of printing in New York.

Fort Amsterdam—This site is now occupied by the new Custom House Building, and another portion occupied by the Cunard Building, 29 Broadway. Tablet: "The site of Fort Amsterdam, built in 1626. Within the fortifications was erected the first substantial church edifice on the Island of Manhattan. In 1787 the fort was demolished and the Government House built upon this site. This tablet is placed here by the Holland Society of New York, September, 1890."

Governor's Island—Is situated in the Bay, about one thousand yards from the Battery; it covers an area of over sixty-five acres and is used by the United States Government as a military station. Fort Columbus is located near the centre of the island and Castle William, a circular fort of sandstone, built in the year 1811, overlooks the Bay on the western side. From here the "sun-set gun" is fired daily.

Gramercy Park—Located between Third and Fourth aves., 20th and 21st sts.; covers an area of about 1½ acres, set aside by S. B. Ruggles as a place of recreation for residents of this neighborhood. It is not open to the general public. Fronting this park is the "Players' Club," and the former residence of the late Samuel J. Tilden. Tablet: Gramercy Park—Gramercy Park, founded by Samuel B. Ruggles, 1831, commemorated by this tablet imbedded in the Gramercy farm by John Ruggles Strong, 1875.

Metropolitan Opera House—Broadway, between 39th and 40th sts. In September, 1892, the interior was destroyed by fire, and rebuilt during the following year. Tablet: Broadway, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets—General George Washington and General Israel Putnam met near this spot during the movement of the American Army, September 15th, 1776, the day before the Battle of Harlem.

Mercantile Library—Astor Place. Founded in 1820. This is the principal circulating library in the city; was first located at 49 Fulton street and afterward moved to Clinton Hall, corner Nassau and Beekman streets, where it remained until transferred to the Astor Place Opera House, which was renamed the new Clinton Hall. This building was demolished in 1890, and the present building erected on its site.

Millionaires' Row—The district on Fifth ave. from 49th st., containing many of the residences of well known millionaires: Fifth ave., 513—Mr. O. H. P. Belmont. Fifth ave., 579—Miss Helen M. Gould. Fifth ave., 634—Mr. D. O. Mills. Fifth ave., 636—Mr. John R. Drexel. Fifth ave., 640—Mr. Geo. Vanderbilt. Fifth ave., 660—Mr. W. K. Vanderbilt. Fifth ave., 680—Dr. Seward Webb. Morningside Park—Beginning a short distance from the north-west corner of Central Park at 110th st., and extends northward to 123d street; it contains about 32 acres.

National Academy of Design—Amsterdam ave. and 110th st. Founded in 1826, and is considered the foremost art institution in this country. Open to the public on Sundays, free.

New York Historical Society—Second ave. and 11th st. This building contains a large and valuable collection of historical curiosities. The society was organized in 1804 for the collection and preservation of everything relating to the natural, civil and ecclesiastical history of the United States in general and New York in particular.

Post Office (General)—Located at the Junction of Broadway and Park Row. Open all hours of the day and night, week days, and from 9 to 11 a. m. on Sundays. Tablet: Post Office Building—On the common of the City of New York, near where this building now stands, there stood, from 1766 to 1776, a liberty pole, erected to commemorate the repeal of the stamp act; it was repeatedly destroyed by the violence of the Tories, and as repeatedly replaced by the Sons of Liberty, who organized a constant watch and guard. In its defence the first martyr blood of the American Revolution was shed, on January 18th, 1770.—A. D., 1897, erected by the Mary Washington Colonial Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Residence of Charles M. Schwab—Riverside Drive and 73d st. This is said to be the handsomest and costliest residence in this country; the material used in construction was imported from Germany and other foreign countries. The estimated cost of the building, furnishings and property is estimated at about eight millions. It is said that at the death of Mr. and Mrs. Schwab this property will revert to this city to be used as a museum.

St. Mark's Church—Located at Second ave. and Tenth st. One of the oldest churches in this city; its site was formerly a part of the farm of Petrus Stuyvesant, the last Dutch Governor of New Amsterdam, whose remains rest in a tomb under the edifice. The present church is the second, the first having been erected in 1826. It was from the graveyard surrounding this church the body of A. T. Stewart, the merchant prince, was stolen, over twenty years ago. Tablet, St. Mark's Church: In this vault lies buried Petrus Stuyvesant, late Captain General and Governor-in-Chief of Amsterdam, in New Netherland, now called New York and the Dutch West India Islands. Died in A. D., 1672. Aged 80.

West Washington Market—Located at the foot of West 12th st., but was formerly extending along West st., on the river side to the market. It is here that all early fruits and vegetables from Bermuda Islands are received, and it has been estimated that during the peach season from 50,000 to 100,000 baskets are received daily.

Windsor Arcade—571 Fifth ave. This was the site of the Windsor Hotel which was destroyed by fire March 17, 1899, at which about fifty lives were lost.

ART NOTES

Lenox Library—71st st. and Fifth ave. A most interesting exhibition of etchings has been arranged by the Print Department of the New York Public Library in the lower hall of the Library Building, and which consists of a small but eminently characteristic representative selection of Danish etchings drawn from the private collection of Dr. Axel Hellrung. A number of the best known names appear in the list of etchings here shown. There are figure studies by Carl Bloch and Frants Schwartz, Hans Nicolay Hansen (who is credited with individuality and a lively imagination), Luise Ravn Hansen (who in "Stormy Day at Gjorslev," strives to render the effect of rolling lowering stern clouds), Sigvard Hansen (who prefers snow-scenes, which he depicts effectively), Kyhn, Adolph Larsen (who helps along a moonlight effect by the use of a greenish ink), J. Lubschitz and Th. Niss, landscapes which have a local as well as artistic interest. Finally, P. S. Kroyer presents portraits of Greig and his wife at the piano, and of Frohlich, a Danish painter. It is intended to keep open this exhibition until October 1st.

BUSY-BODIES

One kind of busybody consists of a pair of mirrors attached to the windowsill at such an angle as to allow the person within the house to look up and down the street to see what the neighbors are doing. This household convenience is largely in vogue in Philadelphia, and is attached to the second story window. When you ring the front door bell the busybody reflects you and your arrival is thus anticipated by the one who opens the door. It is a simple and inexpensive affair and is not in use in New York where it is claimed everyone is too busy to mind other people's business.

The habit of minding your own business is on the list of good and desirable habits recommended for cultivation.

My neighbor the schoolteacher tells me that she endeavors to instill it into the minds of the children who come to her for instruction. When grievances are brought to her the main point with the aggrieved one is what the other boy said and what the other boy did.

"Never mind what the other boy said and what the other boy did," interrupts the teacher. "Tell me what you said and what you did."

This is different and not so interesting.

Again: On the blackboard is written this significant sentence: "Let every boy mind his own business!" Then when a boy ceases to be interested in his own affairs exclusively, the teacher requests him to go to the blackboard and copy the words he finds there. It is a pleasant little hint and has effect on the impressionable juvenile mind. It is a boy's first lesson in minding his own business.

Busybodies have time—more time than most people, and they also have discernment and ideas. Often they have amendments to your own ideas. And they have advice—storehouses of advice which they love to dispense with wholehearted generosity. If it were not for the busybodies there wouldn't be such a lot of advice circling about. And if it were not for you and your affairs the busybodies wouldn't have enough to do to keep them busy, in which case they wouldn't be busybodies at all, but just plain nondescripts, like yourself, attending to their own business in a phlegmatic sort of way, and not enjoying life as they do now.

Trust busybodies to obtain the facts. They may not have them on hand, but they can get them. If you want to know how much money you've got, how old you are, how much you weigh, how large your foot is, what sort of a man your father is, what mistakes you have made, or if you want points on an impending crisis, just beckon or whistle to a busybody, and the facts are yours for the asking. The world swarms with these natural fact-collectors who are unemployed—who are really not looking for compensation, but just work for the love of it.

From their watch-tower they see everything and understand. They know the names of your carriage company, the facts about your people-in-law, the cut of the garments on your clothes-line, the cost of your gold tooth, and they could name your family skeleton, or the amount of your grocery bill were either subject introduced.

There is no question about the amount of valuable talent that is wasted in busybodies. If wisely directed and properly organized it would supply all the details required by the largest commercial agency in the land at one half the present cost, and still have a balance unappropriated.

When you get married, or have appendicitis, or commit suicide, then come the busybodies after the facts. Between their imagination and their memory, attentive and retentive, not a crumb remains unswept. And when they get together to talk it over, compare notes and reminiscences—how pleasant that you are not there! Idle busybodies—a paradox!

Unquestionably the most palatable of the waters at Saratoga is that of the Arondaek Spring. The New York headquarters for this most excellent mineral water is now located at No. 1217 Broadway, next to Daly's Theatre, where very attractive offices and a delightfully cool drinking parlor have been established. Those who call at No. 1217 can, without indulging in an extravagant flight of fancy, just think that they have somehow transferred themselves to Saratoga and are enjoying the refreshing draughts of the real water at the great American Spa. Water, service, surroundings, everything at 1217 is perfect, and the result is a delight to the visitor.

Daily Attractions in New York is published every Saturday for the succeeding week's daily attractions in New York; you can subscribe to it for three months for fifty cents; it will be mailed to you regularly. Subscribe now.

SHORT TALKS

In the "Ready to wear" there is nothing more attractive and serviceable than the Hunting or Tramping Suit, made of waterproof khaki. The skirt just reaches the medium high laced boot, buttoned down the front, with deep stitched hem at bottom. Coat semi-fitting or Norfolk, color tan or olive; a soft hat and leggins to match.

The wise woman who has the opportunity of shopping this month should gratify herself with one of those beautiful hand-embroidered and lace appliqued, batiste parasols as the number is limited. The price less than one-half they were in the early season.

Who could resist the lingerie hat with brim faced with linen covered with embroidery, trimmed with a wreath of American Beauties and purple lilacs.

The edict has gone forth from the makers of Fashion the elbow sleeve is not to be worn. The fall and winter dresses of the most elegant type will have the long sleeve, which will be close and tight.

For waists of sheer materials, transparent or not, the long-fitting sleeve, formed entirely of encircling tucks rather less than one inch broad, or else tucks of graduated width, similarly arranged, the broadest at the top will be the most favored.

For heavier materials, tucks are not appropriate. Then the mousquetaire style is preferred. This is long and tight fitting, extending over the back of the hand in square or pointed form. Sometimes finished with a lingerie or lace ruffle.

For foulard or taffeta dresses a very effective trimming consists of four or five double folds about an inch and a half wide placed on the bottom of the skirt and surrounding it. They may be of the same material and color of the dress, but of graduated shades, and follow each other, leaving no space between.

Something quite new and novel is the shaded underskirt of a single color, shading from dark to light, the latter always placed at the top. This is a fashion especially for evening dresses.

Naturally the long sleeve will alter the length of the glove. The two or three button will be worn. In Paris, where the long sleeve is the mode the full length glove is worn over the sleeve, the long glove considered more dressy.

This warm weather is a reminder of the "way" Araminta has invented to keep ice water for an indefinite period.

If possible, get one of those gray stone pitchers. Then fold a piece of thick wrapping paper the height of the pitcher, measure it 'round so as to take in the handle and lap an inch, lay it out on a table and interline it with cotton batting, baste with coarse thread all 'round, sew it together, measure the top with paper and line the same way. Sew on the top, fill the pitcher with ice and a little water. Keep it covered with the "cosey," and you will be well repaid for your little trouble. In case of sickness, when it is not convenient to get ice at night, the home made cooler would prove a blessing.

When Araminta was in the country last summer one of the windows was shutterless, returning this year she came prepared with an original idea in the way of an awning. All that is required is a piece of awning cloth the length of the upper sash with a hem at one end. On arrival she got a barrel hoop which she ran through the hem, tacked the awning on to the upper sash, and the hoop on each side.

It is no use to cry over spilled ink on the carpet, but with quick action the stain can be removed. Mop up the ink with a sponge dipped frequently in clear water, changing the water as necessary, then rub the spot with a weak solution of ammonia or oxalic acid.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

"THE DEVIL"—AT THE GARDEN

No better indication can be offered to show how much closer America and Europe are getting in touch on all matters pertaining to things theatrical than the great interest aroused by Franz Molnar's sensational play, "The Devil," in this country.

In the space of little over a year the play had spread rapidly over all Europe and as soon as the fact became known that Henry W. Savage had obtained the rights for America the theatre going public quickly made it apparent that it was fully aware of the unusual qualities of the work and glad to welcome it.

When Mr. Savage allowed the play to be given at Hartford during the summer it registered a success beyond that of any production ever offered 'twixt seasons. The cynicisms and brilliant epigrams of the original lost nothing in the adaptation of an author so polished in style as Oliver Herford, and Mr. Savage was quickly assured he had obtained another triumph to equal those connected with his name in the past decade and perhaps even surpass the brilliance of his famous operetta, "The Merry Widow."

Twenty two curtain calls marked the opening of "The Devil" at the Garden Theatre, when the play had its Metropolitan premiere, and each succeeding performance has been before phenomenally crowded houses.

The cast chosen by Mr. Savage for this production has proven remarkable discernment, and Molnar's diamond points of speech and action are made to sparkle with the most brilliant effect. Mr. Edwin Stevens is doing the best work of his life with his vivid picture of a modernized Spirit of Evil and the quaint humor with which his "really pleasant Devil" weaves his net about his victims marks his performance as one most attractive and assures him the close attention of his audience.

The remarkable cast also includes Paul McAllister, Dorothy Dorr, Marion Lorne, Marguerite Snow, W. Chrystie Miller, Frank Monroe, Henry Clark, Arthur Hoyt, Franklin Bixby, Nan Lewald, Jane Murray, and Theodosia de Cappel.

A woman without a laugh in her life is the greatest bore in existence.—Thackeray.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

THE EDEN MUSEE

One of the most remarkable places in the world is the Eden Musee. There are so many halls and corridors and so many hundreds of wax groups and figures and other objects of interest that the Musee could almost present a different entertainment each day. Instead of doing this, however, an effort is made to have the amusement conform to the season. Just at present the midsummer or vacation season is on and the interior of the Musee presents a breezy appearance. There are palms and decorations of greens throughout which are kept rustling by artificial breezes. Some of the figures present a languid appearance as if tired of being stared at while others have that natty air which comes from being fond of publicity. In the Winter Garden moving pictures are shown hourly afternoon and evening, with a change of pictures each hour. The moving picture markets of the whole world are closely scanned and the best pictures available are first shown at the Eden Musee. Among these pictures are vacation trips through Ireland, Scotland and other European countries, character sketches from various lands, and humorous and mysterious scenes. LATEST POPULAR FICTION

Betty Pembroke by Elizabeth Hazelwood Hauck is one of the most delightful books of true Southern life that has been published for many days. The author has the rare faculty of transplanting her readers to the "spot" where Betty lived. The first introduction to Betty is the morning after a terrible wind storm; she runs into her mother's bedroom with only her pink wrapper and slippers on to warm herself before the cheerful wood fire with its great brass andirons, fender, tongs, and shovel, shining as only "Aunt Lucy could make them shine." Betty is a pretty picture, but the dark rings 'round her eyes is noticed by Old Mammy Aunt Lucy, who "strokes the reddish brown hair sympathetically." Mrs. Pembroke, hearing them talking, parts the flowered curtains of her bed and looks out, "Mamma," said Betty, "I had an awful night"—and she tells of a dream; the carrying of this "dream" and its effect on Betty is intensely interesting to the end of the story.

Chapter third, where a big ball is given at Betty's home; "The Oaks," for her formal introduction to society, is a most delightful pen picture of "Ole Virginie" society, and will be enjoyed by those who have lived it and equally by the reader who knows it only by the telling. Betty's visit to New York, her loves, and the silent over-shadowing of the dream must be left for the reader. The author has breathed into this story the true essence of Southern life. We heartily commend it to your perusal. ELIZABETH HOPKINS.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Art Galleries—The art galleries of New York to which the public are admitted are comparatively few in number, but there are a number of notable pictures to be seen by those interested in art matters, in some public buildings which are devoted to other purposes. Thus there are in the Lenox Library a number of fine pictures bequeathed to the city by Mr. Lenox, including works by Reynolds, Turner and Muncaesy. The New York Historical Society possesses some valuable pictures, while there are some interesting portraits of former mayors of New York to be seen at the City Hall. Some of the chief artistic treasures of New York, however, are to be found in the collections of private individuals, American Water Color Society, 109th st. and Amsterdam ave.; National Academy of Design, Amsterdam ave. and 104th st.; Society of American Artists, 215 West 57th st.; Metropolitan Museum of Art, Fifth ave. and 82d st.; Lenox Library, 895 Fifth ave.; N. Y. Historical Society, Central Park West and 76th st.

Battery Park—Foot Broadway. Affords fine view of the harbor.

Birthplace of President Roosevelt—Our President was born at No. 28 East 20th st., October 27, 1858. A political organization under the name of "Roosevelt Home Club," occupies a portion of the building.

Botanical Gardens—In Bronx Park, at 177th st. Special exhibition of rare orchids and ferns. 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Free.

Bowling Green—Foot Broadway. Oldest park. Drill ground in 1626.

Bronx Park—Southern Boulevard and East 182d st. and Pelham ave. Admission free. Closed at sundown.

Church of the Ascension—Fifth ave. and 10th st. This church was founded in 1828 and was located in Canal st. The present church was built in 1841 and contains the largest oil painting of a sacred subject in the world. This picture is 38 feet high and 40 feet wide and was presented to this church by Mrs. Rhineland, at a cost of over $20,000. It is supposed that it took 3,000 pounds of paint to execute this work. A story told of the early days is that planks were laid to Broadway across the meadows and a small sum of money was paid to the truant officer to prevent the boys from bathing in the brook, which was located at the back of the church, during service.

Chinatown—Mott, Pell and Doyers sts. Contains Chinese theatres, shops, restaurants, etc.

City Hall—City Hall Park. Built 1803. Contains portraits of Governors, Washington's table, desk and portrait in silk.

City Prison—Called "The Tombs." Centre and Franklin sts.

Clearing House—77 Cedar. Daily business nearly $300,000,000.

Cooper Union Library and School—3d and 4th aves. and 7th st. Founded 1857 by P. Cooper.

Curb Market—On Broad street, below Exchange place, a large number of men with standing in the financial world not regular members of the Stock Exchange, and dealing principally in unlisted securities which are known as "cats and dogs." This organization is now confined to a roped arena in the centre of the street.

Custom House—Wall, corner William. New bldg., Bowling Green.

Eden Musee—West 23d st., between Broadway and Sixth ave. This is a museum containing many interesting and historical groups in wax. Admission, 50 cents; Sunday, 25 cents.

Fort George—190th st., between Amsterdam and 11th aves. A high, rocky projection on which a redoubt had been erected during the Revolution. The Isabella

- Home for old people is located here.
- Fraunce's Tavern—Broad and Pearl sts. One hundred and seventy-eight years old; recently purchased by the Sons of the Revolution. It was here that Washington said farewell to his officers of the American Army in 1783.
- Golden Hill—Near John and William streets was shed the first blood of the Revolution in a skirmish between citizens and the king's soldiers. This is known as the "Battle of Golden Hill." A tablet marks the spot—William and John streets, Golden Hill. Here, January 18, 1770, the fight took place between the "Sons of Liberty" and the British Regulars, 16th Foot. First blood in the War of the Revolution. Erected by the Sons of the Revolution.
- Harlem River Speedway—Extending from 155th to 208th st., on the western bank of the Harlem River; 100 feet wide, with sidewalks for pedestrians.
- Herald Building—Broadway and 35th st.
- High Bridge—Harlem River and 175th st.
- Jumel Mansion—Edgecombe ave. and 160th st. Washington's Headquarters. Once the home of Aaron Burr.
- Kennedy House—Formerly stood on the site of the present Washington Building, overlooking Battery Park, erected in 1760 by Archibald Kennedy, Collector of the Port. Here General Putnam had his headquarters previous to the Battle of Long Island, and at various times it was occupied also by Lord Cornwallis, Lord Howe, Sir Henry Clinton and Talleyrand. Here also Benedict Arnold arranged his conspiracy, and from here Washington witnessed the departure of the British troops.
- Menagerie—Central Park, opposite East 64th. Rare animals and birds. Free. Hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Metropolitan Museum of Art—Central Park, opposite 82d. Daily, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday, 10 to 10 p. m.; Sunday, 1 to 5.30 p. m. Free. Except Monday and Friday, fee 25c. *
- Morgue—About 4,000 bodies of adults and 3,000 children are received yearly, including those who die in the hospital of the Department of Charities as well as those found in public places. Erected in 1897. Open day and night. At the foot of East 26th st.
- Navy Yard, Fort Sands—Open daily to visitors, except Sundays and holidays, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. No pass required to visit yards, but permission to visit ships must be obtained from commanding officers. It is also necessary to have pass to obtain admission to yard on Sundays and holidays. By trolley from Brooklyn Bridge.
- Obelisk—Near Museum of Art. Erected in Egypt, 1500 B. C. Presented by the Khedive. Brought here 1881 at cost of $100,000.
- Potter's Field—Here lie the bodies of the unknown and pauper dead. Located on Hart's Island. Can be reached by boat from East 26th st. Pass can be had by applying to Department of Charities or Correction.
- Rhinelander Sugar House—Formerly stood on the corner of the present Rose and Duane streets, one of the many buildings in which American prisoners were incarcerated during the Revolution, subject to inhuman cruelties at the hands of the infamous Cunningham.
- Rogues' Gallery—Police Headquarters, No. 300 Mulberry st. Can be viewed only by special permission. A collection of photographs of notorious criminals who have from time to time been in the hands of the police.
- Spanish Museum—At the foot of West 156th st., near Riverside Drive, is situated the property on which Mr. Archer Huntington has built the beautiful Hispanic Society Building. Built of gray stone with Doric columns, Roman-Spanish in style of architecture, a stone embankment preserves the terraced foundation, and two flights of stone steps lead down to the street in the middle front. For many years Mr. Huntington has devoted much time and money to the collecting of rare and choice Spanish antiques from earliest periods, including those of the Spanish colonies, it being his wish to establish in this city a museum and library that would represent the complete history of Spain in its national, political, social, intellectual and art life. Visitors are welcome.

Statue of Liberty—Bedloe's Island. Steamer from Battery every hour; 25 cents round trip; tickets good for admission to the statue; presented by France.

St. Paul's Church—Broadway and Vesey st. Built in 1764; maintained by Trinity Parish. Attended by Washington, whose pew remains.

St. Patrick's Cathedral—Fifth ave. and 50th st. Open daily. Visitors are welcome. On view is the cardinal's hat hanging on the altar. It is so high up under the arch that it looks like a mere speck.

Stock Exchange—20 Broad st.

Sub-Treasury—Wall and Nassau. Government banking house, $200,000,000 in gold and silver coins often stored here. Site of Washington's inauguration. The stone he stood on can be seen.

The Swamp—Is located west of Franklin Square, and east of City Hall Park. Here is to be found the centre of the hide and leather trade of New York. As this section is in a hollow, it is called to this day "The Swamp," the atmosphere being strongly impregnated with the odor of fresh sole leather and of salted hides.

Van Cortlandt Mansion—Van Cortlandt Park, near Jerome ave., now a historic museum in charge of Colonial Dames.

Ward's Island—Located in the East River near its junction with the Harlem River, and forms the northern boundary of Hell Gate. It is owned by the city and contains about 200 acres, and is occupied by the Manhattan State Hospital for the Insane, the State Emigrant Hospital, Houses of Refuge, and a nursery or home for children, as well as home for invalid soldiers of the Civil War. Can be reached by boat from East 116th st. in the afternoon. Procure pass from Manhattan State Hospital. Also by steamer from Peck Slip, 11.30 a. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Washington Arch—Washington Sq. and 5th ave. Dedicated 1803.

ART NOTES

Historical Society—Central Park West between 77th and 78th streets. The society was founded in 1804 in the old City Hall, at Wall and Nassau sts. and has occupied the building at 11th st. and Second Ave., opposite St. Mark's Church since 1857. The new building was built in part through the generosity of Henry Dexter, a benefactor of this society. The library contains over one hundred and fifty thousand volumes dealing with historical subjects, about one hundred thousand pamphlets, an art collection of nearly one thousand paintings, including the Bryan collection of old masters, the Burr collection and many portraits; the Abbott Egyptian collection of more than one thousand pieces, the Peter Marie collection of miniatures, and the Nineveh sculptures, presented by James Lenox, and other things of interest.

CURRENT EVENTS

Rival Sultans—The report has been confirmed that Abdel-el-Aziz has surrendered to his brother, Mulia Hafig, who is proclaimed Sultan of Morocco. Paris newspapers say that in order to be recognized by Europe, Mulia Hafig must first accept the Algeciras act, and all other treaties between Morocco and the powers. This is contrary to his policy, which has been that of entire antagonism to foreigners and western ideas of civilization. In order to maintain himself as Sultan, he must levy taxes, and to do this an army is necessary to hold his fickle hordes. Money he must have, and he cannot get it short of Europe. Unless he promises to subscribe to the Algeciras act, to quiet disorders, to protect Europeans, and to further civilization in Morocco, he will have no support from Europe. And without that his victory is an empty boast.

Belgium takes the Congo—After much controversy the Chamber of Deputies, has adopted the Congo annexation act, which removes that unfortunate region from the control of King Leopold, and fixes the responsibility for its welfare upon the state. All the world has taken up the question of reforms in the Congo, and Great Britain and the United States had decided to interfere and end the abuses. Complications have arisen over the action of King Leopold in withdrawing the control of the Crown domain which is the richest part of the Congo, from the administration. This action has been resented by those in favor of annexation until the opposition became so great that Leopold was forced to abandon the Crown domain to Belgium. His personal share in the revenues of the Congo, continues however during his life time.

Venezuela—"The Bad Man of Caracas" bids fair to become as popular a nick name as "The Sick Man of Europe." The fact that M. De Reus wrote a letter discouraging young Hollanders from seeking employment in Venezuela forms one of Castro's many flimsy pretexts for getting into trouble. The Netherlands has endured a great deal from the Venezuelan government as it is represented by Castro, and even between the Dutch and his predecessors there was hard feeling, dating back as far as 1857. Non-payment of interest on loans, the annulling of concessions without legal procedure, banishment of foreigners, confiscation of vessels in search of revolutionists, unwarranted dismissal of ministers and other arbitrary acts make the name of Castro notorious. At the present writing, Holland is seriously considering a blockade as the best way to bring him to terms.

Schools for Consuls—It is no longer a question of "push and pull" that gives a consulship to the man aspiring to that office. We send our consuls to a special school nowadays, and require that the successful candidates pass a stiff, competitive examination. Training in commercial law, political economy, and the acquisition of the languages required for entrance in the consular service, are the qualifications demanded of the would-be consul. No longer are special posts obtained by successful wire-pulling, but men are assigned to positions which they take upon completing the required course. Many useless consulates have been closed, and many new ones opened, showing the development and trend of our foreign relations. To Zanzibar, to Mauritius, to Johannesburg and to Boma, to posts in India, New Foundland, and South America we are sending men trained and equipped in the special knowledge for which the work of the consular service calls. AGNES LEWIS MITCHELL.

A Timely Suggestion

IT is as legitimate for churches to advertise to draw people to hear the word of God, in order that they may get blessing, as it is for shops to advertise in order that they may draw people to buy goods. The churches have something good to tell, and they ought to let the people know it. I am glad that we have advertised.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

TAXAMETER—Motor Cab Service—Phone 2380 COLUMBUS

Telephone orders filled promptly day or night. Cabs are always in waiting at our various stands, or they may be hailed and engaged on the street. When the flag is displayed above the taximeter, it signifies that the cab is disengaged and can be hired.

REDUCED SUMMER RATES—EFFECTIVE JUNE FIRST—Tariff No. 1 (Red Indicator) Used Only.

First half-mile or fraction - - 30 cts.
Each quarter-mile thereafter - 10 cts.
Each six minutes waiting - - 10 cts.

This tariff applies to all vehicles and irrespective of the number of passengers carried except that for Hansoms, Coupes, Broughams and Victorias the charge for waiting time is 10 cts. for each TEN minutes or at the rate of ONLY SIXTY CENTS PER HOUR.

EXTRAS—All Vehicles

For ordering a cab, each mile or fraction thereof, from station or stand to point ordered 20 cts.

Return charge when dismissed north of 155th Street or outside the Borough of Manhattan, for each mile or fraction to Times Square (minimum charge $1) - 20 cts.
Trunk - - - - - 20 cts.

All ferriage and bridge tolls, both going and returning, must be paid by the passenger. If the taximeter is out of order, fare will be charged at regular legal rates.

RATES SUBJECT TO CHANGE
WITHOUT NOTICE.

1. HOW THE TAXAMETER WORKS.

When the flag is lowered 30 cents will appear under the word "Fare," and this pays for the use of the cab until service to that amount, either in driving or in waiting, has been rendered. The indicator will register thereafter ten cents for each quarter mile, or each fraction of an hour waiting. This charge is for the exact distance traveled and the exact waiting time consumed, which are automatically measured by the taximeter and over which the driver has no control.

The "extra" charges called for by the service are registered by the driver and shown under the word "Extras."

2. THE AMOUNT TO BE PAID IS

THE SUM OF THE AMOUNTS SHOWN UNDER "FARE" AND "EXTRAS." THERE ARE NO CHARGES EXCEPT THOSE INDICATED BY THE TAXAMETER.

The driver is charged with all amounts registered and is not permitted to make any reductions therefrom, but will, if required, give a receipt for the amount paid.

3. TO SECURE COMPLETE PROTECTION, observe (a) that the flag is lowered to Tariff 1 position at the beginning of the service and not before; (b) that the flag is maintained in that position during service; (c) that the flag is promptly brought to "Payment" position at the conclusion of the service and left there until the charge is settled.

4. IF THE CAB IS DISABLED, the service up to the disablement must be paid for.

5. A CAB REPORTING AT AN ADDRESS in response to an order is charged for from the time for which it was ordered.

6. A CAB ORDERED AND NOT USED must be paid for up to the time the driver is dismissed, including the charge for sending it.

7. THEATRE AND OTHER RETURNS. Waiting time and any necessary mileage will be charged for a vehicle held for a return call. Waiting time may be saved by dismissing the vehicle and placing a separate order for a vehicle for the return call, but the Company cannot guarantee to fill such return call unless it be given to and accepted by the starter at a station or stand. Under no conditions may a cab be held in waiting without charge.

8. IN CASE OF DISPUTE, passengers are requested to pay the full amount indicated and make claim to the Company, in writing, giving the hour, date, driver and cab number, number of passengers carried, distance travelled and waiting time consumed and wherein the charge is incorrect. Such claims will receive prompt and courteous attention.

9. THE ACCURACY OF THE TAXAMETER is insured by systematic inspection. Do not assume that a charge is incorrect without first computing all of the distance and all of the waiting time comprised in the service.

TOURING CARS, SIGHT-SEEING CARS, DOUBLE-DECK MOTOR BUSES, and Automobiles of every kind by the Hour, Day or Week—Rates on application.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

THE FIRST WEEK IN SEPTEMBER

The autumn of the year, like the autumn of life, is a restful time after the activity, the turbulence, the restlessness that belongs to all growth. The year, like life, yields unresistingly to its gentle influence. The summer that was wooed so graciously, became fierce and unmanageable before she ended her career, and the year grew weary of her. The city has come home again, and taken upon her shoulders the burdens of cosmopolitan life—and its charms.

But the summer has left traces.

The man who sent his family out of town grew weary of the freedom that was so novel and so welcome at the outset. Even he has been counting the days to the return of the routine of domestic living and personal comfort. The clematis that has clambered up to the eaves and wound itself about the shutters, and finally peeped unceremoniously in at the windows, has witnessed the chaos of his housekeeping. Only last Sunday he dusted about some, and tried to remember where things belonged, and then he looked around and groaned aloud. The household spider has made a comfortable home from himself in the corner, and spun a web that is a marvel of silky architecture. A few flies have yielded up the ghost on the family mirror, and died of very loneliness and despair, and left a halo about their remains. There is work for the housewife to do.

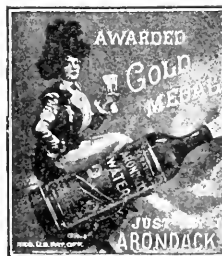

The rooms in your apartment look small since you came home, and there is an acknowledged stuffiness about them. There is a good deal of noise in the street, too. From early to late wheels rattle harshly over the pavements in a manner which contrasts strangely with the melody of the birds and the crickets and katydids, or the roar of the sea—the sounds which have familiarized themselves by association. The active people in the flat overhead have come home. The janitor's boy plays on the accordion in the court below the same repertoire as before you went away, and some new people have moved in the adjoining apartment—musical people with a piano and a cornet. The pale little woman who lives on the second floor looks paler than when you went away. She has an appealing expression in her eyes, and just as you are about to ask her if the baby is well, you hesitate—and you don't ask about the baby.

The children are glad to be home again. They have already explored their favorite haunts. They have looked over the familiar toys, and greeted the favorite one with silent hugs. The family cat has returned, glad to resign a life of feline vagrancy for one of respectable domesticity. The children have exhibited the treasures brought from the country and seashore, and regarded them more favorably than ever in the light of city surroundings. A pair of rabbits are released in the back yard and at once proceed to execute ideas—and burrow and undermine the fence, and escape. There is a deserted hornet's nest on the parlor mantel and a mud-turtle in the washbowl. A bunch of ferns and some cattails, a box of butterflies and some birch-bark and some shells, will form a part of the home decoration this winter.

There is no place like home after all!

SHORT TALKS

When we speak of the Directoire style of dress it has many modifications to fit in with the present times. True there is the scant, clinging skirt lines, with train; high waist line in costumes, wraps and coats; close and small sleeves; long coat-tail back; large revers; large pockets; and button trimmings. The present mode does not follow this entire, as two or three of these characteristics may be found in one garment, or it may be only one characteristic. The Empire differs from the Directoire chiefly in the slightly fuller lines of skirt, waist and sleeves.

The fabrics required for this style of dress are, of course, of the clinging type, soft but weighty. In the first place satin, which is not at all like the stiff satin of years ago, but soft and pliable takes first place, followed closely by satin liberty and crêpe de chine.

For separate coats or for the coat of a costume, Ottoman rep will rival satin to some extent.

Velvet for winter costumes will be extensively worn, as it is a most satisfactory material for the close fitting and draped skirts. This applies particularly to Chiffon velvet.

The latest style of hair dressing and hair ornaments are of the Greek order. Broad barrettes, fastening under the Grecian knot, will be worn.

The newest hat pins have tassei ornaments in gold, which dangle from each side of the jewelled center.

The wide neck ruching, which has taken place of the linen collar to a great extent, grows higher and higher, in fact, these ruchings are so wide as to seem like separate pieces of neck wear.

Pearl jewelry is greatly in vogue, and is worn with day and evening toilettes. Dog collar of pearls and diamonds are very fashionable.

This fall the straight band or "dog collar" of fur, surmounted by a ruche of ribbon or tulle will be worn.

Somehow it is the sleeve that gives the year when the dress was designed. We now are able with the present style to have an up-to-date sleeve. For instance let us take the foulard gown. Match the ground color of the silk with chiffon, lay it in tucks from shoulder to wrist and at intervals band it with silk cut from the old sleeves.

From Araminta, who never throws anything away, we learn how to make use of worn out stocks. As we all know the stock will be frayed at the edge whilst the tie ends are perfectly good, Araminta buys the embroidered white belting, which comes by the yard. Measure the neck for the right length, transfer the old ties. At each side of the stock, just behind the ear, sew on a piece of tape, top and bottom the width of feather bone (the size that is used for waists). Cut it the width of the collar and slip it in the little cap. Result a stylish stock for the expense of a few cents.

The binding of ones dress will often leave a dirty black mark across the instep of the tan shoe, which simply refuses to be cleaned with the tan polish.

The remedy is to wash the shoes with a rag dampened and rubbed on naphtha soap. The whole shoe must be washed. Rinse the cloth and wipe the shoes, then rub dry with a soft towel. They will be clean and lusterless. Apply a good tan polish and rub vigorously with an old stocking leg. If care is taken not to dampen the shoes too much they will have a fine polish and look like new.

Ivory can be cleaned and its whiteness restored by the use of a lemon and a little salt. Cut the lemon in half, dip it in salt. Rub well the discolored part. Then wash immediately in warm water.

MADAME ROBERTA.

DID YOU KNOW IN THE YEAR

- 1865—That the surrender of General Lee and the Confederate Army caused great excitement and rejoicing. About one week from this time President Lincoln was assassinated while in a box at the theater in Washington. His body was laid in state in the City Hall, and was viewed by the sorrowing multitude.
- 1867—That the Ninth Avenue Elevated opened a short section as an experiment. That in January a bridge of ice formed in the East River between New York and Brooklyn. It is estimated that five thousand persons crossed over it.
- 1868—That a part of an underground railway was built under Broadway, near City Hall, but was abandoned for lack of funds.
- 1869—That the American Museum of Natural History, now located at 77th st., Central Park West, was incorporated. That the telegraph messenger service was organized.
- 1870—That the Metropolitan Museum of Art received its charter.
- 1872—That there was appointed a committee of seventy to investigate the Tweed Ring and to bring those criminals to justice.
- 1873—That the city charter was amended, and many important modifications were made on previous enactments. That there was a panic of unusual severity which effected the business interests very seriously. That the annexing of Morrisania, West Farms and Kingsbridge nearly doubled the area of the city.
- 1875—That six millions of dollars was expended to improve Fourth avenue; this expense was shared equally by the New York Central Railroad Company and the city.
- 1876—That a World's Fair was held at Philadelphia in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.
- 1878—That electric arc lamps were used to light the streets.
- 1879—That the Central Station telephone service was put in operation.
- 1880—That there were completed and in operation four elevated railroad lines.
- 1881—That it was estimated that there were being published over four hundred and forty newspapers. That incandescent lamp service was in operation. That President Garfield was assassinated in Washington.
- 1883—That the East River or Brooklyn Bridge was open to the public. That the statue of Washington, now standing upon the steps of the Sub-Treasury Building located in Wall street, was presented to the United States Government by the New York Chamber of Commerce, on the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the British evacuation of New York.
- 1888—That a subway plan by Mayor Hewitt failed to pass the Legislature. That the city was visited by a blizzard of wind and snow and that for several days shut off all communication with the surrounding country; all traffic was at a standstill, which resulted in great suffering and many deaths.
- 1889—That for over three days the city was given up to patriotic display as a commemoration of the first inauguration of a President of the United States. It is estimated that over three million strangers visited the city during this time which was known as the "Columbus" celebration.
- 1890—That the United States census reported that the population of the city was estimated over 1,515,000. That Mayor Hugh J. Grant appointed a Commission to report on a route for a subway between City Hall and Harlem. That the New York Central Railroad closed transportation over that route for several days on account of a "strike" by the engineers.
- 1891—That plans were made for an East Side tunnel but were abandoned. That a cable railroad was laid from Battery to Central Park

LONG ISLAND TRIPS

Nearly all the trolley trips of Long Island start from the New York end of Brooklyn Bridge.

To reach Belmont Park by trolley take "L" road from New York end of Brooklyn Bridge to Jamaica; at Jamaica take trolley for Queens, which is close to Belmont Park.

From Queens a trolley may be taken to Hempstead and on to Garden City and Mineola by a branch line.

One of the most picturesque of Long Island trolley trips is from Flushing to Rockaway Park, a distance of a little over twenty-two miles, taking an hour and a half. On the road one touches Ingleside, Queens Borough Heights, Garrison's Lane, Jamaica, Springfield Lawrence, Inwood, Far Rockaway, Edgemere, Arverne, Hammels, Hollands and Rockaway Beach.

To reach Flushing take ferry to Long Island City, thence by trolley to Flushing.

- Marble Collegiate Church—Fifth ave. and 29th st. The Collegiate Reformed Church of New York is the oldest Protestant church in America, having had a complete and continuous organization since the summer of A. D. 1628. The Rev. Jonas Michaelius was its first minister, who was sent to New Amsterdam on the Island of Manhatas by the Classis of Amsterdam in Holland. As its name conveys, the Collegiate Church is a group of churches. The Marble Collegiate Church is the tenth in historical succession of the sanctuaries of the Collegiate Church.
- Old Jewish Cemetery—Located on New Bowery, near Oliver st. One of the oldest burial places in the city, and established during the time of Peter Stuyvesant. Another cemetery, or "Place of Rest," can be found in Twenty-first street, west of Sixth ave.
- Players' Club—Presented to actors and friends of the drama by Edwin Booth, at a cost to him of more than $200,000. Located at 16 Gramercy Park. Formally opened in the year 1888, on New Year's Eve.
- Riverside Drive—From West 72d st., north to 134th st. Overlooks the Hudson.
- Salvation Army—This organization gives yearly a Christmas dinner to over 20,000 poor at Madison Square Garden. Headquarters located at 120 West 14th st. Many branches are maintained in various other parts of the city.
- Sailors' Snug Harbor—The home for the aged sailors on Staten Island; of interest to strangers. Free. Daily, except Sunday.
- Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument—Riverside Drive and 89th.
- Somerindyke House—This house formerly stood in Ninth avenue, near 75th st. Was the home of royalty during its exile. Louis Philippe and his brothers, the Duc de Montpensier and the Comte de Beaujolais, taught school for their living. The Duke of Kent, Queen Victoria's father, visited them here.
- Trinity Church—Broadway, opposite Wall st. Original church built 1696, the second 1788, the present church 1839, and consecrated 1846. The land was bestowed upon the parish by Queen Anne. Its special interior feature is the wonderful carved altar in memory of the late William B. Astor. The churchyard is very ancient, containing graves of historic heroes.

ART NOTES

Historical Society—Central Park West between 77th and 78th streets. The society was founded in 1804 in the old City Hall, at Wall and Nassau sts. and has occupied the building at 11th st. and Second Ave., opposite St. Mark's Church since 1857. The new building was built in part through the generosity of Henry Dexter, a benefactor of this society. The library contains over one hundred and fifty thousand volumes dealing with historical subjects, about one hundred thousand pamphlets, an art collection of nearly one thousand paintings, including the Bryan collection of old masters, the Burr collection and many portraits; the Abbott Egyptian collection of more than one thousand pieces, the Peter Marie collection of miniatures, and the Nineveh sculptures, presented by James Lenox, and other things of interest.

BACK FROM THE FARM

Three years ago an impatient man and a patient woman moved to the country.—It was a farm—and it was the man's idea. Strange how the patient are always married to the impatient!

This week a patient man and an impatient woman moved in from the country. It was the woman's idea. Strange how the patient always stay married to the impatient! But it is the impatient who have the ideas.

The difference between the patient and impatient is merely the simple matter of speaking about it. No use to differentiate here!

The farming fever is always epidemic. Every city man has it once. Not having had it, you are likely to be a victim at any time. But—like cures like. The man contracts the disease and his wife goes along as caretaker. The fever begins to abate sooner in some cases than in others. It doesn't always take three years. The great advantage in being immune forever after—is unspeakable.

The impatient man in this story had a drop of hermit's blood in him. He longed to get away where no person could find him. The patient woman had a good big dynamo of her own, and also a thirty-two candle power light that lit up the surroundings. This is how he could afford to maintain the drop of hermit's blood. It was just the same in the case of the primitive man:—the woman, the cave and the rock rolled against the door when the man was away from home. Of course the dynamo and the electric light supplied light and warmth and brought the game up to date.

Well—once those people were settled in the country, things began to happen. No use to attempt recapitulation here. No one will ever know. Incubators, brooders, chickens, a fifty dollar rooster, fancy pigs, well bred cows, cute little calves, horses, agricultural implements, fertilizer—and the earth to sow money in. Did the earth produce? Read the parable of the talents and find out what happened to the man who buried his talent; find out what he drew!

Somebody has written a book entitled "The Truth about a Hen." Find it on the book stalls before you come down with the fever!

The impatient man had a great many valuable, practical ideas about a hen, and he wanted to demonstrate. He took all the hen magazines, and he did everything they said. He scoffed audibly at his neighbor's method of allowing hens liberty to scratch in a common barn yard among the microbes. He would show the farmers a thing or two—how to make money out of hens. So he built him a scientific hen house, lighted, heated and ventilated scientifically; and he bought scientific hen food—a certain kind for black hens and another kind for white ones, and when all the arrangements were completed, he turned the laying hens into the glad hen house. "What happened?"

Why, those hens were scared almost to death, and they never laid an egg for six months. The farmers are laughing yet.

You can never count on what a hen will do. When eggs are fifty cents a dozen, hens wouldn't lay one to save your life; but when eggs are a drug on the market they will turn them out at the rate of two or three a day. Such is the perversity of a hen. If there is one problem that absolutely refuses to lend itself to science it is a hen.

The patient woman in time began to lose her patience. She raced with the lark, and raised nasturtiums and cauliflower, ran a private delicatessen, and waited for the family commuter to come home. Finally her dynamo gave out, her thirty-two candle power light was reduced by thirty candles, impatience set in—and she came to. Now they have come back to electrical headquarters to have her waning forces re-charged.

The Singer tower is now open to the public, and the observation balcony at No. 149 Broadway, offers the visitor to this city an opportunity to see New York from all directions instead of a spot at a time. The balcony is on the forty-second floor, 548 feet above the curb, and gives a sight-seeing radius of over thirty miles in all directions. The tower has a platform with a high railing which accommodates about forty people. Express elevators run from the main corridors on the first floor, making the trip in one minute. There are also guides stationed on the platform to point out the different points of interest to visitors and to give other information. A fee of 50 cents is charged. Hours of admission, 9.30 to 11.30 a. m., and 2.30 to 4.30 p. m., excepting on Saturday, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Not open on Sundays and legal holidays.

Mardi Gras, to be celebrated for six days at Coney Island, under the auspices of the showmen and shopmen of Coney Island. During the evening there will be a monstrous parade in which more than a thousand horses will figure. Twelve wonderfully constructed floats will head the parade, the King and Queen being on the first one, on those following will be effigies, life size, of Roosevelt, Taft and Bryan. Following this, ten industrial floats, representing progress, prosperity, and various other trades, the floats will display models of cars, steamships, automobiles, skyscrapers. On the opening night the parade will be a floral one. The Island will be illuminated each night with over one hundred thousand electric lights, buildings will be decorated with bunting, and the usual horns, cow bells and confetti will be in evidence to add to the pleasure of this occasion. Police from Brooklyn will line the streets and every effort will be made to keep order. (to Sept. 19, inc.).

Final mass meeting of the Evangelistic Committee; Converts' Rally. There will be a chorus of five hundred voices, led by R. E. Mitchell, director of music at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. Distinguished speakers will make address. Carnegie Hall, Seventh ave. and 57th st. 8 p. m. Tickets may be obtained at the tents, or from pastors, or at the headquarters, 541 Lexington ave.

A Timely Suggestion

IT is as legitimate for churches to advertise to draw people to hear the word of God, in order that they may get blessing, as it is for shops to advertise in order that they may draw people to buy goods. The churches have something good to tell, and they ought to let the people know it. I am glad that we have advertised.

SHORT TALKS

The feature of the fall styles in coat and skirt suits is that they are very much trimmed or they are perfectly plain. The style of coat preferred is the semi-fitted, Prince Chap, with single or double-breasted fronts, with the conventional-shaped sleeve shirred into the arm size, or to place the fulness between elbow and wrist, as was worn a few years ago. The collars are of the notched, mannish order.

To those who want a change in tailored suits, and object to the Directoire, and something different from the Prince Chap, will turn with favor to the Continental. These Continental coats are usually about thirty-six inches long, slashed almost to the waist line. All round the edges they are elaborately embroidered in self-colored soutache braid. The long Continental waistcoat is a matter of fancy, but they must have the regulation army sleeve, trimmed from wide wrist opening to elbow, with a row of three enormous satin-covered or embroidered buttons, set into simulated buttonholes formed of twisted strands of satin. They have usually satin Louis cuffs and band collars, soutache braided. The skirts walking length.

There is a large variety of the net waist. These are in black, butter-color and écru. The butter color net bids fair to take a strong hold on those who are on the lookout for the latest. Another very attractive separate waist is the tailored maline, with tucks. The sleeves tucked, long and tight-fitting, finished with a frill at the side, which runs from the shoulder down over the hand. There is also a frill at the side front of the waist, the same as on the sleeve. To give body to the waist it is lined with maline. The collar high-boned, edged with net ruching.

In the more elaborate waists, chiffon, messaline, crêpe de chine and liberty satins are the materials preferred. These have the high girdle, made either of the same material as the waist, or else of satin.

Striped flannel waists carry out same idea as shown in other materials.

The only petticoat suitable to wear with the close-fitting skirt, is the Jersey. The tops of the petticoats fit well over the hips and also give with every movement of the wearer. There is an elastic band at the waist, and no placket at the back, for it is slipped over the head. The jersey part extends well below the knee where it is finished with a silk flounce, cut on the bias very scant, or one of lingerie, trimmed with lace and insertion.

A stylish and inexpensive gown suitable for evening is of black silk mousseline over dull silk. Although in one piece it makes no pretense to follow the Directoire. The skirt is demi-trained and slightly raised above the waist line at the back. A guimpe effect is simulated by means of cutting away the lining of the bodice at the neck and trimming it heavily with black passamenterie, lace medallions or embroideries. The sleeves are long, closely tucked and no more transparent than is the neck.

It seems to be the aim of the ultra-fashionable woman to use lace in ways it has never been employed, for instance, a Princess tunic is draped over a trained skirt of dyed all-over Algerian lace, narrow matching bands of the same lace edge of the tunic.

A peep at the hats for the fall show styles worn by our grandmothers. Mention of one of bronze satin will illustrate.

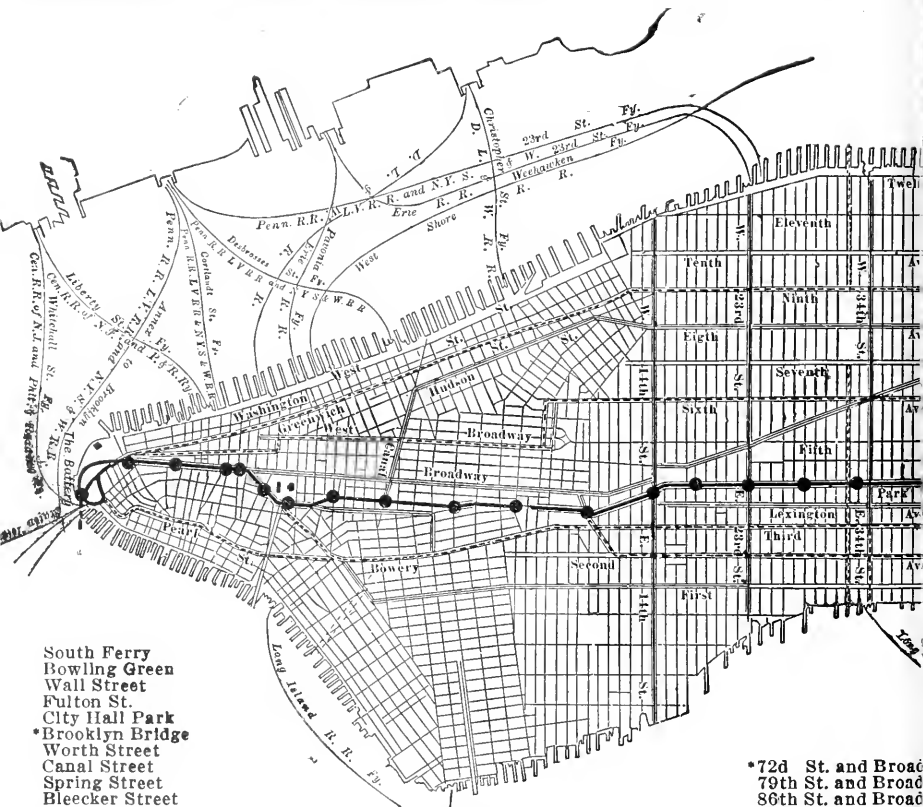

The crown shaped like an inverted bowl was shirred on reeds; the brim covered smoothly with the bronze satin and faced with salmon, set far back under the brim were little rosettes of salmon-colored liberty ribbon, from which were long "brides" that hang loosely or knotted low down.

"THE CALL OF THE NORTH" AT THE HUDSON THEATRE

The Hudson Bay Territory has provided material for several of the plays produced in this city during the past year, and judging from the scenes they have furnished of it, that country must be very attractive. In "The Call of the North" we are introduced to rugged characters such as one would expect to find at a trading station in the extreme north of Canada. A certain trading company has had possession of that section for so long a time that they think they own it by Divine right, and any outsider is ordered off in no uncertain terms. If he refuses to go the Factor finally sends him out into the forest with provisions for a couple of days only, and without a rifle. He is followed by a trusted Indian spy who is instructed to shoot him should he be ingenious enough to escape death by starvation or from the attack of wild beasts. This amounts to murder in either event, but no one connected with the company dares interfere with the commands of the Factor, or seems to have any desire to do so, his methods being tacitly accepted because they protect the company from competition and financial loss.

Robert Edeson, as "Ned Trent" an American in search of the man who is responsible for the death of his father, De Witt Jennings as the "Factor" who proves to be the one for whom Trent is looking, Burke Clarke as "Me-en-gan" the Indian spy, and Macey Harlam as "Achille Picard," do very acceptable work, in fact the entire company is well selected; to Beatrice Prentice as "Julie Bagneau," a little French Canadian girl who is seeking her father—the Factor's latest victim—must be given credit.

The stage settings are delightful; one scene, a "Bend in the River" in the deep forest, being worthy of especial mention.

FRANK THORNTON.

Beauty is the first gift Nature gives to woman and the first she takes from her.—Méré.

Find your purpose and fling your life out to it. Try to be somebody with all your might.—Orison Swett Marden.

NAMING OF NEW YORK STREETS

- Ann—Owners of land frequently bestowed on paths that were cut through their property the first names of their wives.
- Bank—Owing to a fever epidemic that broke out in 1822, when many people hurriedly left town. A row of hastily erected buildings, principally used by banks, was built in the vicinity of the present thoroughfare.
- Battery Place—Reminds us of the fact that in 1693 a platform was erected in this vicinity to serve as a battery. In 1753 this was enlarged.
- Bridge—Locates a bridge that at one time crossed the Broad street ditch.
- Broad—Was originally an inlet or ditch, known as the Breede Graft or Broad Canal.
- Cedar—This and other streets bearing the name of trees, suggest the wooded character of Manhattan during the early days.
- Chatham Square—This as well as Pitt street, perpetuates the name of America's devoted and eloquent friend, William Pitt, Earl of Chatham.
- Cherry—This was originally part of a cherry farm.
- Corlears—Jacobus van Corlear, who offered the use of his house for school purposes to Governor Stuyvesant, and Anthony van Corlears, the trumpeter, who it is alleged, gave Spuyten Duyvil its name when he boasted he could swim across its troubled waters.
- Duane—Named for New York's first Mayor after the Revolution, James Duane.
- Ferry—This was the road that led to the first ferry from New York to Brooklyn.
- Fletcher—Named in honor of Governor Benjamin Fletcher, during whose term (1692-1698) printing was introduced into the colony.
- Fulton—Named after Robert Fulton, and is the only memorial on Manhattan Island to preserve the memory of him who helped so much toward its development.
- Hanover Square—Named in honor of King George, who was of the house of Hanover.
- Liberty—Originally called Crown street, the name being changed after the Revolution, when all reference to royalty was suppressed.
- Maddougal—Named after Alexander Maddougal, a noted "Son of Liberty," who was arrested in 1770 on a charge of seditious libel, for which he was imprisoned in the Debtor's Prison (present Register's Office), thus becoming the first martyr in the patriot cause.
- Minetta—Derives its name from a Dutch word, meaning "the little one"—that is, the little creek to distinguish it from a large creek not far away. The former creek, which originated in the marshy ground in the neighborhood of Washington Square, still flows under the pavements of modern New York.
- Morris—Named for Gouverneur Morris, who, besides occupying many important public positions, was one of the Street Commissioners appointed in 1807 to lay out the new streets, which resulted in the city of rigid straight lines and right angles.
- Murray Hill—This took its name from the Murray Mansion. It was here that the mother of Lindley Murray, the grammarian, entertained the British generals, it has been said, while Putnam and his tired forces made their escape from the lower point of the island to Harlem.

- New—This was the first street opened by the English after taking possession of New Amsterdam.
- Pearl—The oldest street in New Amsterdam. Was so called because of the pearl shells found along its path.
- Rector—Being originally church property, therefore owes its name to that fact.
- Ridge—This was an actual ridge along the top of a hill on James De Lancey's property. The slope from Ridge street to the river still exists.
- Roosevelt—This recalls the name of Isaac and of his son Nicholas J. Roosevelt. The former was a member of one of the celebrated committees of "one hundred" to guard the safety of New York previous to the Revolution.
- Rutherford—This recalls the name of Colonel John Rutherford, who was one of the committee that planned the present system of avenues and streets.
- Spring—Owes its name to the discovery of a spring in the neighborhood about the year 1800, when Aaron Burr's Manhattan Banking and Water Supply Company began to furnish the city with drinkable water.
- Stone—Was the first street in New Amsterdam to be paved with stone, which achievement created a great sensation.
- Sullivan—This honors the name of Brigadier-General John Sullivan, one of the most active officers of the Revolutionary War, who received the thanks of Washington for his services in Westchester. In Rhode Island he fought what Lafayette pronounced to be the best contested battle of the war.
- Wall—Owes its name to the wall of palisades that originally marked its path.
- Water—So named, because it consisted of land that in the early days of this city it was literally under water.
- Watts—This preserves the memory of John Watts, the last City Recorder under English rule. He was one of the Assemblymen that protested against England's right to billet soldiers on the citizens of New York. Years after he founded the Leake and Watts Orphan Asylum. His monument is prominent in Trinity Churchyard.
- Whitehall—This was the thoroughfare that led to Peter Stuyvesant's town house. It is supposed to have been so named either on account of its white walls, or because English governors who occupied it subsequently were reminded of London's Whitehall.

DID YOU KNOW IN THE YEAR

- 1700—Corner of Nassau and Wall sts., the second City Hall was erected.
- 1703—The "King's Farm," extending northward from Courtlandt st., was granted to Trinity Church Corporation by Queen Anne.
- 1709—At the foot of Wall st. a slave market was established.
- 1710—The expenses of our city were about two hundred and seventy-four pounds sterling. The income, about two hundred and ninety-five. By an act of Parliament, a post-office was established for the Colonies in America, the chief office of which was in New York.
- 1712—A plot to set fire to the city was formed by the negro inhabitants. In its execution several white persons were killed. A number of the incendiaries were convicted and executed.
- 1719—In Wall st. the first Presbyterian Church was erected.
- 1720—Clocks were first introduced, previously time having been recorded by hour-glasses.
- 1725—The New York Gazette, the first newspaper, was published.
- 1729—A city library was founded.
- 1730—Governor Montgomery granted the charter upon which the city's present system of government is based.
- Between New York and Philadelphia a line of stages was established, making bi-monthly trips.
- From London was received the first fire-engine used in the city. A fire department was at once organized.
- 1732—First stage from New York to Boston made round trips once a month.
- 1734—Erected on the Commons, now City Hall Park, was a poor-house and a calaboose for unruly slaves.
- 1740—New York Society Library was organized.
- 1741—The "Negro Plot," the famous delusion in which a large number of negroes, and a Catholic priest, were executed without cause.
- 1750—In Nassau st. was opened the first theater.
- 1754—King's College obtained a charter of incorporation.
- 1756—Between New York and Staten Island plied the first ferry.
- 1757—The total inhabitants of the city was about twelve thousand.
- 1761—In Bleeker st. the second theatre was opened.
- 1763—First light from the Sandy Hook lighthouse.
- Between New York and Paulus Hook, now Jersey City, a ferry was established.
- 1765—Famous Stamp-Act Congress convened in this city. Delegates from all the Colonies were present, and an agreement was adopted not to import goods from Great Britain until the Stamp-Act was repealed, and was signed by a large number of merchants, and a society who called themselves "Sons of Liberty" was organized, which extended throughout the country. Riots and great excitement occurred, in which the Governor was burned in effigy, and the citizens threatened to storm the fort.
- 1766—On May 20 news of the repeal of the Stamp Act reached the city.
- In his own house in this city, Philip Embury founded the Methodist Episcopal Society of the United States.
- 1768—At Queen's Head Tavern, afterward known as "Faunce's Tavern," a Chamber of Commerce was organized.
- 1770—In William st. a statue of William Pitt was erected. Legislature incorporated the New York Chamber of Commerce.
- 1772—From India were imported umbrellas. They were thought to be effeminate.
- 1774—Vessel called the "Nancy" was not allowed to land her cargo of tea, or to make entry at the Custom House. There was also organized a Committee of Correspondence, and a "Congress of Colonies." Resolutions of resistance were adopted by a large meeting on the Commons, now City Hall Park.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Singer Tower—Broadway and Liberty st. The tower has 47 stories, with an elevation of 612 feet, and gives a sight-seeing radius of over thirty miles, instead of a spot at a time. The balcony is on the forty-second floor, and express elevators make the trip from the ground floor to the Observation platform in one minute. Competent guides are in attendance to point out the different points of interest to the visitor. A fee of 50 cents is charged. Hours of admission: 9.30 to 11.30 a. m. and 2.30 to 4.30 p. m. except on Saturdays, 9 to 4 p. m. Not open Sundays and legal holidays.

Castle Garden—Located at the Battery, foot of Broadway. In the year 1805 Fort Clinton was erected near the site of the old Dutch block house, and on account of its circular shape was soon called the "Castle." It was considered a wonderful triumph of solidity and workmanship, its walls were in some places thirty feet thick and surmounted with casement guns. A few years after this the fort and surrounding grounds became the property of the State, and the whole place changed, trees were planted, walks laid out, and it became a resort for fashionable people. In the year 1847 it was converted into a theatre and opera house, and in 1850 became the scene of Jenny Lind's first great triumph in this country. In the year 1852 Madame Sontag also sang. In the year 1855 the building was leased to the State Board of Emigration and used as a landing for immigrants, at the present time the building is used as an aquarium which is open to the public from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. No charge of admission.

Liberty Island—Located on the Bay near the Battery, at the foot of Broadway, also known as Bedloe's Island. This island covers an area of over 13 acres. Before the year 1860 was used as a place of execution and at one time contained a fortification named "Fort Wood," whose star-shaped walls form the outlying boundaries for the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty, which is sometimes called "Liberty Enlightening the World." This statue was originated by Bartholdi, a French sculptor, in the year 1870. It was completed in the year 1883 and presented to the United States as a token of esteem and regard from the French nation. The estimated cost of the pedestal was $250,000, which amount was raised by subscriptions in this country. The statue is made of copper and stands 151 feet high, it is a draped female figure crowned by a diadem, holding a tablet close to the body in the left hand, and a torch in the uplifted right hand. The statue stands on a pedestal 155 feet high, square in form, built of granite and concrete, stairs lead completely to the head, here there is a magnificent view of the Bay, New York, New Jersey, Long Island and Staten Island. At night the torch is lighted by electricity, the base and the pedestal also. The statue can be seen from a distance of over five miles. The statue weighs over 25 tons and cost over a million francs. Boats leave hourly from the pier at the rear of the Barge Office, on the Battery, foot of Broadway; fare 25 cents for the round trip, tickets entitle the passenger to admission to the statue.

Historic Claremont. — America's Famous Roadhouse, located at Riverside Drive and 126th st. On September 16th, 1776, near this spot was fought the battle of Harlem Heights, General Washington in command. Claremont was erected over 125 years ago, exact date uncertain, and named after a country residence at Surrey, England, built by Lord Clive, in the year 1768. At the present time under the most capable management.

ART NOTES

Historical Society—Central Park West between 77th and 78th streets. The society was founded in 1804 in the old City Hall, at Wall and Nassau sts. and has occupied the building at 11th st. and Second Ave., opposite St. Mark's Church since 1857. The new building was built in part through the generosity of Henry Dexter, a benefactor of this society. The library contains over one hundred and fifty thousand volumes dealing with historical subjects, about one hundred thousand pamphlets, an art collection of nearly one thousand paintings, including the Bryan collection of old masters, the Burr collection and many portraits; the Abbott Egyptian collection of more than one thousand pieces, the Peter Marie collection of miniatures, and the Nineveh sculptures, presented by James Lenox, and other things of interest.

SHORT TALKS

As usual Paris takes the lead in the new features in corsets. The latest is the boneless, made of a woven tricot, and having no support, except the front steel and bones for the eyelets at the back lacing.

The real novelty, however, is the woven corset, without any boning. Its purpose is to mold the figure in classic outline, reducing the hips, thus eliminating much of the curve at the waist.

This corset has three gores—the front, underarm and back—on each side. This makes two seams in each half of the corset. All the shaping and molding must come from these two seams. Neither of them is boned.

The fabric is a woven tricot, made from a mercerized cotton and silk mixture. It is quite heavy, as all the strain comes on the fabric itself. The material is somewhat like the woven-elastic bandages used for surgical purposes. These corsets are not of extreme length, but have long extensions to which the hose supporter is fastened.

Another type is of such extreme length it becomes almost a pantalon when worn. This is also made of tricot material, but of an entirely different character from the one just described, being similar to a heavy Italian silk. Quite unlike the other this corset is boned in every seam, though the bones are very light, except for the front, which are unusually heavy. The corset fabric extends far below the boning, and there are three hose supporters on each half. It is specially designed to be worn with the clinging classic gown.

Gowns have this corset built in, the corset the lining. In this case there is no front clasp, as the corset is laced at the back, and the gown buttoned or hooked.

An improved hose supporter is of silk cord, with crocheted ring, over which is passed an oblong link. The ring is placed under the hem of the stocking. The metal link is slipped over the edge, the hose is held absolutely secure, and the fastening is warranted not to tear the most delicate fabric.

The large department stores are showing a rubber corset for which there is a growing demand.

The latest French veil novelty consists in the way of wearing it, rather in the material of the veil. A Russian mesh veil is worn over the face, fastened over or under the hat, as may suit the wearer. The novelty is a silk mesh, edged with an embroidered design. The veil is in folds and laid over the crown of the hat. The back fold on either side is caught under the brim and fastened to the hair, the front portion hanging free.

The favorite flower this fall is the dahlia, in all its lovely rich colorings. It is worn on the hat and in the corsage, and also on the neck ruche of pleated silk or mousseline de soie.

A dear old lady remarked: "She didn't know why the women were making such a fuss over the care of their complexion. They didn't in her day, and she would like any one to show her a better one." She was quite right, but she failed to observe the dust-filled air from demolished buildings, digging the streets for subways and the clouds rising from the speeding automobiles. They didn't have those in her day.

To free the pores of the skin from dust the face should be washed once a day with soap. The soap that can be used without injury is Mennen's Borated Skin Soap, which not only cleanses, but keeps it in a sweet and wholesome condition. Then it should be dusted with Mennen's Borated Talcum Toilet Powder, which has the scent of fresh-cut Parma violets. The Soap and Talcum Powder is guaranteed by the National Pure Food and Drug Act, which is the endorsement of purity.

Worn-out mantles from gas burners are superior to any silver polish.

A Timely Suggestion

IT is as legitimate for churches to advertise to draw people to hear the word of God, in order that they may get blessing, as it is for shops to advertise in order that they may draw people to buy goods. The churches have something good to tell, and they ought to let the people know it. I am glad that we have advertised.

REV. DR. TORREY.

DID YOU KNOW IN THE YEAR

- 1775—That the Colonial Assembly adjourned. There were elected delegates to the Continental Congress. New York's first water works were established.
- 1776—That on September 21 Trinity Church and a large number of houses were destroyed by fire. That in January the militia was called into service, and the city was in possession of the American Army the following spring. That on July 9 the leaden statue of George the Third was pulled down. From the balcony of the old City Hall, July 18, was read the Declaration of Independence. That on this same day the king's coat-of-arms was taken from the court-room and burned. That on August 26, after the battle of Long Island, the city was captured by the British. That by command of General Howe, Nathan Hale was executed as a spy.
- 1777—That the Board of War was directed by Congress to write to the government of New York, urging that the lead mines in that State be worked, and promising for this purpose to supply prisoners of war; the scarcity of lead for bullets making it necessary to use the leaden statue of King George, also roofs and gutters.
- 1778—That Philadelphia was evacuated by the British, and an army of over twelve thousand men marched from that city to New York. That the three thousand non-combatants who held to their British allegiance were sent to New York by water with their baggage and stores.
- 1779—That on May 19, during the morning, a darkness which continued several hours, making it necessary to use candles at noon time, fell over the city. It was supposed to have been caused by the prodigious fires that had been raging in the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Vermont. That while the city was in possession of the British, there was a regular business of counterfeiting Continental bills, newspapers advertised it openly, and flags of truce were made use of to put it in circulation.
- 1780—That a scarcity of fresh vegetables and fuel was a source of great anxiety; fruit trees were cut down, wood was sold at twenty dollars a cord, corn at four dollars, and potatoes were two dollars a bushel. The ice in the Hudson River offered an opportunity for the Americans to cross it, and it was feared that an attack on the city would be made; the inhabitants were put under arms. During the time the British were in the city four newspapers were published, the proprietors arranging so that one paper was issued for each day.
- 1783—That on November 25 the British evacuated the city, and General Washington entered at the head of the American Army.
- 1785—That the Bank of New York and a manumission society were established. That Congress moved from Philadelphia to New York, and convened in the City Hall, which at that time stood at the corner of Wall and Nassau sts., now occupied by the United States Sub-Treasury Building. That the name of the first daily paper published was "New York Daily Advertiser."
- 1786—That the first city directory was issued, containing about eight hundred and forty-six names.
- 1787—That King's College was re-incorporated as Columbia College.
- 1788—That a great parade celebrated the event that the Constitution of the United States was adopted by New York State.

FOOTBALL AT WEST POINT

If an order were given to paint a picture representative of our Nation at its best, the artist could find no more picturesque grouping of people and surroundings purely American than at West Point on the occasion of one of the great football games. One can scarcely imagine a more vivid picture or a grander tableau than is presented there. The broad plateau, the splendid mountains, entirely wooded, against which one looks on every side, the gay and brilliant company of strong men and beautiful women, whose uniforms and costumes lend color and grace, the music and songs and cheers which echo through the valley, and over all the great flag floating out in the clear mountain air like a benison upon the multitude. All these combine in a great harmony and thrill which compels love of country and thanks that one is an American.

At about 1:30 o'clock the Review and Inspection take place, which are the finest of the year, as all are on their mettle, and all the world knows of their perfection. It is military in its highest type, but they are in reality done of peace as compared with the dogs of war which are let loose when the game is called.

In order to give suitable and easy communication between New York and West Point on the occasion of these games, the Hudson River Day Line will this year, for the first time, run the special steamer Hendrick Hudson, which will leave New York at about 10 A. M., and arrive at West Point just in time to witness the Review, Dress Parade and Inspection. Returning, she will leave

West Point immediately after the game is finished, and make the run to New York in about two hours and ten minutes.

The dates and games for which this service will be performed are as follows: October 17th, West Point Cadets vs. Yale; October 24th, West Point Cadets vs. Colgate; October 31st, West Point Cadets vs. Princeton.

THE EDEN MUSEE

There are many historical wax figures and groups in the Eden Musee of New York City, and groups representing current events, but a new group just placed on exhibition will for a time at least have unusual interest to visitors at the Musee. This group represents the tragedy at the Bayside Yacht Club when Captain Hains shot and killed W. H. Annis. The shots have just been fired and the victim is falling to the ground. T. Jenkins Hains, the brother of the murderer, is preventing with drawn revolver the interference of outsiders. The group is startlingly realistic and was made from actual sketches and measurements secured immediately after the shooting. Another new group just placed on exhibition is called the "Lion Tamer," and shows the fearlessness with which a skilled trainer manages fierce lions. Many new moving pictures have been secured from abroad and are shown in the Winter Garden hourly, afternoon and evening, without duplication. These pictures are of unusual interest and typify the latest achievements in this wonderful science. The afternoon and evening concerts by Mapussy's Royal Blue Hungarian Orchestra remain an attractive feature at the Musee and will be of special interest to all lovers of classical Hungarian melodies.

TANTRUMS

There is no question about the controlling element in tantrums.

The world at large esteems harmony—while saying nothing directly about it, and as tantrums are directly opposed to harmony they are openly avoided when possible. Thus do tantrums have the right of way.

Tantrums are the effect of nerve tension. They are of tremendous value in the game of having your own way. When there is a button off your coat shirt—give a tantrum. The next time you change your linen the buttons will be in place. Whole families may be kept in a state of intimidation by these outbursts when conducted in a systematic manner with sufficient violence. The old adage says: "Have your own way and you'll live a long time." This is the unquestioned reason why persons addicted to tantrums outlive everybody else. Every one in the family is glad to do everything as designated for the sake of peace. Thus is peace purchased often at a dear price, and the investment is one not to be realized on.

This is not to imply that tantrums have not their place among the economies. For example, there is cookery. Tantrums at the dinner table have promoted more good cooking than all other incentives combined. All peppery tempered old gentlemen are epicures, and when they dine with us we court their approval. No handy dishes nor left-overs—not even manna from heaven—for them!

Wives addicted to tantrums rarely have renegade husbands. A man whose wife can throw things with a sure aim generally remains where he can serve as a target for her missiles. It is his privilege to dodge. Other people's tantrums increase our responsibilities.

Tantrums also serve to offset or balance the wonderful tolerance of the adaptable people, the nondescript, monotoned people who settle down and take things as they come, endure, love to suffer and to make burnt offerings of themselves, and clog the wheels of progress by being too submissive and too good, and wishing other people to think well of them. The tantrumettes have no bump of approbateness.

Nerves are autocrats. No one questions their attitude. Behavior that was once attributed to bad temper is now ascribed to nerves, and treated gravely in sanitoriums at unlimited expense. Specialists give these nerve demonstrations scientific names, and speak of them in subdued tones and in terms that are unfamiliar, high-sounding and awe inspiring. There are hundreds of schools of treatment, all different. You may treat your nerves by lying flat on your back with the head low; or you may drink a gallon of water a day; or sleep out of doors; or take massage; or the cereal diet; or walk barefooted in the dew-wet grass; or go without your breakfast; or take a sea voyage; or try the touring car treatment; or aerial navigation. There are hundreds of things you can do.

When I was a child my grandmother—of hallowed memory—had a habit of retiring to her room every morning at eleven o'clock. As she always locked the door to exclude intruders—especially juveniles—I was inspired, like Kipling's elephant, with an "insatiable curiosity." So one day I peeped through the keyhole. What do you suppose I saw? Grandmother was on her knees in prayer—a very old-fashioned specific for nerves.

Tantrums are a kind of safety valve. They let off the steam of hatred, intolerance and selfishness, and long after the patient ones are stowed away under the sod the tantrumettes are left to fly the glad colors, and respond to the roll call of the fittest who survive.

CHAPLAIN TO STRANGERS

The Rev. James B. Wasson, D.D., who was appointed Chaplain to Strangers a little more than a year ago by the late Bishop Potter, has been requested to continue the work by Bishop Greer, so far as his duties as Senior Assistant at St. Thomas' Church will permit. Should any calls come to him to which he cannot personally respond, he has arranged to have some other clergyman respond in his place. Dr. Wasson is a man of great sympathy and kindness of heart; and it will be his pleasure, as it is his duty, under the terms of his appointment, to act as pastor pro tem. for all strangers in the city, irrespective of creed. In creating this office Bishop Potter desired to acknowledge the Church's obligation to care for the stranger in the metropolis in a more direct and personal way than by putting a directory of the city churches in their hands. He wanted them to know that a Christian clergyman of broad sympathies and wide experience was appointed to be their pastor for the time being, to whom they could go when they so desired as a matter of right, as a pastor and friend, whether they were church members or not. The fact that Dr. Wasson's appointment was confirmed by the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, was in line with Bishop Potter's belief that the Cathedral would best justify its existence by thus taking order for the pastoral oversight of the great army of strangers always in the city.

During the fall and Winter Dr. Wasson has arranged to hold Sunday evening services in a number of the leading hotels of the city.

You must look into people as well as at them.—Chesterfield.

If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door.—Emerson.

Character is power—is influence; it makes friends, creates funds, draws patronage and support, and opens a sure and easy way to wealth, honor and happiness.
—J. Hawes.

DAILY ATTRACTIONS IN NEW YORK

POINTS OF INTEREST

Art Galleries—The art galleries of New York to which the public are admitted are comparatively few in number, but there are a number of notable pictures to be seen by those interested in art matters, in some public buildings which are devoted to other purposes. Thus there are in the Lenox Library a number of fine pictures bequeathed to the city by Mr. Lenox, including works by Reynolds, Turner and Munkacsy. The New York Historical Society possesses some valuable pictures, while there are some interesting portraits of former mayors of New York to be seen at the City Hall. Some of the chief artistic treasures of New York, however, are to be found in the collections of private individuals. American Water Color Society, 109th st. and Amsterdam ave.; National Academy of Design, Amsterdam ave. and 104th st.; Society of American Artists, 215 West 57th st.; Metropolitan Museum of Art, Fifth ave. and 82d st.; Lenox Library, 895 Fifth ave.; N. Y. Historical Society, Central Park West and 76th st.

Battery Park—Foot Broadway. Affords fine view of the harbor.

Birthplace of President Roosevelt—Our President was born at No. 28 East 20th st., October 27, 1858. A political organization under the name of "Roosevelt Home Club," occupies a portion of the building.

Botanical Gardens—In Bronx Park, at 177th st. Special exhibition of rare orchids and ferns. 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Free.

Bowling Green—Foot Broadway. Oldest park. Drill ground in 1626.

Bronx Park—Southern Boulevard and East 182d st. and Pelham ave. Admission free. Closed at sundown.

Church of the Ascension—Fifth ave. and 10th st. This church was founded in 1828 and was located in Canal st. The present church was built in 1841 and contains the largest oil painting of a sacred subject in the world. This picture is 38 feet high and 40 feet wide and was presented to this church by Mrs. Rhinclander, at a cost of over $20,000. It is supposed that it took 3,000 pounds of paint to execute this work. A story told of the early days is that planks were laid to Broadway across the meadows and a small sum of money was paid to the truant officer to prevent the boys from bathing in the brook, which was located at the back of the church, during service.

Chinatown—Mott, Pell and Doyers sts. Contains Chinese theatres, shops, restaurants, etc.

City Hall—City Hall Park. Built 1803. Contains portraits of Governors, Washington's table, desk and portrait in silk.

City Prison—Called "The Tombs." Centre and Franklin sts.

Clearing House—77 Cedar. Daily business nearly $300,000,000.

Cooper Union Library and School—3d and 4th aves. and 7th st. Founded 1857 by P. Cooper.

Curb Market—On Broad street, below Exchange place, a large number of men with standing in the financial world not regular members of the Stock Exchange, and dealing principally in unlisted securities which are known as "cats and dogs." This organization is now confined to a roped arena in the centre of the street.

Custom House—Wall, corner William. New bldg., Bowling Green.

Eden Musee—West 23d st., between Broadway and Sixth ave. This is a museum containing many interesting and historical groups in wax. Admission, 50 cents; Sunday, 25 cents.

Fort George—190th st., between Amsterdam and 11th aves. A high, rocky projection on which a redoubt had been erected during the Revolution. The Isabella

- Home for old people is located here.
- Fraunce's Tavern—Broad and Pearl sts. One hundred and seventy-eight years old; recently purchased by the Sons of the Revolution. It was here that Washington said farewell to his officers of the American Army in 1783.
- Golden Hill—Near John and William streets was shed the first blood of the Revolution in a skirmish between citizens and the king's soldiers. This is known as the "Battle of Golden Hill." A tablet marks the spot—William and John streets, Golden Hill. Here, January 18, 1770, the fight took place between the "Sons of Liberty" and the British Regulars, 16th Foot. First blood in the War of the Revolution. Erected by the Sons of the Revolution.
- Harlem River Speedway—Extending from 155th to 208th st., on the western bank of the Harlem River; 100 feet wide, with sidewalks for pedestrians.
- Herald Building—Broadway and 35th st.
- High Bridge—Harlem River and 175th st.
- Jumel Mansion—Edgecombe ave. and 160th st. Washington's Headquarters. Once the home of Aaron Burr.
- Kennedy House—Formerly stood on the site of the present Washington Building, overlooking Battery Park, erected in 1760 by Archibald Kennedy, Collector of the Port. Here General Putnam had his headquarters previous to the Battle of Long Island, and at various times it was occupied also by Lord Cornwallis, Lord Howe, Sir Henry Clinton and Talleyrand. Here also Benedict Arnold arranged his conspiracy, and from here Washington witnessed the departure of the British troops.
- Menagerie—Central Park, opposite East 64th. Rare animals and birds. Free. Hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.
- Metropolitan Museum of Art—Central Park, opposite 82d. Daily, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday, 10 to 10 p. m.; Sunday, 1 to 5.30 p. m. Free. Except Monday and Friday, fee 25c.
- Morgue—About 4,000 bodies of adults and 3,000 children are received yearly, including those who die in the hospital of the Department of Charities as well as those found in public places. Erected in 1897. Open day and night. At the foot of East 26th st.
- Navy Yard, Fort Sands—Open daily to visitors, except Sundays and holidays, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. No pass required to visit yards, but permission to visit ships must be obtained from commanding officers. It is also necessary to have pass to obtain admission to yard on Sundays and holidays. By trolley from Brooklyn Bridge.
- Obelisk—Near Museum of Art. Erected in Egypt, 1500 B. C. Presented by the Khedive. Brought here 1881 at cost of $100,000.
- Potter's Field—Here lie the bodies of the unknown and pauper dead. Located on Hart's Island. Can be reached by boat from East 26th st. Pass can be had by applying to Department of Charities or Correction.
- Rhineland Sugar House—Formerly stood on the corner of the present Rose and Duane streets, one of the many buildings in which American prisoners were incarcerated during the Revolution, subject to inhuman cruelties at the hands of the infamous Cunningham.
- Rogues' Gallery—Police Headquarters, No. 300 Mulberry st. Can be viewed only by special permission. A collection of photographs of notorious criminals who have from time to time been in the hands of the police.
- Spanish Museum—At the foot of West 156th st., near Riverside Drive, is situated the property on which Mr. Archer Huntington

- has built the beautiful Hispanic Society Building. Built of gray stone with Doric columns, Roman-Spanish in style of architecture, a stone embankment preserves the terraced foundation, and two flights of stone steps lead down to the street in the middle front. For many years Mr. Huntington has devoted much time and money to the collecting of rare and choice Spanish antiques from earliest periods, including those of the Spanish colonies, it being his wish to establish in this city a museum and library that would represent the complete history of Spain in its national, political, social, intellectual and art life. Visitors are welcome.
- Statue of Liberty—Bedloe's Island. Steamer from Battery every hour; 25 cents round trip; tickets good for admission to the statue; presented by France.
- St. Paul's Church—Broadway and Vesey st. Built in 1764; maintained by Trinity Parish. Attended by Washington, whose pew remains.
- St. Patrick's Cathedral—Fifth ave. and 50th st. Open daily. Visitors are welcome. On view is the cardinal's hat hanging on the altar. It is so high up under the arch that it looks like a mere speck.
- Stock Exchange—20 Broad st.
- Sub-Treasury—Wall and Nassau. Government banking house, $200,000,000 in gold and silver coins often stored here. Site of Washington's inauguration. The stone he stood on can be seen.
- The Swamp—Is located west of Franklin Square, and east of City Hall Park. Here is to be found the centre of the hide and leather trade of New York. As this section is in a hollow, it is called to this day "The Swamp," the atmosphere being strongly impregnated with the odor of fresh sole leather and of salted hides.
- Van Cortlandt Mansion—Van Cortlandt Park, near Jerome ave., now a historic museum in charge of Colonial Dames.
- Ward's Island—Located in the East River near its junction with the Harlem River, and forms the northern boundary of Hell Gate. It is owned by the city and contains about 200 acres, and is occupied by the Manhattan State Hospital for the Insane, the State Emigrant Hospital, Houses of Refuge, and a nursery or home for children, as well as home for invalid soldiers of the Civil War. Can be reached by boat from East 116th st. in the afternoon. Procure pass from Manhattan State Hospital. Also by steamer from Peck Slip, 11.30 a. m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.
- Washington Arch—Washington Sq. and 5th ave. Dedicated 1893.
- Washington Bridge—Amsterdam ave., 181st, over Harlem River.
- Washington Building—Located at Battery place and Broadway, erected by Cyrus W. Field, the author and founder of the Atlantic cable. Tablet erected: No. 1 Broadway: "Here stood Kennedy House, once headquarters of Generals Washington and Lee." On the Bowling Green opposite, the leaden statue of King George was destroyed by the people, July 9, 1776, and later made into bullets for the American army.
- Washington Market—Occupies the entire blocks, Washington, West, Fulton and Vesey streets. This is the principal meat and vegetable market of the city, and in the early morning hours affords a spectacle well worth witnessing.
- Woodlawn Cemetery—Jerome and Webster aves., East 211th to 233d.
- Zoological Park—Bronx Park, Southern Boulevard and East 182d st. and Pelham ave. Free except Monday and Thursday. Admission, 25 cents; children, 15 cents. Open until sundown.
